Vol. 30.

HARRISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, JANUARY 7, 1947.

No. 1.

SENATE

JANUARY 7, 1947, 12:00 o'clock, noon

This being the day and hour fixed by the Constitution for the meeting of the General Assembly, the members of the Senate together with the Senators-elect, chosen at the last general election held on November 5, 1946, assembled in the Senate Chamber.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. (Senator Weldon B. Heyburn) called the Senate to order at twelve o'clock noon.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. EDWIN S. WALLACE, D. D., offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, Creator and Preserver of all, we come before Thee at this opening session to offer our prayer of gratitude for Thy sustaining grace that has been ours since the last meeting of the Senate. Because Thy banner of protecting love has been over us, and underneath have been Thy everlasting arms, we are here to begin another term of service for our State and its people.

We begin with Thee, praying for divine wisdom and guidance that we may recognize the right, and then for courage and faith to do the right.

May the welfare of our State and that of all its people be the controlling motive of all deliberations and enactments.

We pray for our President, for our Governor and for all in authority, that they be given the spiritual, mental and physical strength for the duties that lie ahead.

In the name of Him who said "Seek ye first the kingdom of God and His righteousness." Amen.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

The PRESIDING OFFICER. At this time I would

The PRESIDING OFFICER (John M. Walker) in the Chair.

ELECTION OF PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, by direction of the members of the Republican caucus, and at the request of agricultural groups throughout the Commonwealth, as well as unorganized farmers, I have a very pleasant duty to perform.

As you already know, about 37 percent of the citizens of the Commonwealth derive their livelihood from agriculture. In this day and age when there is so much talk about increasing taxes of one group or another, the agricultural people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania want to make sure that they maintain their position as the number one tax payer of the Commonwealth.

The second group, the Republican Senators, who have directed me to perform this duty, want to make certain that a man who has had long legislative service (he came here as a mere boy in 1936) and who has weathered many a storm throughout his term of service in this body, and who has always fought for the good of the most citizens of the Commonwealth and in many cases carried the banner of the Republican party, be elected to this high office.

Whether the gentlemen come from the swamps of Erie county, from the smoky districts of Allegheny county, from the mine pit regions of Lackawanna and Luzerne counties, from the muddy flats of Lancaster and Chester counties, or from the beautiful rolling green fertile hills of Cumberland county, they all desire to be placed in nomination as President Pro Tempore of this august body the name of Weldon B. Heyburn.

It is therefore my pleasure and privilege to place before this body for election to the office of President Pro Tempore, the name of Senator Weldon B. Heyburn.

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, on behalf of the Republican caucus, I desire to second the nomination of Senator Heybury for the office of President Pro Tempore of the Senate.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, following the wishes of the Democratic members of the Senate, and more than a million Pennsylvania citizens, I deem it a pleasure to present the name of the Honorable John H. Dent of Westmoreland county, for the office of President Pro Tempore of the Senate.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I am very happy to second the nomination of my colleague Senator Dent of Westmoreland county.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Are there any further nominations?

NOMINATIONS CLOSED

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, I move the nominations for the Office of President Pro Tempore of the Senate be closed.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

Mr. HEYBURN. Your Honor, Judge Rupp, and members of the Senate, it looks as though the farmers of the great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania at last got a break.

There is nothing I can promise you in the way of tax reduction, but I want you to know seriously that I am very grateful for the great honor that has been bestowed upon me, even if only for a little while, to be selected as the President Pro Tempore of this legislative body.

These are very critical hours in our nation's history, and the sort of thing that is done in this and other great legislative bodies throughout this land may well determine the future course of democracy in this country.

I want you to know that I am deeply grateful, if only for a little while, for the privilege of presiding over this body.

Thank you.

hast advanced them to a higher office. We pray that Thou will let Thy blessing rest richly upon our State and Nation that we may assume our full leadership in shaping the new world that is being borne around us and that each one of us may give the best he has to make it a world of peace and harmony; to give as our sons and brothers gave to drive fear and despotism out of the world. May we put in its place peace and love to all men. We ask it in Thy holy name. Amen.

PRAYER

THE CHIEF CLERK. At the conclusion of the prayer the Members-elect will remain standing in silence until the gavel falls as a mark of respect to the Members who died since we last met, Honorable John J. Baker who represented in this House the Sixth District of the County of Allegheny; the Honorable Jacob L. Moser who represented the First District of the County of Lehigh; the Honorable Samuel W. Salus who represented the Third District of the County of Philadelphia; the Honorable Peter J. Campbell, a Member-elect from the Fifth District of the County of Philadelphia, and the Honorable Harry C. Schecht, a Member-elect from the Twenty-seventh District of the County of Philadelphia, who was a victim of an automobile accident this day when he was to take his oath of office.

Prayer was offered by an uncle of the gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. Lichtenwalter, the Reverend Norman E. Dettra, pastor of the Emmanuel Evangelical United Brethren Church, Fleetwood, Pa.

Almighty God, our Father in Heaven and on earth, Thou who hast measured the waters in the hollow of Thy hand and comprehended the dust of the earth, be mercifully near us and make us conscious of Thy presence. Thou hast endowed us with marvelous faculties of mind and soul, let in a flood of light upon the deeper meaning of our high calling. Crown this body with courage, zeal and fidelity that they may be of the company of those immortals who live in lives made better. Forgive, O Lord, our selfish joys and our selfish sorrows and inspire us to consecrate our best selves to all that is worthy. We most fervently pray for the Speaker-elect of this House, may he be attended by Thy grace, mercy and truth. Let Thy spirit come mightily and with rich blessings upon every Member of this House of Representatives that they may be guided by the highest conceptions of right and duty. Be pleased to regard in divine favor all officials and employees. Lord God of Hosts, speak Thou to the nations of the world in Thy wrath and vex them with Thy sore displeasure. Stay Thou the blows that fill the cup of the world's sufferings.

Grant, O Lord, the assurance of Thy gracious comfort to the families of those who have fallen to sleep. Give to every bereaved member a consciousness of increased privilege in service and let there be a tremendous surge of peace and brotherhood in the very souls of our people. Make our Commonwealth rich in happy homes, wise in statesmanship and boundless in faith in an infinite God, faith in his Son, Jesus Christ, our Savior. Amen.

The CHIEF CLERK. The House will now proceed to the election of a Speaker. Nominations are in order.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Chief Clerk, the man whom we select Speaker of this House of Representatives must be such as to command the confidence and respect of all men, for it is here in this Legislative Hall that the people of our great Commonwealth must look for their most direct representation in governmental affairs; it is here that the people from every district have sent one from their own midst to enact for them in their stead and on their behalf that which is best for the general welfare.

The matters passed on right here in this important branch of our government are those in which they the people are most vitally interested. This is where their cause is made to be heard more than in any other place, and they have a right to expect then that their House of Representatives shall command recognition and deference commensurate with the purpose for which it was established under our system.

In order that it might do so its affairs must be conducted with dignity and decorum and that is why we must have, as in the case of other illustrious speakers before, a presiding officer of exceptional qualities, not only while presiding in the Chair, but while carrying on the various duties of his office when we are not in session.

It is within the power of the Speaker of this House in a hundred different ways to bring shame upon us, or to bring confidence and commendation to us.

When our genial former Speaker, the gentleman from Snyder, Mr. Fiss, expressed his desire not to be a candidate for a third term the problem of choosing his successor arose. We knew that this then had to be a man of character and integrity; he must be capable, his sense of justice and his reputation for fair dealing must be pronounced; he must be energetic and willing to put forth tireless efforts; his personality must be such as to inspire confidence. We all just have to like him for what he is, and for what he needs to do, for what he does.

Mr. Chief Clerk, we have that man, and though I anticipate no doubt in any man's mind as we enter into the Legislative Session just now beginning, I still find myself wishing that all of us could have had the opportunity, as I have had, to work side by side during the past Session with the man who I am about to propose as presiding officer during this Session; then we could all have seen as I have seen his leadership and ability in all its effectiveness; then we could all have seen, as I have seen, that full measure of understanding that we will surely need so often, and the unquestionable integrity to use it justly; then we could all have seen, as I have seen, an insatiable desire to help, to be just and to do good.

Certainly there are others who would qualify, Mr. Chief Clerk, but there is not one other such choice, because there is none who deserves quite as much this high office, because he will fit the job so well and because he will be such a credit to us all.

It is with the utmost pride, and with deepest personal satisfaction that I nominate as Speaker of this House of Representatives, the gentleman from Lehigh, the Honorable Franklin H. Lichtenwalter.

Mr. HOFFMAN. Mr. Chief Clerk, the gentleman from Northampton County appreciates and thanks the honorable gentlemen for this recognition.

We are standing upon the threshold of an opportunity that is vividly challenging and strongly commanding responsibility. We are here foregathered as Members of this General Assembly to perform a function for which the people of the Commonwealth, throughout the respective Counties, have asked us to be their servants in the fulfillment and discharge of the duties that pertain to the high calling of our Government.

This responsibility has been expressed, and it came down as silently as the snowflakes fall upon the sod, and it was an evidence of the freemen's rights, just as the lightening is performing the will of God. So today as we undertake to begin this responsibility the first thing that draws our attention, and charges us with the opportunity to find right guidance and leadership, is to find one who is able and fit, as proven by his past experience and adaptability as Floor Leader, to have his name placed in nomination as Speaker of this House of Representatives.

As a neighbor of Lehigh County, for I come from the great industrial County of Northampton, we have many things in common beside our friendship, it does give me a great deal of satisfaction and peace of mind to contemplate the proceedings of this General Assembly under the leadership of a true and tried man, who I am sure will dignify this House, and bring honor to the great state of Pennsylvania.

It is really a personal privilege and an honor that I hardly deserve, because I feel that this House, which is about to sustain the nomination for leadership of Franklin H. Lichtenwalter as Speaker, must go farther than mere words. There is a purpose, but deeper than that is the spirit of co-operation which every man and every lady of this House must give in order that there may be prevalent breadth of unity and higher ambition that we must aspire to in this General Assembly today, to perform the will of God as much as to perform the will of man, so that the interests of all people will be safe-guarded.

The Republican party stands at the threshold of an opportunity. It may be the last if they do not measure up to the responsibility at such a time as this. Therefore with a delightful pleasure and with all the good wishes that I can conceive in my heart for the welfare of the youngest Speaker ever to be elected to this House, I very sincerely and very graciously second the nomination of Franklin H. Lichtenwalter as Speaker of this House.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Chief Clerk, it certainly is a pleasure to me today, in the midst of this beautiful carnival of flowers, to see so many familiar faces. It is a surprise and a shock to notice the absence of so many familiar faces, and I hope that in the midst of this floral display there is here and there a blossom placed in memory of the absent ones.

Mr. Chief Clerk, I didn't think it was proper and I didn't think it was Constitutional to convene this House without the stentorian Moran, the diligent Nagel, the brilliant O'Brien, the studious Cohen and many others that I could mention, and we hope, Mr. Chief Clerk, that these the new faces that have as not written their names upon the tablets of our affections and will be as much beloved as those who are not here.

But, Mr. Chief Clerk, there is a man on this side of the House, or this remnant of this side of the House, who is more than a Member; he is an institution; he was a Member of this House when most of us were in our legislative swaddling clothes.

He has been here since 1929, and if anyone, be a Member of this House, or person intent upon business pending before this House, if there is any man to whom this man has ever spoken an unkind word let him stand forth and accuse; if there is any Member in this House to whom this man has not always been ready and willing to render assistance, let him accuse; if any one knows a time when this man has not been diligent and attentive to the business of this House, let him accuse; and if anyone knows of any occasion upon which this man cast a vote in contravention of the interests of the people of Pennsylvania, let him accuse.

So, Mr. Chief Clerk, it gives me great pleasure to suggest as our nominee for Speaker the Honorable Harry T. O'Neill of Lackawanna.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Chief Clerk, in suggesting the nomination of a gentleman for the office of Speaker of this House, when we know that the result is a foregone conclusion, it is only a pleasure when that gentleman is the Honorable Harry O'Neill.

As Mr. Andrews has just stated, Harry is a friend to every Member of this House. I have never in my ten years of service in these halls heard an unkind word said about him. However, he has a warm heart and a great deal of understanding, and if things were not as they are and we were in a position to really elect a Speaker, the pleasure would be even greater to stand before you and second the nomination of this gentleman.

Mr. ERB. Mr. Chief Clerk, I move that nominations for Speaker of the House be closed.

The motion was agreed to.

ceived a majority of all the votes cast is hereby declared elected Speaker of the House of Representatives.

ELECTION OF SPEAKER MADE UNANIMOUS

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Chief Clerk, we now have a mutual interest in the gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. Lichtenwalter, because, Mr. Chief Clerk, he must also serve as our Speaker, and we start this session believing that he, like his predecessors during my term of service in this House, will as Speaker rule according to the rules, and as such function impartially as a presiding officer.

And besides, we have a further interest in the gentleman from Lehigh. We served as the whetstone upon which he sharpened the razor of his wit, and so it gives me pleasure, Mr. Chief Clerk, to move that the election of the gentleman from Lehigh as Speaker of this House be made unanimous.

The motion was agreed to.

COMMITTEE TO ESCORT SPEAKER-ELECT TO ROSTRUM

The CHIEF CLERK. The Chair appoints Messrs. Sorg and O'Neill to escort the Speaker-elect to the rostrum.

OATH OF OFFICE ADMINISTERED TO SPEAKER-ELECT

The CHIEF CLERK. Members of the House, I have the honor to present the Honorable Franklin H. Lichtenwalter Speaker-elect of this House of Representatives.

The oath of office was then administered to Honorable Franklin H. Lichtenwalter, Speaker-elect of the House of Representatives, by the Honorable Robert E. Woodside.

THE SPEAKER (Franklin H. Lichtenwalter) IN THE CHAIR

CONDOLENCE RESOLUTION

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH offered the following privileged resolution which was read, considered and unanimously adopted by a rising vote:

In the House of Representatives, January 7, 1947.

The members of the House of Representatives of this General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania convene today with sadness in their hearts for one to have been of our assemblage.

On the day that he was to have been sworn in, Representative-elect Harry C. Schlect of the 27th District, Philadelphia, met death in a traffic accident at Second and Walnut Streets in Harrisburg.

In the prime of life, just as he was to begin a period of service about which he was most enthusiastic, an unkind fate brutally cut him down.

Mr. Schlect took an active part in politics for many years. The term for which he had been elected was the rightful culmination of his interest. We deeply regret to have been deprived of his energy, enthusiasm, and the benefits to be derived from his wisdom and association.

Mr. Schlect was a well-rounded conscientious citizen. He served as a sergeant in the 28th Division during World War I. and was shell shocked and gassed in the Argonne. He was a Charter member of Kensington Post No. 68 of the American Legion. He was a florist; and as an active business man, he was past President of the Frankford Lion's Club and the Frankford Avenue Businessmen's Association. He was a member of the Moose, Elks, and Rex Regum Post Catholic War Veterans. During World War II he was Chairman of Draft Board No. 35 in Philadelphia.

To those who knew him well and who had the pleasure of working with him, his sudden death is a shocking tragedy; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives of this General Assembly is deeply saddened by the loss of Representative-elect Harry C. Schlect, a man who served his community with distinction all too short a time; and be it further

Resolved, That in evidence of the deep sympathy of this House of Representatives, the Chief Clerk thereof shall convey in proper fashion to the widow of Harry C. Schlect, Mrs. Catherine O'Brien Schlect, a copy of this resolution, together with this expression of our heartfelt sympathy.

ADDRESS BY THE SPEAKER

Fellow Members, you have just bestowed a great honor upon me for which I am sincerely appreciative and will be eternally grateful.

I realize the tremendous task that lies ahead of us as members of the Pennsylvania House of Representatives and wish to assure you that I approach the task and responsibilities of this high office with deepest humility and a desire to serve you the Members of the House and the people of Pennsylvania. To that end I seek your help and cooperation.

I am aware also, that it will require the best in any individual to live up to the traditions and high standards of leadership exemplified by the men who have occupied this chair in past sessions. They have served unselfishly and given of their time and talents to preserve good government for the people of this Commonwealth.

I am cognizant of the confidence and trust that you have placed in me and I will strive to preside over the deliberations of this house with dignity and fairness to everyone.

This is the first session of the Legislature since guns ceased firing, bringing to a close the most costly and devastating war in the history of mankind; a war in which our country participated for the preservation of liberty and freedom. We are indeed thankful to Almighty God that freedom-loving peoples throughout the world were victorious in their battle against selfish, ruthless oppressors.

With this victory greater responsibility falls upon our own legislative body in solving the multitudinous and perplexing problems confronting our Commonwealth as we adjust our living from war to peace.

Pennsylvania set a new high in production in both her industries and farms during the years in which we were engaged in war and it is now part of our responsibility to see that this Commonwealth will continue in a position of leadership in the years of peace which lie ahead.

Today we stand on the threshold of a history-making legislative session. The eyes of the people of Pennsylvania are upon us to see that we enact a legislative program which shall carry our state forward to greater heights and which will continue to give every Pennsylvanian security and freedom.

In our approach to the problems ahead, we must forge our own personal ambitions and feelings; act not for political expediency but with the realization that having submerged our own desires, we are working in the interests of the entire citizenry of our state. We must approach our task with diligence and understanding, fearlessly fighting for those things which are right and in the interest of all people, and with the determination that the laws we enact during this session, will reflect honor and credit upon each and every one of us, so that we may continue to have the respect of the citizens we represent.

Let us always remember that although there are differences of opinion as we debate legislation on the floor of this House, these differences should never mar the friendships which exist among the members of this body.

This Commonwealth is fortunate in having selected a Governor for the next four years, a man with vision and integrity whose wisdom and counsel I am sure will continue Pennsylvania as a progressive state, a state in which our eleven million citizens are proud and happy to live and work; a man who has made pledges he is desirous of fulfilling. We should resolve to acquaint ourselves with these pledges and do our part in making them a reality.

Again may I thank you for this honor and I shall strive to work with all of you so that cooperatively we can meet our responsibilities and take advantage of the opportunities which are ours. In the words of Van Amburgh opportunity is defined for us—

Impractical, and absurd! They both do wrong the word.

The pessimist grants no value to experience gone before,

The optimist burns the records at the door.

You have the key to human destiny—the will to win. Opportunity is but the door—bravely walk right in—and go to work. "Work" is the word!

NOTIFICATION FROM SENATE

The SERGEANT-AT-ARMS. Mr. Speaker, a committee on the part of the Senate.

Mr. STEVENSON. Mr. Speaker, I have the honor to inform you that the Senate of the State of Pennsylvania is duly organized and ready to proceed to business.

The SPEAKER. The Chair receives with thanks the message of the Committee of the Senate.

PRESENTATION OF GIFT TO SPEAKER

Mr. DeLONG asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, it is a great honor and privilege to be designated by the members of John Hays Republican Association of Allentown, Pennsylvania, to present to you a token which expresses in an humble way the high esteem which they hold for your devotion to duty as Legislator, as their County leader and as their loyal and sincere friend.

In behalf of the John Hays Republican Club I have the pleasure to present to you this token.

The SPEAKER. I certainly wish to thank the gentle van from Lehigh, Mr. DeLong, and also the John Hays Republican Association for its very splendid gift.

I don't know, addressing the Minority Leader, whether this means a lot of work or not. The judge tells me it will take a good many papers to fill this brief case. I don't know whether you expect us to have that many papers or not.

Mr. ANDREWS. It is quite all right if the Speaker can certify that he had no previous knowledge of the gift, and that he did not obtain it as the result of such knowledge.

Mr. SPEAKER. I wish to assure the gentleman that he had no previous knowledge.

THANKS EXTENDED TO MR. CONNOR

The SPEAKER. The Chair requests the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Clarence Connor, to present himself at the bar of the House.

(Mr. Connor at bar of House)

The SPEAKER. I know that we are all greatly indebted to the gentleman who appears before the bar of this House, Mr. Clarence Connor, for the efficient job he has done in arranging the seating today for the families of you, the Members of this House.

It is a very difficult task, I can assure you. During the period of organization when the work was very heavy upon the Chief Clerk and your Speaker-elect we were always pleased to have the advice of some one of our predecessors who has the organization ability of such a person as Mr. Connor. Because of the good job he has done in the past we who occupy this Chair I think will continue to call upon him to continue to do that efficient job.

We thank you, Mr. Connor, for the splendid way in which you have performed your duty. I wish to say to the Members of this House that Mr. Connor does this job without any compensation, because he wishes to be of service, first I believe to the Speaker and then to all you members of this House.

As a token of our high regard for the job you have done so well we wish to present you with this gift.

THANKS EXTENDED TO CHIEF CLERK

The SPEAKER. The Chair wishes to thank the Chief Clerk, William E. Habbyshaw, for the efficient manner in which he has conducted the organization proceedings of the House.

RESOLUTION

THANKING JUDGE ROBERT E. WOODSIDE FOR ADMINISTERING OATH

Mr. O'DARE offered the following resolution which was read, considered and adopted:

January 7, 1947.

Resolved, That the Members of the House of Representatives do hereby extend their thanks to the Honorable Robert E. Woodside, of Dauphin County, for his services in administering the oath of office to its Members and Officers.

ADDRESS BY HONORABLE ROBERT E. WOODSIDE

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes Judge Woodside, former Member of this House. The Chair feels confident that the Judge probably would like to stand on the rostrum and say a few words.

Honorable ROBERT E. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, I always feel at home here, not only because by long days and long nights I became familiar with the chandeliers and pictures on the walls, but also because I always saw so many familiar faces in this hall.

I see a lot of new ones this time, as the gentleman from Ambria has suggested, but I also see very many old friends with whom I have served in this House.

I want to congratulate you upon the election of your Speaker. Those who were in positions of leadership in this House when the Speaker came here as a new Member recognized that he was one who would give a great deal of attention to his duties, one who was capable, one who would naturally come up to a position of leadership, and it is with a great deal of personal satisfaction that I have viewed his election here as your Speaker.

I want to congratulate him and also all of you on the appointment of Ed Moore as Parliamentarian. I don't believe there is anywhere in the United States a better Parliamentarian than this House has had for many years in the person of Ed Moore.

It also gives me a great deal of personal satisfaction to see you elect again as Chief Clerk my dear friend and former colleague, representing in this House the same district I represented, Bill Habbyschaw, and also your good secretary with whom I also served, Bill Roan.

I want to say to the Republican Members too, I think you did a good job in picking a floor leader and a whip. You had a lot of good men to choose from this time. I think your Floor Leader is fortunate in having as many experienced, capable and loyal Members as he will have fall back on. I know that he will do a good job.

I might also say to him that I learned from personal experience, sometimes bitter, that the Floor Leader on the other side is no slouch; he is very capable, and I know that on many occasions, as he expressed, I was the wetstone and he was doing the sharpening of his wit. He has served, as I know, as a capable legislator for many years.

I cannot give any advice to the Members of this House because I see sitting down there Ellwood Turner and many others who taught me many things concerning the duties of a legislator. Maybe some time, when you are not so busy and have a little time to kill between the passage of some of your important legislation, I will be here, and no doubt I shall be on many occasions. May the Speaker will permit me to say a word or two to the new Members, because I would not want to give any advice to any of the old Members. After ten years, or nearly ten years of serving in this House, and even before that, serving as a page boy, and now observing not only your legislation but also the Acts of this House, I feel very keenly about many points. I have a great deal of affection for this House of Representatives and for all the Members of it.

I appreciate the opportunity of coming before you today to administer the oath of office to you and to say a few words.

The SPEAKER. Thank you very much, Judge Woodside.

"When resolutions are reported from committees, those originating in the House shall be printed and placed on the desks of the Members before consideration by the House, after which they may be called up under the regular order of business for resolutions."

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I hoped that the Majority Leader is not setting a precedent in making comprehensive changes in the rules, and forgetting to supply us with a copy so that we can more nearly determine what is being done, and what is not being done.

I feel that I must as usual arise in defense of the down-trodden. It is a great pleasure to defend a down-trodden Republican and it is a supreme pleasure, a very supreme pleasure, to defend a down-trodden Republican if he comes from Philadelphia.

Now, as I gather from these rules, there is to be a committee on First Class Cities, with thirty members.

Of course, the situation has been changed since the strategy at the close of the last session when the majority party was gripped by a brief spell of idealism, and they realigned the committee making a substantial reduction.

Well, events happened. They came here with a very substantial representation from Philadelphia. So the Committee on First Class Cities, on which there has been a reasonable number of "hicks" from the rural regions, did not seem to suit, so they proceeded to create a new committee. The gentlemen from Philadelphia with their bright and shining faces did not want to be associated with the hicks from the sticks. So they proceeded to create a committee from which the hicks from the sticks could be excluded.

But here, Mr. Speaker, is the tragedy, I submit to the members of this House as this committee is set up, the entire Democratic delegation from Philadelphia would be members. Get that, we will have the entire Philadelphia delegation members of that committee. What do we find? To my distress, to my indignation, we find that that committee is not big enough to take in all the eminent statesmen that Philadelphia has sent here to represent it. So there won't be five or six on that Committee on First Class Cities, and I look upon them, Mr. Speaker, with their bright and shining faces, and I say to myself, "Which one would I leave out; which one would I discriminate against?" My heart bleeds for them; they will have to go back to Philadelphia and be asked, "Are you a member of the committee on First Class Cities?" They will have to say, "Who, me?"

Now, what I would like to know, is there anything that can be done. I cannot do anything about it myself. But how I would welcome a resolution or a motion on the majority side to expand the Committee on First Class Cities so that the entire Philadelphia delegation could be represented, because I gathered that the Majority Leader knew that I didn't want him to come to me after while and say, "Because we have our entire delegation of representatives from Philadelphia, your boys are roughing my boys up." I thought that instead of being a minority on that committee, I would greatly appreciate a motion which will expand that committee so that every deserving Member of this House from Philadelphia would have a place on it, as he should. How are you going to distinguish between so much ability?

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I want to assure the gentleman from Cambria that it was my full understanding in all conscience that complete copies of that report on the Revision of Rules, the resolution offered by the gentleman from Armstrong, were in his hands. If they were not given to him, I apologize to him. I want to assure him that we do not seek to establish a precedent of that kind.

But I deem it also a monument to the gentleman's spirit of cooperation and confidence that at the time he directs our attention to this menacing situation, which involves the committee on Cities of the First Class, that he will also express some qualms of conscience, and I want to appeal to the same spirit of cooperation on the part of this gentleman, that there is another way to solve this Philadelphia problem.

The gentleman knows full well that there are going to be at least ten of the Republican members from Philadelphia who will not be seated on the Committee on Cities of the First Class. Then in an appeal to that same spirit of cooperation and fairness, would not the gentleman please assure us that he will refrain from appointing just two of his members on the committee?

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

RESOLUTION

A Resolution expressing the appreciation of the people of the City of Woodbury to the Governor and General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for enacting legislation to abate the nuisance of stream pollution.

Whereas, The 1945 General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania passed and Governor Edward Martin approved the following measures for the Delaware and Schuylkill Rivers:

1. A reciprocal agreement authorizing Pennsylvania's participation with New York, New Jersey and Delaware in a unified program to control pollution in the Delaware River Basin;

2. A measure making unlawful the further promiscuous use of the Schuylkill River as a depository for coal culm and silt;

3. An act directing the State to initiate and carry out its part in a joint Federal-State project to remove 30 million tons of coal deposits and silt from the Schuylkill River, appropriating five million dollars to start this project;

4. Legislation permitting municipalities, singly or jointly, to finance stream pollution projects on a self-supporting basis; and

Whereas, These beginnings provide the foundations upon which will be built a new Schuylkill River Valley and a new Delaware River Valley, and will to a large extent restore these wantonly abused river systems to their natural beauty and usefulness, thus permitting and encouraging the residential and industrial development of America's second largest port; and

Whereas, The People of the City of Woodbury, having provided sewage treatment plants for themselves, and having long endured the nuisances arising from the polluted matter deposited in the majestic Delaware by a few of their thoughtless and careless neighbors in Pennsylvania and New Jersey, have petitioned, by resolutions adopted by the City Council, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, the mayors and municipal bodies of cities depositing raw sewage into the streams, requesting that plans be prepared and projects for the abatement of the nuisance be built as soon as men and materials are available without hindering the prosecution of the war; and

Whereas, The Honorable Edward Martin, Governor of Pennsylvania, has fulfilled the promise he made in response to this request; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Mayor and Council of the City of Woodbury, County of Gloucester, State of New Jersey, express the gratitude and appreciation of all the people of the City to the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and to those members of the General Assembly who voted for the aforementioned measures which mark the commencement of a great public benefit; and be it further

JOINT SESSION

PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE WELDON B. HEYBURN PRESIDING

The SERGEANT-AT-ARMS OF THE SENATE. Mr. President, I have the honor of presenting to you the committee appointed to escort the Governor to the Hall of the House.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. Members of the General Assembly and guests, I have the honor to present His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, Honorable John C. Bell, Jr. who will now address you.

ADDRESS OF GOVERNOR JOHN C. BELL, JR.

Members of the General Assembly:

It is a pleasure to address once again the distinguished representatives of the people of the greatest State in the United States. May I take this opportunity to thank you for the many kindnesses and courtesies you have extended to me and to hope that you will likewise extend these to Governor Duff and Lieutenant-Governor Strickler when they take office.

The national situation and the post-war problems and difficulties cannot help but be reflected in our own Commonwealth. They will continue during the life of this Legislature. You have a great responsibility. You are the first post-war Legislature of this Commonwealth. If you act wisely and well, you will not only render great service to the people of Pennsylvania, but you will add lustre to the somewhat tarnished fame of Democracy.

In view of the fact that I shall read in a few minutes the report of former Governor Edward Martin and that Governor-Elect James H. Duff will take office in a short time, I considered it unnecessary and unwise to suggest any legislative program or to recommend any changes or improvements.

Parliamentary government, and especially the cherished form of government which we call Democracy, is on trial for its life. It has lost ground nearly everywhere in the world. It has almost completely disappeared in middle Europe and in large areas in western Europe and it has been greatly weakened in parts of Latin America. Theories and philosophies of government which have been tried proved dismal failures in nearly every civilized country down through the ages have been repolished and transplanted to America.

They have been given new names and have been repainted with a fine coat of red, white and blue. Too many persons in our government, our colleges, our unions and our political parties have become enamored by the beautiful colors and have not thought of scratching off the paint to see what lies below. Our children need to hear more about the Faith of our Fathers; and we may have to reteach Democracy, its virtues and triumphs, in our homes, schools, colleges, newspapers and magazines, as well as over the radio.

We became the greatest and most prosperous nation in the world in the short space of 150 years. We have two jewels which no other people can match—liberty and the highest standard of living in the world. These were not acquired or attained under Communism or Fascism or Socialism or a "Planned Economy"—they were attained under Democracy.

150 years ago America was a primeval wilderness. We did not have any greater natural resources than Russia or parts of Europe, Asia and Africa. Many nations in Europe and Asia had a high degree of civilization 2,000 years before we were born. Every student of history remembers that America did not get the best brains of Europe nor even the great leaders of Europe. We got the so-called "Common Man." Yet from this little acorn a mighty oak grew, which became in a short period of time the wonder and envy of the world. Wouldn't it be wise to analyze how and why it grew so great? It grew because the Flame of Freedom burned fiercely in the hearts of the people and because the form of government they chose gave them certain unalienable Rights, among which was the Right to Life, Liberty and the Pursuit of Happiness. This right to lead their own free lives and to develop and keep their own land and their own resources, without interference or regimentation by their government, was possessed by scarcely any other people.

This was not a government under a Dictator, or Fuehrer, or King, or an Oligarchy, or a Communist Regime; this was a government "of the people, by the people, and for the people." This form of government was called Democracy and it enabled a conglomeration of common people, who originally possessed neither unusual abilities nor unusual wealth to become the most prosperous and the greatest nation in the world. No matter what else happens; no matter what sacrifices we must make or what perils we must endure; we must preserve at all hazards our Democratic Form of Government and our cherished Way of Life. I know that this same thought burns brightly in your hearts and that you will do everything within your power to preserve, unfettered and untarnished, the Liberty and the Democracy which the people of Pennsylvania and of our Country love.

If I may offer a humble suggestion it would be that you place the interest and welfare of the people above everything else and that you "let your light so shine that the people of Pennsylvania will see your good works and be proud of their representatives and of our wonderful State."

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. The Joint Session of the General Assembly will be at ease for a moment after which Governor Bell will read to us the message from former Governor Edward Martin.

MESSAGE OF FORMER GOVERNOR EDWARD MARTIN

GOVERNOR JOHN C. BELL, Jr. Mr. President, it is a pleasure to comply with the wishes of former Governor Martin and to read his message to you.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg
Final Message to the General Assembly of Pennsylvania by Major General Edward Martin, Governor of Pennsylvania, Tuesday, January 7, 1947.

Members of the General Assembly:

It is a real pleasure to greet the Legislative Session of 1947. We thank God that actual warfare is ended. We can now proceed to the constructive works of peace. They also have their problems. These must be met with the same courage and determination with which we met the problems of war.

Let me first express my great appreciation of the fine and loyal cooperation I have received from the Legislature of Pennsylvania. Without one branch of government encroaching upon the prerogatives of another, we have worked together as a team. The results attained during the last four critical years speak for themselves.

It is not the duty of a retiring Governor to make recom-mentations to the Legislature. That will be done by my most distinguished successor. As an aid to your deliberations, however, you are entitled to a review of the work of the Administration. This in more detail by the different departments will appear as an annex hereto. These reports should be carefully read.

Let me here acknowledge my great appreciation of the help I have received from my department heads; from the employes of the Commonwealth and particularly from the members of my immediate office staff. All have worked diligently to gain our objectives.

When we started in January 1943, we were engaged in the most terrible war of all history. The outcome—and when the war would end—were uncertain. Therefore, most properly, everything was centered on winning the war. I stated in my first message:

"This is a wartime Legislature meeting in the second year of the greatest of all the wars in which America has ever fought. The emergency in which our Commonwealth and our Nation find themselves demands unity, cooperation, toil and sacrifice. You as members of this Legislature and all of us sharing the burdens of this government have a great responsibility to the people who are our masters. I am confident that we will meet that responsibility in this historic war session of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. We should face the future with courage, with faith in ourselves and our institutions and with deep conviction that Right will finally triumph in this world-wide struggle for human liberty."

Pennsylvania can now, with pride, review its part in the war. We lived, worked and fought in the traditional Pennsylvania way.

From Colonial times, when we made and fought with the "Pennsylvania Rifle," we have been known as the arsenal of democracy. In World War II, we even surpassed ourselves in our great work for war.

We made all types of war material: jeeps, ships, trucks, locomotives, armor plate for ships and tanks, gasoline and oil, processed foods, airplane parts, guns, fabrics for uniforms, parachutes, precision instruments and medical engineering and signal equipment. Thousands of precious, critical items for our fighting men in the air, on the sea and on the land flowed in a steady stream from both large and small Pennsylvania plants manned by 2,500,000 skilled workers.

Our mines, quarries and ore beds, our gas and oil wells, and their 500,000 workers made a mighty contribution to victory.

Our 173,000 family-sized farms, and their ceaselessly toiling 500,000 men and women, produced $500,000,000 worth of food-stuffs for the use of workers and fighters.

Our giant transportation systems carried a tremendous war load. Our carefully organized utilities, our distribution network and all other functions of our daily life were swiftly raised to the tempo of war, so that our plants could operate at their maximum capacity.

Our greatest war contribution was made by the 1,300,000 boys and girls from Pennsylvania who wore the uniform. More than 33,000 made the final and supreme sacrifice. Thirty-five—or more than from any other State in the Union—received the Congressional Medal of Honor.

More than forty naval and military posts and stations were operated in Pennsylvania, where hundreds of thousands of men and women were processed, trained, hospitalized, supplied and separated from the service. Soldiers and sailors from other States were located in Pennsylvania and all were high in their praise of the treatment received from our people.

The Pennsylvania Selective Service Unit is the largest in the United States. A total of 437 draft boards functioned. To December 1, 1946, they inducted 872,513 into the service. Volunteers, enlisted and commissioned, numbered 453,905. The grand total for the Commonwealth was 1,326,418. To December 1, 1946, separations from the service by death or discharge totaled 1,144,635, leaving in the service 181,783. A large number of Pennsylvania boys are still in the hospitals.

A total of 7500 volunteers were associated in the work of selective service. The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is most grateful to those who served on the draft and appeal boards.

Pennsylvania's soldier ballot law is the model act of its kind in the United States. With the help of Civilian Defense and other patriotic organizations, 657,378 military ballots were sent in the General Elections of 1944 to our men and women in all parts of the world.

Our interior defense by the State Police and the State Guard has been outstanding. Both deserve the gratitude and thanks of our people. While undermanned, they courageously and intelligently solved all the difficult problems confronting them.

In our Civilian Defense organizations, 1,482,566 Pennsylvanians were enrolled. It was the greatest volunteer effort in the history of the Commonwealth. The work included victory gardens, salvage collections, auxiliary police, bond buying, air patrol, blood donations and help in emergencies and disasters. Civilian Defense will be long remembered by a grateful State.

The Post-War Planning Commission has been of great value to the Commonwealth. Its work includes studies of agriculture, mines, natural resources, labor, industry, ports, aviation, education, health and welfare institutions, conservation, taxes and fiscal policies.

Our Veterans' Commission serves in all our counties. It has been used as a model in many States. Its activities include hospitalization, employment and education. Returning the veteran to a peacetime status is one of the most important present responsibilities of government. The Veterans' Commission has been greatly aided by veterans' organizations and patriotic groups. Of our veterans, more than 800,000 are now employed. About 64,500 are now in schools and colleges. The veterans in these institutions are doing magnificent work. In meeting the greatly increased demand for higher education, our Department of Education and our colleges and schools are giving the State one of its greatest postwar accomplishments.

While our first attention was given to the winning of the war, Pennsylvania can be proud of its legislative program in the last four years.

For the coming Age of the Air, our aeronautics program is consistent with the times. It plans the coordination of railroad, air and highway traffic.

A comprehensive program of conservation, stream clearance, flood control and reforestation has been inaugurated. This will add to the wealth and increase the happiness of our people.

Our educational system has been strengthened by giving more aid to financially handicapped school districts and by increasing compensation to teachers. The war work of our teachers in many and varied patriotic projects, in rationing registration, in salvage collections, health clinics and morale building will not be forgotten. The committee studying the coordination of all our educational facilities and the School Commission are making fine progress.

A thorough and periodical physical examination of school children is being made.

An intelligent and comprehensive study by experts, with the objective of improving our mental and penal institutions, is completed. The actual construction of needed buildings can begin when materials are available.

A plan to improve the port of Philadelphia, with its access to the Atlantic; of the port of Erie, giving access to the Great Lakes; of the port of Pittsburgh, through the great midland rivers to the Gulf is a worth-while undertaking. No other State in the Union has the advantages of all these three types of ports.

Pennsylvania's road system is the largest in mileage in the United States. Our program contemplates its improvement by the construction of through highways, elimination of traffic "bottlenecks" and the steady extension of better roads into our rural communities. Materials were restricted. There was a shortage of man power, but in 1946 the highway work done in this Commonwealth was the greatest in the United States.

Regardless of the war, our Banking and Insurance Departments have cleaned up many items inherited by reason of the depression. Our banks and insurance companies are on a sound foundation.

We have urged the cooperation of agriculture, labor and industry as the base of a sound economy for our people.

Better education and health facilities, with more improved roads, have been planned to encourage our young people to remain on the farms. We have not forgotten that agriculture is the basic industry of our country.

Workmen's compensation and unemployment insurance have been increased. Health and safety legislation have been strengthened to aid the workingman.

Taxes have been lowered to help business in Pennsylvania. New business has been encouraged to come to the Commonwealth.

The fiscal affairs of the State are in splendid condition. Our bonded debt has been reduced to $44,642,000.

It is important to recall that eight years ago—in addition to a bonded debt of $154,275,000—we had a current deficit of $71,000,000. This was transformed into a cash balance of $170,000,000, as of May 31, 1945. You, the members of the Legislature, dedicated and appropriated this fund for the construction of hospitals and mental institutions, a second injury fund for workers, educational facilities, increased teachers' salaries, school health examinations, modernization of penal and correctional institutions, expansion of the State's highway system, airport construction, stream pollution abatement, reforestation, recreational projects and other permanent improvements and betterments.

In our four years, despite increased appropriations for health, education, welfare, conservation and institutional construction, State taxes were reduced by $322,900,000. In addition, merit rating has saved Pennsylvania industry and business millions of dollars.

The problem of demands for increased appropriations is always before you. Where commitments have been made they should be kept and this may necessitate some increases in taxes. For example, if the proposed highway program is to be completed as planned, gasoline taxes must be increased because of higher costs of materials and labor. Governmental solvency must have Number One priority on all levels of government. We cannot be free if any level of government is involved financially. Now, the State level of government is on a sounder financial basis than any other level. The appeals for help must be weighed with care and courage. Keep expenditures within reasonable bounds. As members of the Legislature, you should remember that increased expenditures must be matched by increased revenues taken from the pockets of our people. In sound government tax receipts must be at least equal to appropriations.

Education, health and juvenile delinquency deserve the attention of all Pennsylvanians. Health clinics better hospitals, recreational centers and equal opportunity for basic education, will help us attain our objectives. While the government has an important part, we must not forget that the greater part in building for future betterment, depends upon the church and the home.

I leave the Governor's Office with a renewed appreciation of the greatness of our people. In my new duties, I pray that I may have the support of our people. I have not been able to see as much of Pennsylvania as I had hoped. However, as Governor, I have spoken 322 times on non-political subjects, eighteen of these addresses being made outside the State. I have visited plants, mines, schools, farms and churches in every county of the Commonwealth. I have tried to know our people, understand their views, be guided by their wishes and work with them for a better State. The reception I have received from the people is most gratifying and deeply appreciated.

Again, let me thank the Legislature and our people for four years of courtesies, encouragement and help.

In this period of strife, turmoil and intrigue, when men and nations are forgetting the God of our fathers, Pennsylvanians can turn to the humility, courage, thrift, tolerance, love of God and the good will of our founder, William Penn, for inspiration and courage.

We are proud of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. We are proud of its work, its patriotism, its liberties and its tolerance. With that pride goes a solemn obligation and a living and lasting responsibility.

Keeping our freedoms and winning the peace should be the paramount purposes of every true American. Wars are won by the blood of men and consecrated by women's tears. Behind the tears and blood, there must be courage, sweat, humility and prayers. They have won our wars. They must win for us the ways and works of peace.

Long, earnest and honest hours are necessary.

We must pull together.

We must face the future with faith.

Let us humbly, asking God's help, continue in our work to make Pennsylvania an even greater State in which to work and live.

EDWARD MARTIN.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. On behalf of the Members of the General Assembly, I want to thank you for your splendid message and for delivering to us the message of former Governor Martin of Pennsylvania.

The committee on the part of the Senate and the House will now escort His Excellency the Governor to his chambers.

The Chair appoints the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Reese, to escort the Honorable Robert E. Woodside, a Judge of the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County to the rostrum to administer the oath of office to the members-elect.

OATH OF OFFICE ADMINISTERED

The oath of office was then administered to the members-elect.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks His Honor Judge Woodside for his services in administering the oath to our new members.

The Chair extends to the new members his congratulations upon their election to this body.

The Chief Clerk requests the new members to meet with him in his office at the conclusion of this ceremony.

ADDRESS OF HONORABLE DAVID HARRIS

Hon. DAVID HARRIS. Mr. Speaker, it is a very high honor to be invited to speak in the Legislative halls of Pennsylvania.

I would like to say that we of the Philadelphia Republican party are pleased that Louis Sax has been elected a Member of this House. I know that I was very much pleased to see him presented to Judge Woodside who administered the necessary oath to Mr. Sax and the other newly elected members of the House.

I think the highest honor that can come to any man regardless of his political party is to be a member of the Pennsylvania Legislature.

Mr. Sax has a hard road to follow. He comes here in place of the late Samuel W. Salus, who for many years has been a member of the Pennsylvania Legislature. Later he served in honorable service in the Senate of Pennsylvania, and more recently he returned to the House. Of course, that is our American system of government. To be accepted as a Member of this body is really a privilege.

ADJOURNMENT

The SPEAKER. The purpose for which this ceremony was convened having been carried out, the assemblage is adjourned.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. Lester C. Updegrave offered the following prayer:

Father of all mercies, Giver of all blessings, the One who is the inspiration of all worthy thought and action, we thank Thee for this day. We ask for the richest blessings to rest upon our beloved country, upon every member and employee of this Legislative body and upon He who presides over its deliberations. Direct them, O God, in their manifold duties and state-wide responsibilities.

Comfort and sustain those who mourn the tragic loss of our departed Brother Schlecht. Grant that they and we, may ever be mindful of thy power and presence for every need in life's journey. We pray in the name of Him who assures us: "Lo, I am with you always even unto the end of the age." Amen.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

By consent of the House leave of absence was granted as follows:

Mr. Royer for Mr. TROUT for the remainder of the week.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker—

The SPEAKER. For what purpose does the gentleman rise?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to simply say that as far as we are concerned we are perfectly willing to consider that for the session this afternoon and the session this evening all the Members of the House are in their seats.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY SPEAKER

The SPEAKER. The Chair wishes to make the following announcement:

The Inaugural Committee appointed by the Chair at yesterday's session will meet in the new House caucus room at 2:30 p. m. today.

EXPLANATION OF NEW HOUSE FILING SYSTEM

The SPEAKER. The Chair would request at this time that the Parliamentarian of the House, who refused to talk yesterday, take the microphone at this time and explain to us the procedure to be followed in the new system of filing bills in the binders which you will find on your desk.

This new procedure is very important to both the old and new Members, and I am sure every one wants to listen attentively to the words of the Parliamentarian.

Mr. S. EDWARD MOORE. Mr. Speaker, may I ask that the Members take their ring binder files and open them.

On your desks has been placed a House Calendar for today. You will find that the rings in this binder at the present time are a little stiff and hard to open, but it is important to know how to open them. Do not open them by grabbing the rings. Take the end of the binder and press down on the ends. When you close the binders you close them by the rings.

If you will now turn to the tab marked "House Calendar," turn it over, open your binder and place the calendar in that space. Are the calendars in proper place?

Now, turn over to the "Second Reading Bills," the green tab. On your desk is House Bill No. 1. Put House Bill No. 1 in that position. I assume that all the bills are now in position and we are about ready to go to work.

For the benefit of the new Members I should like to call their attention to the old method of binding bills. On the Chief Clerk's desk are the House and Senate Bills, also the House Calendars, and House Histories, as they appeared when we reached the peak of the 1945 session. I am quite sure that the old Members will appreciate the problem that presented.

The only office that a Member of this House had was the little two by four desk that he sits at, and he was expected to carry on his correspondence and the handling of other papers with that stack of material on every desk in this House.

When the special committee that was appointed to study the revision of the House bills met, the question naturally came up, if we are going to reduce the size of the bills and simplify the printing, isn't there something that can be done to reduce the bulk on the members' desks?

The result of that study is the loose leaf binder which you now have before you. This binder is intended to contain nothing but the work for the day that appears on the calendar.

We are going to proceed by easy stages in telling you how to handle the filing of your bills. As we progress with the calendar we will go through with what we have done this morning as to the other parts of the calendar. By the time we reach February 1, you will understand clearly how to take care of your own files, and we sincerely hope that it will be an improvement over our former system.

I would also like to say for the benefit of the new Members that the pink bills that were put on your desks last night will not be put on your desks in the future. The pink bills are printed as soon as the bill is introduced and are filed in the document room. The only bills that you will get for filing are the white bills, and all that it is necessary to do is to follow the simple rule in arranging the bills in your files in accordance with the manner in which they appear on the calendar, by number.

Those bills which are taken out of the files will be discarded each day and will be put in an envelope supplied to you marked "Discarded Bills." The Sergeant-at-Arms will gather those, and I am quite sure that as you learn to use the files you will realize that it is very simple. We hope it will be a convenient method for you to keep legislation before you; take these files to your committee or home, if necessary, to study the legislation on the calendar.

Incidentally it is very important that these files be kept locked in your desk. They are not to be left on the top of the desk.

Are there any questions? I just wanted to discuss the situation briefly.

I would like to say, Mr. Speaker, that we are ready to proceed with the work of today that appears on the calendar. I understand that every Member has his bills properly filed. I thank you.

The SPEAKER. The Chair wishes to thank the Parliamentarian.

It took a long time to devise some method of filing bills, and we asked the Parliamentarian to take the microphone and explain the method to the Members of the House.

COMMITTEE TO ATTEND FUNERAL OF HON. HARRY C. SCHLECHT

The SPEAKER. The Chair appoints as a committee on the part of the House to attend the funeral of Honorable Harry C. Schlecht, a member-elect of the 27th district of Philadelphia, the entire Philadelphia delegation.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1, entitled:

An Act relating to officers and employees of the General Assembly fixing the number qualifications compensation mileage and duties of the officers and employees of the Senate and of the House of Representatives providing for their election or appointment term of office or of service removal and manner of filling vacancies and making appropriations to the Senate House of Representatives and Legislative Reference Bureau

Article I, section 1, was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, it would be a very brave Republican and a very foolish Democrat who would at this time proceed to endeavor to amend this bill. And yet, Mr. Speaker, there are certain things that I believe should be said at this time. It always happens in measures like this that we operate with a pistol at our heads. We are on a time schedule. This bill must pass the House tonight, it must pass the Senate this week.

I am a member of a group that helped prepare this bill and I regret the fact that it is submitted to the House under conditions that practically bar any Member from endeavoring to amend it. I have served this House for some years. I have always been zealous—jealous, of its legislative dignity. I have always opposed anything that would impair our standards as a deliberative assembly, and I have always played with both the majority and minority groups to bring about the day when this deliberative assembly would be adequately equipped with the tools with which to perform its business. This bill fails in part to do that.

Your General Assembly is composed of two branches. In one branch there are fifty Members; in the other branch there are two hundred and eight Members. If you will analyze this bill, the yearly cost of stated salaries in the branch of the Legislature which has fifty Members is approximately $67,850. I am not saying that is too much; I am simply calling attention to the fact that the cost, the yearly cost of the stated salaries, the yearly salaries created in this bill for the House are $67,150.00. So, we have in the legislative assembly of fifty Members a fixed annual salary of $67,050 and in the legislative assembly of two hundred and eight Members fixed annual salaries for employees only of $67,150. If you will analyze the per capita cost of one day for operating the branch of the Legislature which has fifty Members, you will find that the per capita cost in the fifty Member branch, I mean the total cost, the cost per diem, is $635 and $675 in the branch that has two hundred and eight Members.

Now, I submit to you that if the fifty Member branch of this General Assembly is properly served, that the two hundred and eight member branch is inadequately served. You will find in this measure, I think, either forty-eight or forty-six stenographers for the fifty Member branch, and there are a couple more stenographers, so that they have practically in the fifty Member branch one stenographer for every Member, whereas in the two hundred and eight Member branch we have thirty-three stenographers for two hundred and eight Members.

Now, gentlemen, you bear the burden and the heat of the day. It is the business of the committees of which you have complete control, to see that the legislation confronting this Assembly must be integrated, and I know you older Members know and the new Members will know that in order to do a good job this House has not supplied itself with the the proper personnel. I think we have got nineteen pages; the other branch has six messengers. If they need six messengers, we need more than nineteen pages, because our conditions are comparable. I don't see any reason why a messenger in the fifty Member branch is worth six dollars a day and a page boy in this House is worth four dollars a day.

I could go on and analyze this measure to a greater extent and show other inequalities. I will not do so. Practically there isn't anything we can do about it. As a member of the group which helped integrate this measure, I know and probably the Members of the Republican party know, that they had at the end of the last session an infinitely better bill than is now being submitted to this chamber.

For reasons over which I have no control and for reasons over which unfortunately the two hundred eight Members of this House have no control, it has been necessary to formulate House Bill No. 1, a marked advance over the measure in force up to this time, but far short of providing the instrumentality of service which this House needs in order to perform a good piece of work. I am only speaking to you now for the purpose of urging that before this session of the General Assembly ends that this House find the occasion to announce to all concerned that the other branch of this General Assembly has a perfect right, within the Constitutional limitations imposed upon it, to provide the services which its Members deem necessary in order to enable them to work, and to announce further that this chamber has the same right, subject to no dictation from any other branch of this General Assembly, to formulate measures which will provide us with adequate machinery with which to perform our duties.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I can find myself in full accord with the gentleman's approach to the problem that has been before this Assembly for some time.

I can, however, go off in a little different direction in connection with this particular bill. First, I would have some difficulty in agreeing that we have not adequately in the employes' bill set up the House of Representatives to do this work. I can hold only to this view too, that it is not for me to criticize or defend the Senate on what they may have done to provide facilities for their body.

I can only say that certain prerogatives should be withheld to each of the two bodies here to formulate and conduct their affairs somewhat independently of the other, so far as procedural matters are concerned. The only thing that the gentleman omits, however, in his general observation, and of course this is a step forward, is the fact that many things are being accomplished. I can agree that everything is not being accomplished, but must hold to the view that we start out with a classification of jobs created back as far as the year 1919. We defined duties for some employes, which duties by reason of the change of the printing and procedural matters no longer exist. We found then that we could eliminate such antiquated classification. We found some difficulty, for example, where employes performed similar duties who were receiving different rates of pay. Uniformity of pay for similar classifications was therefore found necessary. That has been accomplished. We found then that while we made provisions in a general way for stenographic assistance, for instance, that the supervision was not definitely established so that the services were provided where they were need most, in the committees which are the workshop of the House.

We find also in the interim there are many things, many duties which must be performed for which no provision was made. It became necessary therefore to establish a skeleton force in terms of an annual pay. In this way we feel, if we discuss the standard of costs, that a substantial savings will be made in the organization of the new House that will go on after as time goes on. In many of these ways we feel that a definite step forward has been accomplished.

We want the Members to know that in approaching that particular problem we had in mind first and foremost, of course, that we were going to answer for the activities which we concluded in arriving at a personal setup for the House, from the standpoint of cost although it was not a major factor, and also because we thought first and foremost of the efficient supervision and activities on the part of the personnel itself, the transferability of employes from one classification to another classification on a similar rate basis.

While, Mr. Speaker, we have not accomplished everything in establishing the organizational setup, we have yet to hear of any organization which has reached the acme of perfection, whether it be at private enterprise or governmental, and we feel definitely that this particular piece of legislation is definitely a move forward in procedural matters.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the majority leader, the gentleman from Elk, Mr. Sorg.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Elk permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SORG. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Elk Mr. Sorg, inform me whether this measure permits an adjournment of the House or a recessing of the House over a longer period than a few days, say two, three or four weeks, without the necessity of paying all the employes of the House?

Mr. SORG. In that respect Mr. Speaker, I see no change by reason of the provision in this particular bill, over the present law.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman from Elk Mr. Sorg.

I regret that this measure does not take care of a problem that has confronted many of us for a good many years. There is no question in my mind, and I think in the minds of all of those who have been students of our procedure, that there have been times, and will be times, when this House will be recessed for a period longer than a few days that we usually recess from week to week. In other words, it would be a good thing if at times the Legislature would quit a while and give the committees and leadership on both sides, and joint committees, an opportunity to formulate their legislation and programs.

In the past, the argument has always been raised every time we attempted to do this, and in the twenty-two years I have been here I only know of one time when we did anything of the kind, and that was in the session of 1939 when we recessed for three weeks, but every time we attempted to recess for a longer period there would be the objection that we would be subjected to criticism because we would pay all of the employees when they had nothing to do. Personally I think it would be money well spent for the Commonwealth if we had to pay them, but it does seem to me that if in this session we are going to do as the gentleman from Cambria suggested, seek an amendment, of this legislation, that we should bear in mind that thought, so that that obstacle to a sensible recessing of the House at times could be relieved.

There is one other feature of this bill that I would like to see amended, and I am sorry that it does not appear here. I believe that this House is not and never will be adequately staffed until we provide the majority and the minority leaders with technical assistance. When I say technical I mean men who are skilled in finance and men who are skilled in research, who can provide the majority and minority leaders with the help that they need. No Member of this House who has not had the opportunity to be either a majority or a minority leader, or to be in close contact with the work of this body can help but know that the success of legislation, and the real benefit to the people of Pennsylvania comes from the work done by the majority and minority leaders.

Mr. Speaker, as much as I am always delighted to see the minority on the other side of the House and to see it cut down as much as possible, nevertheless I have believed strongly in a good strong fighting minority. I believe in that way we get the best legislation and I believe the people of Pennsylvania get the best break. I know in New York State they provide their leaders with adequate staffs. They provide their committees with such staffs. They provide the Legislature with proper technical assistance, and we need that badly.

When you think, Mr. Speaker, that we come in here, for instance, to pass upon a budget that runs over a half a billion dollars for the General Fund, outside of the highways, and all the information we have is gathered by a small staff of the joint Finance and Appropriation Committee of the Senate and House in the short term of the session, it is practically impossible for that committee or a sub committee to appraise the demands of all the departments.

When you think that we come into this session where there seems to be a need of increased revenue, and that we have no machinery except the Ways and Means Committee which has no staff at all, which has to build up one during the session, and we have no way of appraising either what the present tax laws will produce, what the revenues from those tax laws will be, or how much revenue we may need during the coming biennium, I am amazed at times that we get as good results as we do out of the Legislature. But certainly we have had the example from Congress, they have seen the light of day and are adequately staffing Congress with technical help and assistance, and I believe it is back in the dark ages for us to approach the typical problems of our government in the expanding services that have come up in the last ten or fifteen years in the government of this Commonwealth, with the continuing demands of the people for expanding services. To think that two hundred eight men, nearly all of whom are laymen, you might say, or without any experience in the affairs of government, can come in and hope to intelligently appraise and assay the problems that are placed before them by the people of the Commonwealth, is placing upon them a considerable task.

I do not mean to criticize the executive branch or the administration departments but I do say that the Legislature should not have to take its information alone from the executive branch or to have laid before it the conclusions of the departments and bureaus as to the amounts of money which are required to operate those units. We should, if we are going to amend this bill, as I hope we will during this session, and as the gentleman from Cambria has pointed out, go in fighting for the things which we should have for an intelligent approach to the problems before the Legislature.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I would just like in a very brief way to comment further on several observations made concerning the feasibility of the bill with reference to needed recesses of the Legislature.

Under the proposed legislation we do have a skeleton force on an annual basis, whose compensation is not changed, regardless of the length of time we are in session, but if it becomes advisable to have a prolonged recess or it becomes advisable to discontinue the work of the per diem employe, it is our feeling that there is a procedure that can be adopted by resolution of the House under the present provisions of the law until it can be changed. We feel that that can be accomplished.

I do want, however, also to stress my agreement with the other two gentlemen who spoke on this measure, that we here in this branch of the government have as important a function as that of any other branch of the government. I should like also to suggest this, to compliment what might otherwise be an apparent weakness, that during the interim of this legislature, we have an agency known as the Joint State Government Commission to carry on with tax studies and various other measures that require concentrated investigation that I hope will be encouraged, and I hope that when the appropriate Committee, that the gentleman refers to, considers the budget and the expenditure of money for good services, they will give the most serious consideration to the Joint State Government Commission on that basis.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

It was agreed to.

Sections 2 to 10 inclusive of Article I were separately read and agreed to.

Articles 2 to 4 inclusive, the sections included therein and title were separately read and agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

The SPEAKER. Does the Minority Leader have any further business to bring before the House?

Mr. ANDREWS. Yes, Mr. Speaker, there is a matter concerning the dignity and the privileges of this House which I desire to bring before the members. The matter which I have in mind—

The SPEAKER. The gentlemen will please state the question of privileges affecting the House.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, instead of reading a lengthy resolution, the question of privileges and parliamentary inquiry is this, that in January 1945, this House adopted a resolution appointing a committee to investigate and report upon the advisability of installing an electric roll call vote system.

The report was duly made, in which the advisability of installing an electric roll call system was set forth at length. An Act was duly passed and signed by the Governor of the Commonwealth, and the Department of Property and Supplies by virtue of this Act was instructed, although I will admit without any definite limitations as to time, to install an electric roll call system. So Mr. Speaker, I am raising the question of privilege and also of parliamentary inquiry whether by resolution or motion the Department of Property and Supplies shall be brought before this House to explain why it has not complied with our mandate.

The SPEAKER. In reply to the gentleman's request for information on a parliamentary inquiry, the Chair would say that the proper procedure would be introduction of a resolution to properly consider the question relating to the Department of Property and Supplies furnishing us with the information desired.

Mr. ANDREWS. I present the following resolution. I then desire recognition for a motion concerning it.

ELECTRIC ROLL CALL SYSTEM

Mr. ANDREWS offered the following resolution.

In the House of Representatives, January 8, 1947.

Whereas, this House on January 30, 1945 adopted a Resolution sponsored by the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Brunner, providing for the appointment of a committee of five members of the House for the purpose of making an investigation concerning the advisability of installing an electric roll call system in this chamber, and

Whereas, a committee of five members was duly appointed and an investigation made, and

Whereas, this committee on March 13, 1945 presented a report to this House in which they favored the installation of an electric roll call system in this chamber for the following reasons:

1. That, without exception, every member or official of the legislative bodies visited approve the electrical roll call system.

2. That the states of Wisconsin and Virginia in the years 1917 and 1922, respectively, installed a cumbersome electrical roll call system which consumed about five minutes for each roll call and yet effected a great saving of time and expense. Both States have since installed the most modern systems, which can and do operate a complete roll call in as little time as 15 seconds for their 100 members.

3. That the electrical roll call system operates with absolute precision and removes any possibility of error now present in the Pennsylvania House of Representatives in the recording of an oral roll call.

4. The perforated roll call vote precludes any error by clerks in recording the vote of members in the Official Journal and the printing of said vote in the Legislative Journal.

5. Members may change their vote before the roll is closed and the result is announced instead of being required to arise in their places, await recognition by the chair and orally change their vote.

6. Members vote simultaneously instead of one at a time.

7. The unparliamentary practice of using the so-called short roll call would be completely eliminated.

8. The cost of electricity to operate the electric roll call system for a session of the House will approximate 50 cents an hour.

9. The systems observed have been operated during at least 14 regular sessions of the legislatures. The total cost of repairs or replacements did not exceed $100.00 for all states visited.

10. The voting units installed in the desks of the individual members can be replaced in as little as 6 seconds, thus assuring uninterrupted efficiency.

11. No state visited by your committee had as liberal a constitutional provision as that found in Article 11 Section 12 of the Pennsylvania Constitution, whereby any 2 members may demand a yea and nay vote on any question. This emphasizes the need for the electrical roll call system in Pennsylvania.

12. Daily sessions consume less time due to use of electric roll call system thereby permitting more time for Committee action.

13. Men can be trained quickly to operate and maintain the system. No representatives of the manufacturer are required for the system's operation after initial installation.

14. In the State of Wisconsin, which uses a roll call sheet printed in triplicate, the printing cost for 20,000 roll calls amounted to $250,000.00.

15. It is believed that instead of consuming an average of 7 minutes for each roll call in the House of Representatives, an electrical roll call system would average one minute and accomplish it more efficiently and accurately, and

Whereas, the report filed by the investigating committee was unanimously adopted by this House, and

Whereas, on May 2, 1945 the Governor of this Commonwealth signed House Bill 1170 which became Act 7A and which specifically appropriated $75,000 to the Department of Property and Supplies for the purchasing of an electric roll call system and installing it in the hall of the House of Representatives, and

Whereas, it now appears that the mandate of the General Assembly has been ignored and no electric roll call system has been installed, now therefore be it

Resolved, that the House of Representatives, through its proper officers, require the presence in this House of the Department of Property & Supplies' chief executive for the purpose of explaining to the membership of this House why an electric roll call system has not been installed—the Department of Property and Supplies, through its proper executive to appear and offer the explanation at such time as the Speaker of this House may direct.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman ask unanimous consent to have the resolution read?

Mr. ANDREWS. I would not insist that we take the time of the House to read the resolution, Mr. Speaker, but I would like to offer the following motion.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman please send the motion to the desk?

(The motion was sent to the desk.)

Mr. SORG. Will the gentleman yield, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. ANDREWS. I yield, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Cambria.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cambria permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman first permit my motion to be read?

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I was going to ask whether the gentleman has a copy of the motion before him.

Mr. ANDREWS. I have, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SORG. I am afraid Mr. Speaker, the gentleman thought I was establishing a precedent.

The SPEAKER. The Chair does not consider the motion to be in proper form and requests the gentleman from Cambria and the Majority Leader to come to the desk.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, since there are no Committees at the present time to which this resolution can be referred I therefore withdraw the motion I have sent to the desk, pending such time as the House shall have created its Standing Committees.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman from Cambria.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. MAZZA. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Thursday, January 9, 1947, at 12:01 a. m.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 2:35 p. m.) the House adjourned.

HOUSE BILL FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced presented for concurrence bill of the House, as follows:

House Bill No. 1, entitled:

An Act relating to officers and employes of the General Assembly fixing the number qualifications compensation mileage and duties of the officers and employes of the Senate and of the House of Representatives providing for their election or appointment term of office or of service removal and manner of filling vacancies and making appropriations to the Senate House of Representatives and Legislative Reference Bureau.

Which was laid on the table.

COMMUNICATION

The Chair cleared its table and laid before the Senate a letter from the Anthracite Chapter of the Pennsylvania Society of Professional Engineers, dated October 31, 1946, which was read by the Clerk as follows:

ANTHRACITE CHAPTER PENNSYLVANIA
SOCIETY OF PROFESSIONAL ENGINEERS
POTTSVILLE, PENNSYLVANIA

October 31, 1946.

The Honorable John C. Bell,
Lieutenant-Governor of Pennsylvania,
State Capitol,
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

Dear Sir:

At a recent meeting of the Anthracite Chapter of the Pennsylvania Society of the Professional Engineers, the following resolution was presented to the society:

Whereas, it has come to our attention that there is considerable agitation on the part of certain groups to have the General Assembly of Pennsylvania enact legislation at its forthcoming session to restrict anthracite stripping; and

Whereas, we believe such restrictive legislation will deal a fatal blow to the economy of the anthracite coal fields because countless numbers of coal companies are able to operate today only because they are able to secure stripping coal to mix with their costly deep-mined coal; and

Whereas, imposition of such restrictions on the anthracite strippings will cause most of these companies to go out of business throwing thousands of mineworkers idle with its resultant payroll losses running into millions of dollars;

Therefore, Be It Resolved by the Anthracite Chapter, Pennsylvania Society of Professional Engineers, assembled in meeting at Lansford, Pennsylvania, this Second day of October, 1946, that we go on record against passage of any legislation restricting anthracite stripping operations in any manner whatsoever;

And Be It Further Resolved that the Secretary be instructed to send copies of this Resolution to the Governor of Pennsylvania, Lieutenant Governor and members of the General Assembly and that copies be distributed to the Press.

The above resolution was unanimously adopted and as instructed in the resolution, I am sending this to you for your kind consideration. We trust that we might have your cooperation in this matter.

Yours most sincerely,

To the Honorable the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In conformity with law, I have the honor hereby to nominate for the advice and consent of the Senate Frank J. JOHN C. BELL, Jr.

REPORT OF SAVING FUND SOCIETY OF GERMANTOWN AND ITS VICINITY

The Chair cleared its table and laid before the Senate the Ninety-second Annual Statement of the Saving Fund Society of Germantown and its vicinity.
(The report will be found in the Appendix.)

REMARKS FELICITATING CHAPLAIN WALLACE

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I have been advised by the Chair that this is the last day we will be privileged to have with us the distinguished gentleman from Allegheny who, for a number of years, has been the chaplain of the Senate; on his last day here with us, before he leaves these hallowed chambers, I would like to say on behalf of our colleagues here how much we have appreciated the earnestness and forcefulness of his prayers. I do not suppose there is any other legislative body in the United States which needs more fervent prayers than the Senate of Pennsylvania; his prayers have been a repeated inspiration to those of us who have been privileged to be here and to hear them.

No doubt, during the many times he has prayed here in this Senate Chamber, he has wondered whether or not he was really reaching the minds and the hearts of the men with whom he was associated, and I want to say to Dr. Wallace as he leaves these Senate chambers that he has been an inspiration to every one of us and in the cloak of our success is woven the golden thread of his handiwork. May God bless him in his endeavors.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE. That was very nice, Senator Walker.

PRESENTATION TO HIS EXCELLENCY THE GOVERNOR, JOHN C. BELL, Jr.

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, on behalf of the committee appointed to escort the Governor to the Hall of the Senate I wish to advise the Chair that committee has performed its duty. I have the honor to present His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE. The committee is discharged with the thanks of the Senate.

Mr. KEPHART. I would like to request that the Governor come to the bar of the Senate.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE. Of course, it is not the usual thing for a Senator to order a governor around.

HIS EXCELLENCY, GOVERNOR JOHN C. BELL, Jr. Nor for a Governor to go to a bar.

Mr. KEPHART. Governor Bell, you have been the Presiding Officer of this body for the past four years, you have done that job with fairness to Republicans and Democrats alike, and with a great deal of tact. You have been taken away from us for the past few weeks and have not been able to finish your term as Presiding Officer, but you have all of our good wishes for every success in the future.

On behalf of my colleagues in the Senate of Pennsylvania, we desire to present you with this gift as a token of our deep affection for you, sir.

(A desk set was presented to His Excellency the Governor.)

GOVERNOR BELL. Mr. President and my friends, this is certainly a memorable occasion for me and I certainly want to say "thanks a million."

Now and then in my life I have had a few honors bestowed upon me, small ones, but the one I treasure most is having been President of the Senate of Pennsylvania and remembering the friends and the happy times we so often had together here.

The House of Lords used to be known as the greatest deliberative body in the world; after a while that toga passed to the United States Senate, but in view of recent events in Washington, and after my long association with you gentlemen, I am sure I am expressing a sentiment you will agree with, when I say the Senate of Pennsylvania is now the best law-making body in the United States.

If I also may become personal for a moment, this gift is perfectly beautiful and I can not tell you how tremendously I appreciate it and the thought that is in back of it. As a matter of fact, in my Philadelphia law office I have a terrible habit of pulling out my watch, actually fifty to a hundred times a day. This gift will save me a lot of wear and tear and in addition to that it will be a constant reminder of the gentlemen of the Senate and a timely remembrance of all of you.

I can not really thank you enough for all the courtesy and kindnesses you showed to me. I remember you elected me to the Racquet Club; I was invited to the Republican caucus and every now and then was treated as a member of it. I was occasionally invited to the Democratic caucus; I do not know what would have happened if I had accepted the invitation, although I think some of you would have enjoyed it.

May I say again in conclusion that from the bottom of my heart I wish you the best of luck and "thanks a million."

(The members of the Senate rose and applauded.)

GOVERNOR BELL. Do you suppose, Mr. President, that I could interfere with the business of the Senate long enough to shake hands with the Senators.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE. I wish you would, Governor. The Senate will be at ease.

(The Senate was at ease.)

GOVERNOR JOHN C. BELL. Gentlemen, just before I retire may I say one further word. The thought just came to me, it is very important and I hope you will keep it in your minds during the entire session—you have a very exclusive club which has this slogan "once a Senator, always a Senator," and I hope you will put me into that club. Thanks a lot.

MEMBERS OF CARNEGIE HIGH SCHOOL BAND INTRODUCED TO THE SENATE

Mr. RAHAUSER. Mr. President, I would like to call to your attention that we have present in the Senate Chamber the band of the Carnegie High School, Carnegie, Pa., the home of Governor-elect James H. ## HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

MONDAY, January 20, 1947

The House met at 9 p. m.

PRAYER

The Rev. John Alvin Stewart, Pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Carnegie, of which Governor-elect James H. Duff is a member, offered the following prayer:

Almighty and eternal God, under whose wise and just providence this Commonwealth has come to a place of leadership and influence among the States of this great nation, we pause this evening to pay tribute unto Thy Holy Name and to seek Thy blessing and Thy wisdom as the House opens this session tonight, realizing that all we do or say is eternally written in Thy Book of Life, and in the affairs which touch us and touch our hearts, are affairs which regulate the lives of countless millions of people throughout this Commonwealth. Deeply interested are we in our problems and those problems which pertain to our own locality, but more deeply interested are we in the problems which relate to the affairs of State, in such a way that they fall upon thy children throughout its vast boundaries, calling upon those of many faiths and of many creeds coming from their homes in the times of happiness and in times of sorrow, recognizing that these are days fraught with difficulties, but likewise in which there has been placed a challenge that the leadership of our Commonwealth may rise up and lead us to greater victories and to finer positions of influence.

Grant Thy blessing at this session upon the Speaker of the House, upon those men and those women who shall represent their various districts, that in their own ability and under Thy guidance they may truly direct the affairs of this Commonwealth, that the thoughts and influences which radiate from this chamber may go to the far ends of our State, and thus lighten and strengthen the lives of our people.

We would be humble in this hour—humble because of Thy presence. There is greatness only as we receive greatness from Thy hand and from Thy mind. Wilt Thou look down upon us as penitent individuals. Direct our lives and our thoughts unto Thee.

We ask it in the name of God, who is all-wise, and in whose providence only can the affairs of state find justice and truth for all.

These things we ask in the name of the Great Redeemer. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. ANDREWS

RESOLUTION No. 1

In the House of Representatives, January 20, 1947.

Whereas, this House on January 30, 1945, adopted a Resolution sponsored by the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Brunner, providing for the appointment of a committee of five members of the House for the purpose of making an investigation concerning the advisability of installing an electric roll call system in this chamber, and

Whereas, a committee of five members was duly appointed and an investigation made, and

Whereas, this committee on March 13, 1945, presented a report to this House in which they favored the installation of an electric roll call system in this chamber for the following reasons:

1. That, without exception, every member or official of the legislative bodies visited approve the electrical roll call system.

2. That the states of Wisconsin and Virginia in the years 1917 and 1922, respectively, installed a cumbersome electrical roll call system which consumed about five minutes for each roll call and yet effected a great saving of time and expense. Both States have since installed the most modern systems, which can and do operate a complete roll call in as little time as 15 seconds for their 100 members.

3. That the electrical roll call system operates with absolute precision and removes any possibility of error now present in the Pennsylvania House of Representatives in the recording of an oral roll call.

4. The perforated roll call vote precludes any error by clerks in recording the vote of members in the Official Journal and the printing of said vote in the Legislative Journal.

5. Members may change their vote before the roll is closed and the result is announced instead of being required to arise in their place, await recognition by the chair and orally change their vote.

6. Members vote simultaneously instead of one at a time.

7. The unparliamentary practice of using the so-called short roll call would be completely eliminated.

8. The cost of electricity to operate the electric roll call system for a session of the House will approximate 50 cents an hour.

9. The systems observed have been operated during at least 14 regular sessions of the legislatures. The total cost of repairs or replacements did not exceed $100.00 for all states visited.

10. The voting units installed in the desks of the individual members can be replaced in as little as 6 seconds, thus assuring uninterrupted efficiency.

11. No state visited by your committee had as liberal a constitutional provision as that found in Article 11 Section 12 of the Pennsylvania Constitution, whereby any 2 members may demand a yea and nay vote on any question. This emphasizes the need for the electrical roll call system in Pennsylvania.

12. Daily sessions consume less time due to use of electric roll call system thereby permitting more time for Committee action.

13. Men can be trained quickly to operate and maintain the system. No representatives of the manufacturer are required for the system's operation after initial installation.

14. In the State of Wisconsin, which uses a roll call sheet printed in triplicate, the printing cost for 20,000 roll calls amounted to $250,000.00.

15. It is believed that instead of consuming an average of 7 minutes for each roll call in the House of Representatives, an electrical roll call system would average one minute and accomplish it more efficiently and accurately, and

Whereas, the report filed by the investigating committee was unanimously adopted by this House, and

Whereas, on May 2, 1945, the Governor of this Commonwealth signed House Bill 1170 which became Act 7A and which specifically appropriated $75,000 to the Department of Property and Supplies for the purchasing of an electric roll call system and installing it in the hall of the House of Representatives, and

Whereas, it now appears that the mandate of the General Assembly has been ignored and no electric roll call system has been installed, now therefore be it

Resolved, that the House of Representatives, through its proper officers, require the presence in this House of the Department of 'Property & Supplies' chief executive for the purpose of explaining to the membership of this House why an electric roll call system has not been installed—the Department of Property and Supplies, through its proper executive to appear and offer the explanation at such time as the Speaker of this House may direct.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

RESOLUTION

SPEECHES OF GUBERNATORIAL CANDIDATES

Mr. CHUDOFF offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, January 20, 1947.

Whereas, there seems to be much misunderstanding upon the part of the public, the press and members of the General Assembly concerning statements made by gubernatorial candidates prior to the recent election which resulted in the selection of the Honorable James H. Duff as the Governor of Pennsylvania, and

Whereas, it is essential in the interest of good government and a sound democracy that campaign pledges be kept, and

Whereas, it is obvious that members of the General Assembly, particularly members of this House who are not familiar with the pledges made, are at a disadvantage in the matter of keeping those pledges, therefore be it

Resolved that this House request the Republican State Committee and the Democratic State Committee to furnish the chairmen of all of the standing committees appointed by this House, with copies of all of the speeches made by the Honorable James H. Duff and the Honorable John S. Rice, during the period intervening between the primary on May 21 1946 and the general election on November 5, 1946, and also with copies of their respective platforms.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

The SPEAKER declared the ayes appeared to have it,

Whereupon, a division was called for, thirty-eight members voted in the affirmative and one hundred sixty-six in the negative and the resolution was not adopted.

CONDOLENCE RESOLUTIONS

Mr. DEPUY offered a resolution which was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, January 20, 1947.

The death of Gifford Pinchot, twice Governor of this Commonwealth, only three months ago brought sadness and a feeling of great loss not only to all Pennsylvanians but also to countless numbers all over the world.

His pioneering spirit in forestry—he was the first man in this country to make forestry his profession—coupled with his broad vision and capacity for work left for the United States a sound basis on which to build a lasting conservation program, now evidenced by our many National Forests, a living monument of his great work.

During a life devoted to others, he served his home town, Milford, his State, and the Nation with unstinting labors. A public servant, first, last, and always, he served on innumerable Commissions and Boards for the Commonwealth and the Nation within and beyond their borders, constantly giving of his unique skill.

As Governor of this Commonwealth, an honor twice bestowed on him, he was a wise and able leader. During his two terms encompassing periods of prosperity and depression, he guided this Commonwealth safely and sanely along its course of continual growth and achievement. Striking examples of the many progressive measures he fostered as Chief Executive were the statewide improvement of rural roads and the reorganization of State Government administration.

The impress of his example, the wide influence of his acts and writings, and the results of his sound judgment will remain a rich heritage to posterity. His integrity, his patriotism, and his devotion to public service will always stand unquestioned. Through his wise counsel and clear vision, he led the people of this Commonwealth and all those who worked with him to give him their complete confidence; therefore, be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That in the passing of Gifford Pinchot, a great figure has been removed, the Nation has suffered a great loss, this Commonwealth and the town of Milford have lost their most illustrious citizen, and the people who loved and respected him so well will sadly miss the one who gave them unbrokenly many years of faithful service and guidance, and be it further

Resolved, That the Senate and the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania reverently extend to his widow, Mrs. Cornelia Bryce Pinchot, and to his son, Gifford Bryce Pinchot, their profound regrets and that copies of this resolution be forwarded to them by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. GOODLING offered a resolution which was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, January 20, 1947.

In paying tribute to the memory of men who have served the Commonwealth, it is fitting that especial note be made of the passing of one, the greater part of whose active and useful life was devoted to the work of the General Assembly, and whose services continued until the time of his death, with unimpaired vigor and efficiency.

The Honorable Robert S. Frey (fondly known to his many friends and admirers as "Bob") served as a member of the House of Representatives from York County during the legislative sessions of 1911 and 1913. In 1921, he became a member of the staff of the Legislative Reference Bureau, of which he became Assistant Director in 1931, and Director in 1939. The heart attack which proved fatal to him was suffered in his office, while Mr. Frey was engaged in performing his duties as a State official.

Mr. Frey was born in York on April 6, 1883. He was educated in the public schools; studied law in the office of James G. Glesemer of York, and was admitted to the York County Bar in November, 1904. He did great honor to "that fast disappearing school of lawyers who are the product of the law office and not the graduate of a law school," not only in his knowledge of, and ability to apply legal principles, but as well in his wide knowledge and appreciation of the world's masters in literature, and his able use of the English language both in speech and writing.

Bob Frey was popular and well liked wherever he went. He was a church member and a member of many social and fraternal organizations, by several of which he was honored by being given their highest office. Bob Frey was kindly and genial, with a keen sense of humor and a feeling for the cares and problems of others. For his many qualities and his great worth he will always be remembered by all whose privilege it was to know him.

He was survived by his widow, Mrs. Mary W. Frey, two sons, Charles W. Frey and Robert S. Frey, Jr., three grandchildren, a sister, Mrs. Hazel S. Strayer, and a brother, Edward S. Frey; be it therefore

Resolved, (if the Senate concurs) That the General Assembly notes, with sorrow and regret, in the death of the Honorable Robert S. Frey, the loss to the Commonwealth of a capable, conscientious and faithful servant, the loss to the communities and environments in which he lived and served of an inspiring personality, and the loss to his innumerable friends and associates of a kind and helpful companion; and offers its sympathy to his bereaved widow and family; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives certify a copy of this resolution and transmit the same to Mrs. Mary W. Frey, R. D. No. 7, York, Pennsylvania.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. COSTA offered a resolution which was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, January 20, 1947.

Representative-elect, Peter J. Campbell, a well-known contractor and civic leader in his community, passed away December 11, 1946.

He was elected from the fifth Legislative District in Philadelphia. He was a former Member of the House of Representatives, serving during the 1943-1944 term.

Representative-elect Campbell was active in his business as a painting contractor for many years. His interests were diverse. He took an active part in civic and charitable organizations in his district. He was treasurer of the 48th Ward Republican Club and a member of the 48th Ward Executive Committee. He served as director of the Burton Simon Building and Loan Association and as President of the Girard Homestead Building and Loan Association. He was a founder and President of the Putty Club.

Peter J. Campbell was a good American citizen. He found his place in his community and served it well. The many who knew him will miss his helpfulness and friendliness; therefore be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, that with the death of Representative-elect Peter J. Campbell, there has passed a man who served his community, State and country well; and be it further Resolved, That in evidence of the sympathy of this House of Representatives, who have suffered a deep loss, the Chief Clerk thereof shall transmit a copy of this resolution to his family in care of his daughter, Mrs. Sarah McMenamin.

PERMISSION FOR USE OF HALL OF HOUSE GRANTED

Mr. SORG asked and obtained unanimous consent to permit the Pennsylvania State School Directors Association to meet in the Hall of the House on Thursday, February 6, 1947, from 3:00 until 5:30 p.m.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House as follows:

Mr. Speaker, one lives and learns in this deliberative body. I should have been, Mr. Speaker, a bit suspicious when there was upon the part of what I presumed was the responsible high command, an apparent agreement with the resolution offered by the gentleman from Philadelphia.

I think it was a conspiracy to keep me from the floor, because I have been prepared to debate the matter, and being assured that there was going to be no controversy, there should not be any conversation about it, and so I couldn't take the floor. Lo and behold, the little remnant of the once great delegation stood up and voted "yes" and the triumphant majority massed and voted "no".

And I am somewhat surprised because I didn't believe there would be a retreat so soon, although the evidence has been piling up from the promises of the candidates made in the campaign. I assure you, gentlemen, that if the majority party is quite content to ignore the promises made during the recent campaign that we are quite content to have you go before the people on the basis of that record.

You know and I know that events have not been coinciding with the promises that the campaign produced; and it was only out of a kindly motive, having talked with various Members of this deliberative body and particularly some of the Chairmen, and having found that they were unfamiliar with some of the addresses that had been made and released to the press, particularly the speech that was made at Montrose, that I thought it was only fitting that the speeches of the candidates be filed with the Chairmen of the Committees, that they might try to guide their course in conformity with the promises made by the candidate. But since that is not the will of the House, gentlemen, we agree with you.

They even shut off the microphone—it is a continuing conspiracy. I had intended to sit down. I will keep the floor like this and keep it going until somebody arises and moves the previous question or something.

But, gentlemen, there has been a serious aspect to the decision arrived at by this House, and I must conclude by saying that I can see no sound reason why any Chairman of a major committee of this House should not welcome the opportunity and count it an opportunity and a privilege to be in a position to re-read the many able speeches that were made by the man who tomorrow will become Governor of this Commonwealth.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cambria permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ANDREWS. I will, Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman does not pull any lawyer tricks on me.

The SPEAKER. With that understanding the gentleman will proceed.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I merely wish to ask the gentleman if he meant to insinuate that there was here tonight a violation of any agreement.

Mr. ANDREWS. Oh, no, Mr. Speaker, there was no violation of any agreement. I simply thought that the Majority Leader was the man that was in command of the army.

Mr. SORG. That is all, Mr. Speaker.

Let it be known, therefore, that there can be such things as spontaneous votes on the floor of this House.

On the substantive matter covered by the gentleman's resolution we want him to know, and we want the members of this House to know that we have no fear of any of the statements that have been made in the last year. We recognize the fact that certain statements were made. We recognize them as commitments, we assume the responsibility for them, and we propose to proceed with the program in accordance with the principles and the philosophies set forth. So far as establishing machinery here that is to make it convenient to the Chairmen of various committees, let the gentlemen also know that we have the confidence in the men who have been appointed to the chairmanship of these various committees, that they will avail themselves of the necessary information.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. TURNER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman from Cambria desires the House to be informed, it seems to me they should not do it ex-post-facto; that if he had arisen at the time the resolution was presented and had made that very eloquent plea, we might have listened and considered his arguments in favor of the resolution. But he remained silent and there immediately flashed through my mind that somebody on the other side of the House was putting something over on the gentleman from Cambria.

I took it that it was sort of a gag resolution, that if it were passed we would not be able to sit through the next three or four months and have the gentleman from Cambria regale us with our failure to keep all the pledges as he saw them, or the alleged pledges that were made during the campaign.

I didn't want to deprive him of that opportunity; I didn't want to deprive myself and the Members on this side of the House of the opportunity to hear him as only he can do it, and as only he can say it in the way that cuts like a sharp knife through all debate and through all arguments, sticking the blade and the point into the Republican party at every turn.

I am sure that we would have missed something out of this session had the resolution been passed. Then when the gentleman from Cambria got up everybody would say "That's old stuff", everybody has read that in the papers; we know all about that; and therefore we will move the previous question.

So out of protection, out of my high regard, out of my feeling for that small majority on that side of the House, because I can remember back in 1937 when we had 52 instead of the 38 or 39 that now march behind the banner of the gentleman from Cambria, that he once arose on the floor of this House and made a motion that we be allowed to hold our caucus in a telephone booth.

And so I do not want to start this session from the very beginning of it with any idea that the gentleman from Cambria was going to be tramped upon even by his own Members, and that the minority would be protected.

INAUGURAL ANNOUNCEMENTS

The SPEAKER. Members of the House will be admitted to the Capitol Building, tomorrow (Tuesday) morning through the main center entrance only and will be required to show their official badge. If you have not already received your official badge, please get it at the Chief Clerk's Office this evening after adjournment.

Members, Officers, and employees of the House are requested to come into the Hall of the House tomorrow through the rear door at the House post office.

Employees of the House will be admitted to the Capitol Building tomorrow through the rear basement door center wing. They must be in the building before 10 a.m. Tickets are required after 10 a.m. and may be obtained from Chief Clerk.

Members are requested to bring their coats and hats to their desks Tuesday morning instead of taking them to the cloak room.

The Members and Officers of the House will proceed to the Inaugural Ceremonies in a body from the Hall of the House, and will be required to show their official badge.

The families, relatives and friends of the Members of the House who have inaugural tickets will not be privileged to accompany the Members in the line of march. All persons holding such tickets must go direct to the stands.

Automobiles belonging to the Members and Officers of the House which are parked on the plaza in front of the Capitol must be removed tonight before twelve o'clock. Parking facilities have been provided for the Members in the rear of the Capitol Building. Confer with Chief Clerk about parking.

The Chair is informed this evening that the Chairman of the Inaugural Committee, the gentleman from Indiana, Mr. Hewitt, is ill. The Chair would therefore announce that at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning the House Inaugural Committee is requested to meet in the Governor's Reception Room from which place they will be escorted to the stand in front of the Capitol at the proper time.

The Chair would also like to announce that the identification cards of the Members are available in the Speaker's office. If you have not already received your official identification card as a Member of the House, if you will stop in the Speaker's Office they are available there.

The SPEAKER. Does the Majority Leader have anything further to offer?

Mr. SORG. No, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. Does the Minority Leader have anything further to offer?

Mr. ANDREWS. An inquiry, Mr. Speaker, concerning the inaugural arrangements.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his inquiry.

Mr. ANDREWS. The Chair said that the cars of Members of the House must be removed from the plaza in front of the Capitol Building by 12 o'clock tonight. Does that arrangement apply to Senators?

The SPEAKER. The Chair is very hopeful that the same rule applies to Senators, and to the best of his knowledge the entire plaza will be cleared by 12 o'clock tonight.

Mr. ANDREWS. Does the Chair have any definite information upon that point? Because I am quite certain that if there are any Senatorial cars there should be at least one or two Representative's cars.

The SPEAKER. The Chair understands, for the information of the gentleman from Cambria, that all cars will be removed. Those that are not removed from the plaza by that time will probably join the "six-dollar club".

The Chief Clerk informs the Chair that the parking accommodations in the rear of the Capitol are, of course, for Members' cars only, not for their families, relatives and guests. There is sufficient space supplied at the rear of the Capitol for the Members of the House to park their cars.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. JENNINGS. I move that this House do now adjourn until Tuesday, January 21, 1947, at 10:00 a.m.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 10:37 p.m.) the House adjourned.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. W. MURRAY YOUNG offered the following prayer:

In the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. Amen!

Let us pray: Almighty God, Father of our Lord Christ and God and Father of all mankind. We invoke Thy choicest blessing upon us in this early hour of the 1947 session of the Legislature of the Commonwealth of our illustrious State of Pennsylvania.

God sustain, counsel and inspire our Governor and his official family as they seek to work together for the common good of the citizenry of our beloved Commonwealth. Be pleased to especially bless and counsel this honorable Senate in all its deliberations.

We thank Thee heartily for the full and free benefits of Thy matchless love; for the rich heritage with which thou hast endowed us for the sacred trust thou has charged us with—may we ever be cognizant of the fact, that every high and noble privilege which is ours to enjoy carries with it corresponding responsibility. Therefore, may we, as faithful servants, seek to magnify and exalt thy holy personage. Thus giving a goodly accounting of our stewardship of all of life.

May this Senate Chamber, for the duration of this session echo and re-echo with the musical notes of unanimity, confidence and the spirit of wholesome fellowship. Endow these honorable gentlemen and servants of the most high with physical health, mental alertness, and high and noble resolve.

Sustain their loved ones, who share with them in all interests of life, both of a temporal and spiritual character.

And now, O God, may Thy Holy Spirit make himself felt so effectively in our State, our Nation, and in our World—that the waste places of earth shall bloom as the rose of Sharon; and the peoples of hill and dell shall clap their hands in joyous acclaim.

Through Jesus Christ, our Lord, we pray. Amen!

HOUSE MESSAGES

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, presented an extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

CONDOLENCES EXTENDED TO
MRS. CORNELIA BRYCE PINCHOT AND SON

In the House of Representatives, January 20, 1947.

The death of Gifford Pinchot, twice Governor of this Commonwealth, only three months ago brought sadness and a feeling of great loss not only to all Pennsylvanians but also to countless numbers all over the world.

His pioneering spirit in forestry—he was the first man in this country to make forestry his profession—coupled with his broad vision and capacity for work left for the United States a sound basis on which to build a lasting conservation program, now evidenced by our many National Forests, a living monument of his great work.

During a life devoted to others, he served his home town, Milford, his State, and the Nation with unstinting labors. A public servant, first, last, and always, he served on innumerable Commissions and Boards for the Commonwealth and the Nation within and beyond their borders, constantly giving of his unique skill.

As Governor of this Commonwealth, an honor twice bestowed on him, he was a wise and able leader. During his two terms encompassing periods of prosperity and depression, he guided this Commonwealth safely and sanely along its course of continual growth and achievement. Striking examples of the many progressive measures he fostered as Chief Executive were the statewide improvement of rural roads and the reorganization of State Government administration.

The impress of his example, the wide influence of his acts and writings, and the results of his sound judgment will remain a rich heritage to posterity. His integrity, his patriotism, and his devotion to public service will always stand unquestioned. Through his wise counsel and clear vision, he led the people of this Commonwealth and all those who worked with him to give him their complete confidence; therefore, be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur). That in the passing of Gifford Pinchot, a great figure has been removed, the Nation has suffered a great loss, this Commonwealth and the town of Milford have lost their most illustrious citizen, and the people who loved and respected him so well will sadly miss the one who gave them unbrokenly many years of faithful service and guidance, and be it further

Resolved, That the Senate and the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania reverently extend to his widow, Mrs. Cornelia Bryce Pinchot, and to his son, Gifford Bryce Pinchot, their profound regrets and that copies of this resolution be forwarded to them by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

GAVEL PRESENTED TO LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR DANIEL B. STRICKLER

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. The Chair has the happy privilege of presenting to the Lieutenant-Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania the gavel of authority of the Senate

LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR STRICKLER. Thank you very much, Senator Heyburn.

INAUGURAL ADDRESS OF LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR DANIEL B. STRICKLER

LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR DANIEL B. STRICKLER. It is indeed a great pleasure to note the presence of our United States Senator, Edward Martin, and our Governor-soon-to-be, James H. Duff, distinguished members of the Congress of the United States, state officials and guests.

Members of the Senate, it is with a deep sense of honor and appreciation of the confidence placed in me that I assume office as the Nineteenth Lieutenant Governor of Pennsylvania.

This, being the one hundred-thirty-seventh session of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth, indicates that a great many propositions of law have been enacted since that historic first session which convened in 1776. Since the beginning of the twentieth century 20,264 measures have passed for regulation of the affairs of the people and their government. The first session lasted 295 days, the session of 1945 lasted 126 days, and this session will be even shorter if I can judge properly the tenor of your desires to deliberate and act with dispatch.

Our Senators have always shown their keen interest and their loyalty, and they have demonstrated in notable ways significant aspects of Pennsylvania's development, and this is so because of the value to Pennsylvania of that constant loving touch and relation between the Senate and the citizens; it is that contact which more easily and effectively than any other can keep a body like yours abreast of the demands of the time and the state which you are to serve.

Public appreciation of the value of research, and of the discovery of new truth in law, is most encouraging in our post-war days for adjustment and progress. The magnificent achievements of the Pennsylvania Legislature, and the almost equally impressive way in which they have taken hold of the public confidence, is due to the largeness of the conception of its responsibilities and its opportunities.

Your code of Senate laws effects accuracy in business, economy of time, order, impartiality and uniformity, and it tends to provide that certainty in the law which is most necessary to make it understandable and workable.

And I join with you in expressing to Almighty God our gratefulness for His blessings of religious and civil liberty, and in invoking His divine guidance that these great and essential principles of justice and free government may be recognized and maintained, as together we go forth with fresh and untrammelled vision to meet and hail the future and to guide the destinies of our great state of Pennsylvania. Thank you.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS THE SENATE

Mr. WADE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WADE. With greetings and felicitations to our new and distinguished Presiding Officer, I rise in place and present to the Chair the following resolution and move its immediate adoption.

RESOLUTION

Hargest, President Judge of the Court of Common Pleas for the Twelfth Judicial District of Pennsylvania, Dauphin County, for his services in administering the oath of office to Honorable Daniel B. Strickler, Lieutenant-Governor elect.

REMARKS BY THE MINORITY FLOOR LEADER

Mr. DENT. Mr. President and members of the Senate, on behalf of the Democratic Minority it is the express desire of the Democratic caucus that I extend to the new Lieutenant Governor its best wishes. We hope that during your term of office we will get better acquainted, and I am sure that all the trying times that you will go through will not all emanate from this side of the Senate. We are well aware of the fact that our positions might be reversed, except for the matter of just a few hundred thousand votes.

However, we do wish you good luck and God-speed in your duties, and if along the way we can make your job a little easier I am sure we will try to do so.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair appreciates very much the fine remarks made by the Senator from Westmoreland County, Mr. Dent.

RECESS

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess until 2:30 o'clock p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I second the motion. The motion was agreed to.

Mr. FARRELL. Mr. President, I second the motion. The motion was agreed to.

CONSIDERATION OF EXECUTIVE NOMINATIONS
UNANIMOUS CONSENT UNDER RULE 38

By unanimous consent,

A motion was made by Mr. KEPHART and Mr. TALLMAN,

To grant unanimous consent to immediately consideration of the nominations just reported from the Committee on Executive Nominations, and the Senate do now resolve itself into Executive Session, for the purpose of acting upon all the nominations reported at today's session.

Which was agreed to.

Whereupon,

A motion was made by Mr. KEPHART and Mr. TALLMAN,

That the Senate do advise and consent to the nominations reported.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. WOODRING. Mr. President, I understood the Reading Clerk to read the name of Charles Chidsey for Attorney General. The name is Thomas McK. Chidsey. I think the correction should be made.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. It is so noted in the official communication.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, this afternoon we all witnessed the inauguration of a new Governor. In his statement of general policy the new Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania had this to say, and I quote from his statement:

"It is sufficient, therefore, under the circumstances, to say at this time, that our responsibility as the party in power is to do the things we said we would do if we were entrusted with the responsibility of the government at the last election."

In line with that quote, of course, the Governor of the Commonwealth has sent to the Senate a list of appointments that he considers to be important to him in order that he may carry out the responsibilities of government placed in his hands by the electorate of Pennsylvania.

However, the Constitution clearly states that a certain responsibility rests upon the Senate when such nominations are made by the Governor. The Democratic party, as represented by the minority members of the Senate, in discussing the various names presented for their consideration and advice, decided that it would be proper and just for the Democratic minority to join with the majority in the unanimous confirmation of all the Governor's cabinet members.

However, before so doing, a certain duty falls upon me to call attention to some of the activities of some of the men presented here this afternoon, in order that the people of Pennsylvania will know that, although we are in a position, due to the absence of one of the majority members at this time, to withhold confirmation of the entire cabinet, in a spirit of cooperation and in the hope that Pennsylvania will profit by having a business-like session, we are going to vote for the confirmation of each and every one of the designated cabinet members.

However, there are some things that ought to be known and ought to be cleared up, in order that those persons who are guilty in our minds of having abused their offices for partisan political purposes, will know that we know exactly what has been done.

I speak of William H. Chesnut, Secretary of Labor and Industry. Bill Chesnut and I are personal friends. During the last campaign, within the dying weeks of the campaign, it was reported to us that certain deals were made behind closed doors with certain members of organized labor. The worst thing that can happen, the most dangerous thing, the one thing that can eventually destroy this form of government that the Governor and every member of this Senate is so anxious to preserve, is when unscrupulous politicians deal with selfish labor leaders.

About three weeks before the campaign a secret deal was made whereby all contractors who came into the state of Pennsylvania to do work for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania must sign a closed shop agreement with a certain labor organization and in return for this concession on the part of the Executive Secretary of Labor and Industry a certain amount of support was thrown to the Republican Party. As now has been proven, that support was not necessary; the deal did not have to be made.

However, there is another item that Mr. Chesnut ought to be interested in as the chief executive of that particular department, and that is that when his Executive Secretary, David Williams, signed an abusive statement that was used in newspaper advertising all over the state of Pennsylvania, to destroy the character of John Rice, the Democratic candidate for Governor, Bill Chesnut was either fooled by his deputy or willingly allowed him to do it. In either case a correction should be made. I say that when a man employs labor in the state of Pennsylvania, it is his prerogative to employ that labor either as members of an organization or non-members of an organization. In beautiful Adams County, where John Rice has his little factory, where he employs upwards of a hundred men and women, he has never been approached by any agent of any labor organization to organize any of his men. David Williams went into every newspaper and in thousands and thousand of circulars, published in the industrial areas, tried to convince, and probably did convince, a great many men who work for a living that he was the employer of slave labor. I say he took advantage of his official position in government. If he wanted to do so and did so as a citizen, I would have no complaint. There are some things that go with defeat, but honor should go with victory and victory without honor is worse than defeat.

Dave Williams is a recognized labor leader, and in his day he has fought valiantly for the laboring men and women of Pennsylvania, but in recent years he has become fat and sassy upon the payroll of the government and he has lost sight of his primary duty as a laboring man and had gone out to destroy friends of labor who, time and time again, upon the floor of this Senate, have given their support against the criticism of all the people that he now supports.

I say to William Chesnut, we will confirm you for this office but when we do, we do so because Jim Duff, the Governor of Pennsylvania, has asked for your help; see to it that you select men surrounding you who know their responsibilities to every segment of the population of this state, and that he is in the Department of Labor and Industry and that he is to represent both labor and industry.

Mr. President, we come across the name of Cecil Marshall Wilhelm. In various counties throughout the state there are complaints that the State Police force of the state of Pennsylvania is too often used as an arm of the party in power, and that they are used to intimidate the men and women who are in the liquor business, and that at election time they visit these places and by inference threaten the welfare of those tax paying citizens if they do not do the things that are suggested.

I would suggest to Colonel Wilhelm that he, too, is an agent of the people of Pennsylvania, and that, of all the places it would be criminal to allow partisan politics to participate, would be in the police force of this state of Pennsylvania.

To Mr. Ray Smock, Meadville, the new Secretary of Highways, I would suggest to him that he give to the people of Pennsylvania some information on the forty-two miles of road being built from New Stanton in Westmoreland county to Little Washington in Washington county, at a reported cost of $25,000,000. We want to know why this road should cost such an exorbitant figure and, if that is actually the cost, then let us deliberate a little more before we suggest any increase in taxes upon the motorists of the state of Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, I have done my duty, I have followed the directions of my caucus. We will vote for the confirmation of these men.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—47

Becker,	Frazier,	Lord,	Tarr,
Berger,	Geltz,	Mahany,	Tyler,

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. WEISS. (Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 2.

In the House of Representatives, January 20, 1947.

The Pennsylvania International Athletic League, also referred to as the PIAA and the Western Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic League, also referred to as the WPIAL have set up rules and regulations governing the conduct of athletics in the schools which are members of their groups.

The rules and regulations of these groups, once established, are hard and fast; infractions by member schools are dealt with harshly; and discrimination against non-member schools is frequent.

There is at present a dispute between the PIAA and certain non-member schools over a PIAA rule barring competition between member schools and non-member schools whose eligibility codes are less exacting, a typical example of the way these groups operate.

The whole attitude of the PIAA and the WPIAL is autocratic, high-handed, and arbitrary. It is impossible to appeal to a decision of these groups. It is a "do it my way or else" attitude.

We in America hold out our school athletics as one of the training grounds of the citizens of our democracy. The control of our school athletics should never be in the hands of a group which is un-democratic; therefore, be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur) That the Department of Public Instruction is hereby directed to investigate and explore all matters connected with the control of school athletics by the PIAA and the WPIAL, with particular emphasis on high-handed, arbitrary, and un-democratic actions by said groups; and to submit to the General Assembly a report of its findings with recommendations for such legislation as it may deem advisable under the circumstances.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Mr. CORDIER. (Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 3.

In the House of Representatives, January 20, 1947.

Whereas, During the economic depression of the nineteen thirties it became necessary to levy and continue from year to year, temporary emergency taxes in order to carry on a program of public assistance, rendered unduly expensive by widespread unemployment; and

Whereas, Conditions have now materially changed so that the public assistance burden is considerably lessened and the need for emergency taxes should no longer exist, or should exist only to a very limited extent; and

Whereas, The recent enormous increases in Federal taxes adopted in order to raise the revenues necessary for the prosecution of the war, have made it even more imperative to examine State taxes in every possible way in order that the total tax burden does not become an impossible one for taxpayers to meet; and

Whereas, The entire system of State taxation has developed piecemeal over an extensive period of time without, at any time, being coordinated as a whole or revised in the light of modern principles of taxation; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), That a joint legislative commission is hereby created to study all phases of State taxation and revenue so as to enable it to lay before the General Assembly as soon as possible during the present session, a comprehensive picture of the fiscal affairs of the Commonwealth with a view to determining possibilities of immediate tax changes, and also the possibilities of a general revision and coordination of the State tax structure. The commission shall consist of five Senators appointed by the President Pro Tempore of the Senate, and five Members of the House of Representatives, to be appointed by the Speaker. The members of the commission shall serve without compensation, but shall be allowed their expenses incurred in the performance of their duties as such members. The commission shall have power to employ and fix the compensation of such expert and clerical assistants as it deems necessary. The report of the commission shall embody its findings and conclusions together with its recommendations and such drafts of legislation as it shall deem necessary; and be it further

Resolved, That said special commission shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman, requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before them and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the Commission, and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the commission may deem necessary. Such subpoena may be served upon any person and shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of the courts of this Commonwealth. Each member of said commission shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the commission. Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to testify before said commission, or to produce any books, papers, records or documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases; and be it further

Resolved, That the General Assembly hereby declares its purpose forthwith to enact suitable legislation more fully to effectuate this resolution, and to appropriate for the use of the commission created hereby, the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) or such other amount as may be approved.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

JAMES C. BELL, Jr.

INAUGURAL ADDRESS OF GOVERNOR JAMES H. DUFF—TUESDAY, JANUARY 21, 1947, HARRISBURG, PENNSYLVANIA

As we begin the first Administration in Pennsylvania after the war, we are met at the threshold by a variety of serious social, political and economic problems. While several of these problems are peculiar to Pennsylvania, for the most part they are problems common to the American community of States. Some are problems accumulated and undisposed of before the war, others owe their derivation to the war itself. But irrespective of their time or cause of origin they are here now confronting us. They demand solution by all America because they have become interwoven into the fibre and fabric of our whole American way of life.

Superficially our domestic situation may not appear unusual. But whatever the appearance we can no longer be unaware that we are living in a tremendously revolutionary period—a period when even a small blaze of discontent has the potential of flaming into a conflagration of discord. Surely we realize too that of all the great powers of the world, we alone in the United States have not succumbed to one or another of the various types of collectivism that now infect the world.

Even in the British Isles where, since time immemorial a man's house was his castle, the ancient landmarks have been moved and the ancient boundaries have been broken.

It is clear, therefore, whatever our own appraisal of our American way of life, that we can no longer assume that it is safe or that it stands unchallenged in the world of today.

We have established here in the United States a form of government and a way of life that have assured and guaranteed civil and religious liberty, freedom of the press, and the dignity of the human personality, and have brought more benefits and more blessings to more people in all walks of life, both materially and spiritually, than any other government and any other way of life in the whole history of civilization.

Let us not assume, however, in this time of trouble that other peoples and other governments are willing to concede that our form of government and our way of life is the best.

In Russia, France, Germany, England and Italy and other far-flung corners of the world, those in authority proclaim that the systems of government and the ways of life they have adopted are superior to ours.

They vigorously make these claims and have persuaded many in our own land they are right even though at the same time the representatives of those governments and those peoples keep coming to the United States to borrow vast sums of money from our government to make their governments work; and to find food, clothing, implements and machinery among our people to supplement what they have been unable to do for themselves in their own lands.

Our way of life is fighting a battle of survival. The area of the world where those who believe as we do is constantly becoming smaller. During the war many of the peoples and governments with a contrary way of life to ours were ranged with us in a battle against common enemies. Today the forces of the world are tending to realign themselves on a different basis. In this realignment our aloneness in the belief of the way of life that is best for our people becomes more definite almost with every passing day.

In this rapidly changing and revolutionary world, it is imperative that we in America put our house completely in order.

To do this we must sincerely and searchingly examine and define those situations in our social, political and economic structure where experience proves we have been unfair or unjust or where changes are indicated for the common benefit. Then promptly and resolutely we must make such changes and betterments—whoever is affected—as we are sure will be for the common benefit and strength of us all.

We are faced by a great challenge. Either we can correct such evils as have crept into our system, or run the risk of losing everything that has been built up so successfully and so laboriously and at such great sacrifice and loss of blood and treasure in this fair land.

In appraising what needs change and correction in Pennsylvania and in America, we must constantly keep in mind that in addition to the strains and losses of the war we have been through a period of falsely stimulated prosperity which resulted in lush and undisciplined living on a scale never before known in America. It has been a time of enormous industrial activity caused by the vast production and the vast destruction of war. Constant pressure for more and more goods and material, regardless of cost, gave the nation what many mistook for sound prosperity.

The reality is, however, as shown by sober reckoning, that we have suffered the most unprecedented loss of natural resources in all our history. At the same time we have accumulated the most gigantic debt of any nation in all the course of civilization.

It is sobering to reflect that a time when we have so extravagantly depleted the stock pile of our natural resources, to which Pennsylvania has more than made her proportion of contribution, we are confronted by a national debt, the yearly interest of which is greater than the total cost of all charges for operation of the National government in any peace year before we began to prepare for the war. Such an extraordinary combination of events coupled with great inflation could naturally be expected, in due course, to affect fundamentally the social, political and economic life of every one of us. And so it has.

Veterans

To begin to plan for a better and stronger Pennsylvania and America our first concern must be for the Veterans. Had it not been for their service and their sacrifice during the war it would not have been possible for us to now make plans for the future. Our obligation to the Veteran is, first of all, to do everything within our power for the needy families of those who by reason of their supreme sacrifice will not return—those families which were dependent for support upon the Veterans who lost their lives in the service.

As to those Veterans who have returned with such physical or mental incapacity that they can no longer assume the stations in our life that they would have been able to assume had they not been so incapacitated, we owe the obligation of doing everything within our power and within our means to make up, as near as is humanly possible, the loss and difference between what they could have done uninjured and what they will be able to do as the result of the sacrifice they made in the service of their country.

As to the great body of Veterans who have returned home sound both mentally and physically, it should not be our purpose to endeavor to set them apart as a separate or preferred part of the community. They would not desire it so and certainly that would not be in the American tradition. It should be our constant obligation and interest to do for them everything that can be done to restore their situations in every day life to the same status they would have enjoyed had their lives not been interrupted by their service for their country.

The Republican party has promised, and will adhere to its pledge, to give the Veterans a fair and liberal bonus. The terms and conditions of the bonus, in the final analysis, should be suggested by the Veterans themselves after the most careful and patriotic deliberation.

Health and Welfare

Public health and welfare have become a matter of supreme importance in this post-war period. Selective Service reports indicate that four out of every ten Americans examined for selective service were rejected on account of physical or mental ailments. In Pennsylvania the result of medical examinations now being made of children of school age discloses that approximately eight out of every ten children examined are afflicted by ailments that require medical attention. In a country removed less than 300 years from the hardy days of the pioneers, who with rude implements conquered a Continent, we have suffered an appalling deterioration of public health. The future welfare of the state and the nation demand that public health be increasingly a matter of public concern.

It is imperative therefore that we carry vigorously forward in Pennsylvania a public health program on whatever scale is necessary to correct the physical deterioration of our people as disclosed by recent tests and examinations. This program, of necessity, must also embrace mental health, including the construction of such additional hospitals and facilities and expansion of personnel as the exigencies of our various situations demand.

Agriculture

The welfare of the farmers of Pennsylvania is vital to the welfare of all the people in the Commonwealth. Recent food scarcities have awakened our cities to the fact that they are not self sufficient; that they cannot get along without the aid of rural Pennsylvania and rural America. We are challenged for ways of becoming more skilled in making our farm resources more productive and more profitable. The success of industrial research points the way for stepping up farm research and obtaining increased farm productivity. We need largely increased appropriations by the Commonwealth for research and experiment. The duty of the Commonwealth is to help the farmers to help themselves. They are certainly as adept as any group in our population of being able to do so.

In addition to increased research the Commonwealth should aid in facilitating the extension of rural electrification, telephone and other public services; aid in the provision for rural recreational areas; assure equality of basic educational opportunities in both city and county; provide for diagnostic health centers in rural areas, as well as the extension of the farm-to-market highways on a regular biennial basis. It will be my purpose to work in the closest sympathy, harmony and cooperation with the splendid men who are the farm leaders in the Commonwealth.

Education

Next to the Church and the home the schools are the greatest influence in the development of personality and character. Therefore we must take whatever steps are necessary in Pennsylvania to provide youth with properly qualified and prepared teachers, and adequately compensated teachers. We must have a program in Pennsylvania for education that provides equality of basic educational opportunity for every child in Pennsylvania, irrespective of the character of the community in which the child lives; also a formula that places those in education on the basis to which they are entitled to be placed by reason of ability, training and effort.

At a time when the strong tendency in the world is to restrict the rights and liberties of the individual, and to extend and expand the authority of government into the superstate, it is more imperative than ever that we have enlightened public opinion. Without such opinion America cannot maintain her way of life. Such opinion is not possible without education.

Today education is in a crisis in America. We must solve that crisis. One of the chief factors in that solution is adequate financial support for our educational system.

Highways

Few people realize that Pennsylvania has in excess of 86 thousand miles of highways; almost enough to go around the earth three and a half times. This immense highway mileage emphasizes not only how important our highways are, but also how important it is that we prepare to deal with them frankly on the basis of common sense, considering the magnitude of the problem.

War conditions, changing traffic requirements and a variety of other contributing causes have resulted in a number of badly needed improvements beyond the realization of those who have not examined the overall picture.

If a fair and equitable distribution of highway funds is to be made, that program must be set up on the basis of need in every part of the state. Such a program must be made in accordance with a thoroughly prepared plan and projection for the whole highway system. A plan of that kind is about completed for Pennsylvania.

Labor and Industry

The citizens of Pennsylvania, as well as those of every other part of America must face with courage and act with intelligence and decision in dealing with the plague of industrial unrest that has affected the entire nation. It cannot be denied that unrestrained labor warfare has brought untold suffering and incalculable loss to the American people. It has destroyed economic security, undermined governmental authority, and by restricting production is sowing the seeds that will ripen into unrestrained inflation. A free people should not permit organized labor to dictate to management or regulate management, nor should management be allowed to dictate to labor or regulate labor organizations.

Surely there is enough experience, foresight and wisdom among the top leaders of industry, management, business and organized labor to provide and establish a labor-management plan or program which will eliminate or greatly reduce the terrible costs of the labor turmoil that has affected the nation.

Any plan to secure the right results between capital and labor must be based upon the concepts of right dealing and sincere dealing not only between management and labor but with the public as well. It will be my purpose to add the full and vigorous support of this administration to the creation and adoption by management and labor of any program which will protect the rights of all our people, management, labor and the public, and thereby establish and maintain peace in industry.

Juvenile Delinquency

In juvenile delinquency we have been looking at the back end of the whole problem. Instead of thinking constantly in terms of bigger and better reform schools and greater security prisons, we must begin to think in terms of bigger and better appropriations for recreational facilities for the youth in congested areas. In such places they may have opportunity to work off a lot of excess energy instead of having it directed into irregular channels for want of decent opportunities for fun and exercise.

Stream Clearance

Freeing our streams from pollution is among the number one health problems of Pennsylvania. Eight out of every ten residents of Pennsylvania have as their only source of water supply for domestic use water from streams that are reeking with filth and stinking from sewage and other waste materials. It is imperative that the program already begun for the clearance of our streams from pollution be steadily and vigorously carried forward to completion.

Conservation

Associated with the cleaning of the streams from pollution should be the building of head-water dams in our streams. These dams will not only conserve and save supplies of water in wet seasons, to be available later for summer fishing and recreation, but they will also serve as a valuable aid to flood control and as a protection against flash floods.

An overall greatly expanded program of conservation, including reforestation and the enlargement and betterment of fishing and hunting opportunities, is greatly and vitally in the interest of all our people.

General Policy

In the brief period allotted for this presentation it is not possible to discuss many of the subjects that demand urgent attention nor to take up in sufficient detail the subjects briefly outlined. The full discussion of all those problems, including the all important one of greatly increased revenues, necessarily remains for detailed presentation to the General Assembly.

It is sufficient, therefore, under the circumstances, to say at this time, that our responsibility as the party in power is to do the things we said we would do if we were entrusted with the responsibility of the government at the last election. The Pennsylvania Republican platform is on the whole clear, specific and forward looking. Our party performance must be in complete fulfillment of those platform pledges.

The party victory at the November election was a great victory. Consequently our majorities in both houses of the General Assembly are unusually large. But we cannot afford either as a party or as a responsible government to take undue advantage of our majorities. We received no mandate in the election to that effect. What we did receive was a mandate to accept the responsibility of solving the serious problems of our time. To do so effectively we cannot be governed by a spirit of narrow partisanship.

We are in a critical period, a period fraught with the greatest consequences for evil in the future, if not wisely employed. In recognition of the great responsibility upon all of us in this critical period we invite the members of the opposition to work constructively with us in the solution of the vastly important and difficult problems that must be solved in Pennsylvania and in the nation in the months immediately ahead.

The crisis now facing our Commonwealth and our country is a challenge to every Pennsylvanian and every American. Surely we must now realize that in the difficult period of readjustment following the end of the war there is a tremendous job to be done. In doing it we must be certain, above all else, that it is done in the American way.

Let us be sure that in working out the plans for our tomorrow that we go forward together on a common road as Pennsylvanians and as Americans; without intolerance or bigotry, and without class or racial hatred. Finally, let what is done be done within the framework, after the methods, and in the spirit that have made America the most wonderful place in the whole world.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2, entitled:

An Act making a deficiency appropriation to the Department of Public Assistance and providing for certain allocations therefrom for the purpose of carrying out the Public Assistance Law for the two fiscal years beginning June first, one thousand nine hundred forty-five, and for the payment of assistance and expenses accrued or incurred prior to and remaining unpaid on May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred forty-five.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, there are some things that I believe should be said about this measure, and with your indulgence and the indulgence of the House I will speak on second reading and discuss the bill now.

The SPEAKER. If there are no objections the gentlemen will be allowed to discuss this bill on second reading. The Chair hears no objection. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, we are once again proceeding with a pistol at our heads. We have a measure that is subject to amendment, that is on a time schedule, and that we cannot question. Moreover, it is a measure concerning which we have an absolute lack of information.

The Department asks for a $23,400,000. If the Department had asked it for $13,400,000 we would have legislated that way. If the Department had asked it for $33,400,000, we would have put in a bill for $33,400,000. We are in no position to question it.

Now, Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the Majority Leader, the gentleman from Elk County, Mr. Sorg.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Elk permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SORG. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, according to the 1945-1947 budget what was the difference between the estimated revenues and the expenditures, that were suggested, approximately as the Majority Leader remembers.

Mr. SORG. Approximately $1,000,000, according to my recollection, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. I did not hear the gentleman, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, approximately $1,000,000.

Mr. ANDREWS. In other words the administration estimated that on the basis of its proposed expenditures there would be $1,000,000 over and above the amount necessary to carry out the program?

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman please make his question a little more specific?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, what was the estimated income under the 1945-1947 budget?

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I would ask that the gentleman indicate whether he means to include all the special funds.

Mr. ANDREWS. General funds, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, $404,650,000.

Mr. ANDREWS. What was the total of the expenditures suggested?

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, $513,836,904.50.

Mr. ANDREWS. Then I would like to ask the gentleman where the $23,400,000 that we propose to pass here comes from.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, there is now in the general fund the sum of approximately $60,000,000. The $23,400,000 is available from that if this body sees fit to make this appropriation. The decrease in the general fund will be quickened if necessary by a $23,800,000 of profits from the operation of the liquor stores.

Mr. ANDREWS. One further question, Mr. Speaker. Was the $23,400,000 that the gentleman talks about indicated at any time in the budget submitted to this House?

Mr. SORG. Not to my knowledge, Mr. Speaker, it was not.

Mr. ANDREWS. I thank the gentleman.

Now, Mr. Speaker, we find that in some mysterious manner, concerning which this House has not been informed up to this time, there was riding along in the Liquor Store profits $23,400,000 that we knew nothing about. That was there when we were worrying in the last session about money for schools; that was there when we were worrying in the last session about where to get money for relief. Now at this particular time along comes $23,400,000 and I would like to ask the Majority Leader, if he takes the floor at all, to tell us whether there are any other mysterious cases of ready cash that can be drawn upon that have not been revealed to this House, whether there aren't additional sums owing from the Liquor Control Board, particularly $9,000,000 in emergency taxes that should be in the State Treasury that are not there now.

I would also like to ask him whether this is the first or just the beginning of a series of deficiency appropriations which are likely to jolt us considerably in excess of $23,400,000.

Now, Mr. Speaker, on Wednesday, February 27, 1946 the Democratic State Committee sponsored a statement in which it said that the deficiency in the Relief Appropriation would exceed $21,500,000 provided there was no increase in the relief rolls, and that if there were an increase in the relief rolls that the deficiency would exceed $23,000,000. The statement was made on February 27, 1946. The Department promptly issued a statement saying that the figures were cockeyed, that we did not know what we were talking about, and that there was sufficient money in the fund to see the Department through for the biennium.

Then on March 22, 1946 I issued a statement saying that I personally wanted to state that the deficiency at the end of the biennium would exceed $21,000,000 and that I wanted to go on record to that effect, and again the Department said that our figures were cockeyed.

Now, Mr. Speaker, the presumption is that if we pass this appropriation we are approving without any protest whatsoever the policies of the Department of Public Assistance. That Department has been under fire because of some of these policies. The Governor of the Commonwealth has intimated that he was going to make some inquiry as to whether some of the procedure may have been in error. Do we raise that question in this bill? Do we have any recommendation as to procedure? Are there any strings tied to the $23,400,000? There are not. This bill as it stands is an approval of all the methods employed and all of the policies adhered to by the Department of Public Assistance.

Now, Mr. Speaker, get what that means. I want to cite just one or two examples. Here is an actual case, a widow. She receives $65 social security. The children at home make enough money to raise the income of the family to $237 a month, exclusive of the auxiliary grant. That woman is getting an auxiliary grant of Public Assistance of $40.

Here is a man—he may have but one foot. He is fifty-one years old. He can work when he wants to. He doesn't work. His family gets $120 a month Public Assistance.

The policy of the Department is to make out a budget on the basis of family requirements in which everything that the family should have is listed, and then there is the actual allowance. Then if the family has an income you don't subtract the income from the allowance; you subtract the income from the requirements, and so there are many families that are receiving fifty and sixty dollars a month in what they call auxiliary income, and under the policy pursued, any Member of the House who had to live on his salary as a Member of this House and who had three children could get an auxiliary allowance to support himself.

If the people of this Commonwealth knew how easy it was, if they had any idea as to the possibilities under the policy of the auxiliary allowance, the deficit in the relief fund would not have totaled the sum of $23,400,000; it would have been in the neighborhood of 60 million dollars or more.

I could go on and cite individual cases of where persons on relief are receiving outrageous incomes, and I am only bringing this up for this reason, that intelligent procedure would have attached some string to this emergency grant. If the policies of the Relief Department are sound then we should give them the emergency appropriation and no questions. If the Department is off the beam, we have no business granting them a certificate of character, handing them $23,400,000 and saying, "Proceed with your procedure, we like it, fine."

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the Minority Floor Leader, the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cambria permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ANDREWS. I will, Mr. Speaker, but no lawyer's tricks.

The SPEAKER. Under those conditions the gentleman will proceed.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I should like to ask the gentleman whether he approves or disapproves the policies of the Department of Public Assistance.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I disapprove some of the policies.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I should like to ask the gentleman whether he insists that there is mystery in the source of the funds that are available for relief.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I have been a Member of this House for some time and when I have not been a Member, I have tried to observe the procedure. I knew from information from the Auditor General's Department, that there were funds which the Liquor Board was carrying along which had not been made generally available, but I never heard them mentioned on the floor of this House, and I never saw them appear in any budget.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I desire to further ask the gentleman if he would indicate any specific instance of any specific policy of which he disapproves in the Department of Public Assistance.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, the policy of making a schedule of requirements and then subtracting the income of the family from the requirements instead of from the allowance which they make.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, do I understand the gentleman to say that there is a difference between the requirement and the allowance?

Mr. ANDREWS. The requirement lists all the things that are supposed to represent the American standard of living—all of the things, hair oil, if you need hair oil, a cough medicine, if you need cough medicine, shampoo if you need shampoo, because shampoo helps you to maintain your pride and appear confident before the world. The requirements are such things as the family ought to have, and the allowance is what the fund at the disposal of the relief organization will permit them to give. So I say, and I argue, and I maintain that the income which the family has should be subtracted from the allowance and not from the schedule of requirement.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman mean that the family should receive less or more?

Mr. ANDREWS. That means, Mr. Speaker, in those particular cases where the auxiliary allowance is made, that it should be less.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, is the gentleman prepared to state whether there should be a difference in the standard of allowances for state purposes and for federal purposes?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, the amount distributed is governed by the appropriations. If this Legislature desires to establish certain standard, well and good. If the Legislature by making the appropriation is establishing a standard, those are limits within which the Department should confine itself.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman state whether there is any difference in the minimum standard of requirements as set forth by the federal government and by the state government?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I am not familiar with the federal standard.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman insist upon his statement that by adopting this deficiency appropriation measure we do so with no strings attached?

Mr. ANDREWS. My interpretation of this measure, Mr. Speaker, this House Bill No. 2, is that it is a blanket approval of all the policies and of all the procedures which the Department has practiced.

Mr. SORG. I thank the gentleman, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, there is some difference of opinion as to whether the adoption of the deficiency appropriation measure is a definite stamp of approval or whether it is done without strings attached, because this particular measure is intended to operate, or to provide funds only for the remainder of this biennium, during the major part of which I presume this Legislature will be in session. The Department of Public Assistance will be available at all times to questions any Members may see fit to ask.

I believe that the gentleman is somewhat paradoxical in his statement when he says that we would be putting the stamp of approval on the operations of a particular department and then condemns the statement of the present Governor when he proposes to look into the policies that will be followed.

There is no mystery in the source of income for this particular measure. Fortunately we do have now in the General Fund immediately available cash sufficient for the purpose. We are running along according to the schedule that was severely criticized by the gentleman in the last session of the Legislature. I am happy to be here and able to report that when we do come and ask for a supplement to give us what we need to take care of the unimaginable things that we did not expect there are funds available.

I also want to advise the gentleman that we hope this is not a series of deficiency appropriations; we will not expect that such procedure shall be necessary in the future, but we desire also to inform the gentleman that the money is there available, if necessary.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the Majority Leader just one more question. Is the Majority Leader prepared to assure this House that the budget now in process of preparation does not contain more such deficiency appropriations?

Mr. SORG. I am not prepared to make that statement, Mr. Speaker.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

It was agreed to.

The second and third sections and title were separately read and agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEE TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. WATKINS asked and obtained permission for the Committee on State Government to meet during the session of the House.

CONDOLENCE RESOLUTION

Mr. TURNER offered a resolution which was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, January 21, 1947.

Honorable A. Alfred Wasserman, general counsel for the Joint State Government Commission, passed away November 30, 1946, after a short illness.

His death brought to a close a distinguished career in governmental, legal, political and fraternal affairs.

He was a veteran of World War I, having enlisted in the United States Army. He attended Temple University and graduated from Temple Law School. He was admitted to the bar in 1923, and was an active member of the Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, and American Bar Associations.

He was a former Member of the House of Representatives, serving from 1933 to 1937 after his election from the 23rd legislative district in Philadelphia.

In 1939, Mr. Wasserman was appointed director of the Joint State Government Commission. During his association with the commission, it made a number of reports to the General Assembly on the administration of State government, the tax structure of Pennsylvania, public assistance, and unemployment compensation. From 1943 until his death he served as general counsel for the commission.

He served as counsel for the Republican State Committee, and was always active in the affairs of the Republican party. As general counsel and a member of the Board of Directors of the Medical Service Association of Pennsylvania, he fostered pre-payment medical service plans.

Mr. Wasserman was a member of the Hiram Lodge No. 81, Masonic Order, and a member of the F. D. & I. S., Clair Post No. 37, American Legion of Philadelphia.

The community and State which he served so well have suffered a great loss. Those close to him and those who knew him well may be solaced in part by their good fortune to have had so much of his pleasant association, his helpfulness, and his guiding wisdom; therefore, be it

Resolved, by the House of Representatives that in the passing of Honorable A. Alfred Wasserman, his community and State have lost an outstanding citizen and the interests he served so well and so long have been deprived of his help and assistance, and that his friendship and manner will be long missed; and be it further

Resolved, That in evidence of the deep sympathy of this House of Representatives, the Chief Clerk thereof, shall transmit a copy of this resolution to his widow, Esther B. Wasserman.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. McMILLEN. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Indiana will state his parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. McMILLEN. Mr. Speaker, I have been wondering if the Speaker might inform the other Members of the House where we could rent a good-looking suit for the Inaugural Bill this evening, something like the Speaker is wearing?

The SPEAKER. The Chair would refer the gentleman to his colleague from Wyoming County who I understand has a number of suits available on numerous occasions to rent out.

Mr. McMILLEN. We thank the Speaker.

The SPEAKER. That is not a commercial plug for the gentleman from Wyoming.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

SENATE

WEDNESDAY, January 22, 1947

The Senate met at 11:00 o'clock a. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Daniel B. Strickler) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. W. MURRAY YOUNG, offered the following prayer:

In the Name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. Let us pray:

Almighty God, Father of Infinite Mercy, we wait in this sacred stillness with urgent breath as we pray for the President of these United States, his Cabinet; and Congress, now in Session. We also bear upon our lips a prayer for the Governor of this Commonwealth, and for the Presiding Officer of this Senate of our beloved State; and for all other members of this august body, that each succeeding day they may have Thy unerring guidance. Bless all officers and employees of the state with glad and untroubled hearts. Be with all members of the official body who may be ill; and bring them, speedily, to health.

Hear us for this ageless world with its mutilated hopes and human misery, its suspicion and intrigue, its false ideologies and demigods we beseech Thee, help us to be its good friend by lifting the fogs of human slavery and stark subversion of freedom suffered by countless innocent peoples of the earth.

Let religion and civic liberty become coextensive with man everywhere. O God of Love, let peace and happiness stand as a vestal virgin upon all our thresholds, of home, state and nation. Bring in the glad day of thy holy purpose, in the hearts of men everywhere. And counsel us with Thy Holy Spirit of integrity, patriotism, and a high sense of devotion to our common cause. In Thy most Holy Name we pray. Amen!

RESOLUTION No. 5.

In the House of Representatives, January 21, 1947.

Whereas, World War II caused a great influx of people to the metropolitan area of the City of Harrisburg causing an acute housing shortage in said area, and

Whereas, Said war also caused a cessation of new construction for housing which served to magnify such a housing shortage, and

Whereas, Because of these conditions it has been difficult, if not impossible, for the Members of the House of Representatives to obtain temporary living quarters in hotels, apartment houses or private homes during their sojourn in said city while performing their duties as members of the legislative branch of the Government of Pennsylvania, and

Whereas, In order to devote their full-time and attention to their duties as Members of the House of Rep-representatives, it is necessary for such members to obtain temporary housing facilities, therefore be it

Resolved, That the Speaker of the House of Representatives appoint a committee of five Members of the House of Representatives to investigate such housing shortage and to determine ways and means of finding suitable temporary housing accommodations for the members.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Mr. WEISS. (Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 6.

In the House of Representatives, January 20, 1947.

The men and women who served in the armed forces of the United States or in women's organizations officially connected therewith not only have defeated the enemy, but also as individuals have sacrificed years of their lives in the services of their country.

Those fortunate enough to return from the service are faced with serious economic problems beyond the ordinary difficulties complicating the average citizen's daily life. They need and deserve every bit of aid their country can afford to give them.

Certain veterans have considered organizing public utilities to render taxi or common carrier services in various sections of this Commonwealth. In many cases, their efforts have failed to materialize because of the refusal of the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission to grant the certificate of public convenience, license, or permit necessary to lawful conduct of such a business; therefore, be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concurs) That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby urges the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission to give every possible consideration to applications made by bona fide veterans of the armed services of the United States for certificates of public convenience, license, or permit; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted by the Chief Clerk of the House to the Chairman of the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission who shall cause its contents to be made known to the members of the commission and to those employees of the commission who exercise any discretion with respect to the issuance or refusal of certificates of convenience, licenses, or permits.

Referred to the Committee on Public Utilities.

By Messrs. STUART and FLEMING.

SENATE MESSAGE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the resolution from the House of Representatives as follows, viz:

In the House of Representatives, January 20, 1947.

The death of Gifford Pinchot, twice Governor of this Commonwealth, only three months ago brought sadness and a feeling of great loss not only to all Pennsylvanians but also to countless numbers all over the world.

His pioneering spirit in forestry—he was the first man in this country to make forestry his profession—coupled with his broad vision and capacity for work left for the United States a sound basis on which to build a lasting conservation program, now evidenced by our many National Forests, a living monument of his great work.

During a life devoted to others, he served his home town, Milford, his State, and the Nation with unstinting labors. A public servant, first, last, and always, he served on innumerable Commissions and Boards for the Commonwealth and the Nation within and beyond their borders, constantly giving of his unique skill.

As Governor of this Commonwealth, an honor twice bestowed on him, he was a wise and able leader. During his two terms encompassing periods of prosperity and depression, he guided this commonwealth safely and sanely along its course of continual growth and achievement. Striking examples of the many progressive measures he fostered as Chief Executive were the statewide improvement of rural roads and the reorganization of State Government administration.

The impress of his example, the wide influence of his acts and writings, and the results of his sound judgment will remain a rich heritage to posterity. His integrity, his patriotism, and his devotion to public service will always stand unquestioned. Through his wise counsel and clear vision, he led the people of this Commonwealth and all those who worked with him to give him their complete confidence; therefore, be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That in the passing of Gifford Pinchot, a great figure has been removed, the Nation has suffered a great loss, this Commonwealth and the town of Milford have lost their most illustrious citizen, and the people who loved and respected him so well will sadly miss the one who gave them an unbrokenly many years of faithful service and guidance, and be it further

Resolved, That the Senate and the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania reverently extend to his widow, Mrs. Cornelia Bryce Pinchot, and to his son, Gifford Bryce Pinchot, their profound regrets and that copies of this resolution be forwarded to them by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the resolution from the House of Representatives as follows, viz:

In the House of Representatives, January 20, 1947.

In paying tribute to the memory of men who have served the Commonwealth, it is fitting that especial note be made of the passing of one, the greater part of whose active and useful life was devoted to the work of the General Assembly, and whose services continued until the time of his death, with unimpaired vigor and efficiency.

The Honorable Robert S. Frey (fondly known to his many friends and admirers as "Bob") served as a member of the House of Representatives from York County during the legislative sessions of 1911 and 1913. In 1921, he became a member of the staff of the Legislative Reference Bureau, of which he became Assistant Director in 1931, and Director in 1939. The heart attack which proved fatal to him was suffered in his office, while Mr. Frey was engaged in performing his duties as a State Official.

Mr. Frey was born in York on April 6th, 1883. He was educated in the public schools; studied law in the office of James G. Glessner of York, and was admitted to the York County Bar in November, 1904. He did great honor to "that fast disappearing school of lawyers who are the product of the law office and not the graduates of a law school," not only in his knowledge of, and ability to apply legal principles, but as well in his wide knowledge and appreciation of the world's masters in literature, and his able use of the English language both in speech and writing.

Bob Frey was popular and well liked wherever he went. He was a church member and a member of many social and fraternal organizations, by several of which he was honored by being given their highest offices. Bob Frey was kindly and genial, with a keep sense of humor and a feeling for the cares and problems of others. For his many qualities and his great worth he will always be remembered by all whose privilege it was to know him.

He was survived by his widow, Mrs. Mary W. Frey, two sons, Charles W. Frey and Robert S. Frey, Jr., three grandchildren, a sister, Mrs. Hazel S. Strayer, and a brother, Edward S. Frey; be it therefore

Resolved (if the Senate Concurs), That the General Assembly notes, with sorrow and regret, in the death of the Honorable Robert S. Frey, the loss to the Commonwealth of a capable, conscientious and faithful servant, the loss to the communities and environments in which he lived and served of an inspiring personality, and the loss of his innumerable friends and associates of a kind and helpful companion; and offers its sympathy to his bereaved widow and family; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives certify a copy of this resolution and transmit the same to Mrs. Mary W. Frey, R. D. No. 7, York, Pennsylvania.

The Senate met at 4:00 o'clock p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Daniel B. Strickler) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. W. MURRAY YOUNG offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, our help in ages past and our hope for years to come, we pause to offer Thee our praise and gratitude. Grant that our spirits may chant a silent and humble refrain in memory of Thy love and mercy. Let Thy Holy Presence come to every breast and bestow blessings of peace. Graciously remember our firesides and the loved ones of our home circles; may they be kept very near and dear to Thy heart, O Lord God, Our Father! Be pleased, we pray Thee, to bear with our spiritual and moral infirmities, fortify us against further error, and make us strong, wise, and urgent men, and law-makers for today. When the way becomes uncertain and confused, do Thou show forth the light of Thy eternal wisdom. Without fear or hesitation, may our devotion to the public good be without stint or reservation. Sustain this senatorial body with the counsel of the Lord. In His Holy Name we pray. Amen.

COMMUNICATIONS

The Chair cleared his table and laid before the Senate the following communication from the Pennsylvania Federation of Fraternal and Social Organizations, The State Federation of Clubs, dated January 21, 1947:

PENNSYLVANIA FEDERATION OF FRATERNAL AND SOCIAL ORGANIZATIONS, THE STATE FEDERATION OF CLUBS

Executive Secretary, January 21, 1947

The Senate of Pennsylvania,
Harrisburg, Penna.

Dear Sirs:

I enclose herewith a copy of a resolution adopted by the Pennsylvania Federation of Fraternal and Social Organizations at its annual convention held in May, 1946.

Very truly yours,
Carl A. Cassone

enc.

Whereas the Yale School of Alcoholic Studies and many other scientific study groups have demonstrated that alcoholism has its roots in mental and personality factors in men and women and that the treatment of alcoholics is properly from a medical approach.

And whereas it is becoming widely realized that the problem of the alcoholic is as equally a responsibility of the public as is the problem of the other mental and personality disturbances, so much so that numerous state legislatures have adopted legislation setting up studies and clinics on the subject.

Now in 1946 convention assembled, the Pennsylvania Federation of Fraternal and Social Organizations representing over 1,500,000 adult members throughout the state, a substantial if not majority portion of the adult members of the public of that state, do hereby subscribe to the scientific truths above mentioned, and to the proposition that the subject of alcoholism is a proper matter for the consideration of the government and legislature of the State of Pennsylvania.

Wherefore we direct the appointment of a committee of the Federation to make study of the means of implementing this view, of the manner in which clubs and club groups can actively advance the work of these scientific groups and the manner in which attention to this matter can best be brought before the public, the legislature and the governing bodies of the State through the appropriate committees of the Federation.

We direct that copies of this resolution be sent to the Governor of Pennsylvania, the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board, the Candidates for Governor of said state, the secretaries of the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Pennsylvania, and otherwise disseminated among the public, the clubs and the candidates for Assembly of Pennsylvania.

Further we decry the statements of both the extreme wets and the extreme dries that such scientific studies are "dry" propaganda or "wet" propoganda. We call upon sincere people to view this subject with a dispassionate and unemotional attitude not based upon pre-conception or wishfulness, so that the alcoholic may be viewed not as a subject of public scorn, but from the humanitarian viewpoint that he is an ill person for whom there is both the certainty of cure and the certainty of rehabilitation.

Attest:

Carl A. Cassone
Executive Secretary, Pennsylvania Federation of Fraternal and Social Organizations

Dated:
May 4th, 1946

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. JASPAN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President and members of the Senate, the time and opportunity calls for the lodging of a serious and strong protest against the conduct and activities of a body performing legislative functions. Delay in making this protest on behalf of thousands of our citizens simply would aggravate an already dangerous situation and problem. Complaint after complaint has been filed with the Public Utility Commission to services rendered by the utilities, especially in Philadelphia; objections filed as to exorbitant rates, but invariably the plea falls upon deaf ears.

During the past year the Philadelphia Electric Co. earned more money than ever in its history and far above its allowable return. Notwithstanding the P. U. C. has failed to order a reduction.

With respect to the Philadelphia Transportation Company, operating in Philadelphia, the service has been poor, fewer cars running, one-man trolleys operating, cars failing to stop at corners to pick up passengers, the re-routing of cars, although no emergency exists, causing people to leave cars before reaching destination, irrespective of the weather, and more important, there have been more trolley car accidents reported. Speed is the byword and password. Caution is thrown to the winds.

The business transacted by the P. T. C. has been practically the greatest in its history, yet the company had the effrontery to file in April, 1946, a schedule of tariffs proposing to increase the basic fare of 7½ cents to 8¾ cents and the cash fare from 8 cents to 10 cents per ride, to become effective May 5, 1946. Prior to May 5, 1946, an investigation was ordered by the Commission. At the same time the City filed its complaint against the unreasonableness and discriminatory character of the said proposed rates. The city sought to intervene in the Commission's investigation, which was refused. The commission did, however, permit the consolidation of the city's complaint and the Commission's investigation, to be consolidated only for the purpose of making a record.

The Commission commended hearings about the 11th day of June, 1946, and has not yet concluded said hearings, and unless said hearings are concluded and a decision had before February 5, 1947, the increase in fare automatically becomes effective as of February 5, 1947. The Commission needlessly delayed the proceedings by lengthy and intended cross-examination and failed to consider the city's request for continuous hearings.

Obviously the legislature believed that the Commission had sufficient time in nine months to dispose of the reasonableness of any proposed increase in rates. Further, the law reads that rate proceedings be given preference over all other proceedings, and decide the case as quickly as possible.

Why then the delay? It certainly represents a flagrant violation of the law. Think of it—almost nine months gone and there is little chance of the case being completed by February 5, 1947. The City, realizing the helplessness of the situation, appealed to the Supreme Court for relief, and such hearing will be had tomorrow. I ask—why have a Commission?

A fair and honest examination by an impartial committee would definitely result in a decrease rather than an increase, particularly in view of receipts in 1946 of approximately $58,500,000, the highest in its history, with a total passenger traffic of over 1,119,000,000.

Need I tell you that a previous fare increase by the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Co., predecessor of the Philadelphia Transportation Co., investigated by this body, disclosed grave scandals and exposure of certain members of the former Public Service Commission. It is high time for another investigation, although I am not accusing anybody.

My friends, more recently, members of the City Council in Philadelphia became so shocked as to the conduct of the present Public Utility Commission that they asked for their scalps, and further suggested changes in the present law. However, Philadelphia has much to be ashamed of with respect to the management of their utilities. A striking example is that of the city-owned gas works, operated by the Philadelphia Gas Works Co., a subsidiary of the U. G. I. The said gas works was hocked in 1939 for $40,000,000, and very recently was hocked for an additional $4,000,000, and in the meanwhile the consumers have had two rate increases imposed on them, with the approval of the Gas Commission, the regulatory body consisting of two members of council, one member chosen by the Mayor, the City Controller, and one member, a company's representative. The Gas Commission made no investigation of its own, simply accepted the company's figures without an argument. This is another instance in which an impartial investigation might result in a decrease rather than an increase in rates. Another instance is where the city leased its Broad Street subway to the P. T. C. on terms which did not even pay the city's interest on the subway bonds.

I do not take too much heart from these protests by members of the City Council, especially in view of their having acquiesced in all the manipulations by the underliers, the P. R. T., and the present P. T. C. However, I frankly state that the opposition to the fare increase at the present time is sincere, fair and courageous.

The record of the underliers and the P. R. T., predecessor of the P. T. C., is a blot on the escutcheon of the fair name of the City of Philadelphia. It is hard to believe that our City Fathers permitted certain syndicates to rob the city and the traction company without protest.

Every man, woman, and child is involved, to some extent, where utilities are concerned.

I wonder whether the ten million utility users in Pennsylvania have involuntarily surrendered their rights. I am inclined to think they have been sacrificed by all branches of our state government. Judging from the records since 1939, there is one inescapable conclusion—little or nothing has been done for the rate-payer or consumer. However, much has been done for private utilities. I wonder why? We all know the answer.

The utility users have, time and again, raised their voices in protest against poor utility service and exorbitant rates, but their pleas have fallen upon deaf ears. Regulation of service and fixing of rates by the Public Utility Commission, our agent—the people's agent—is fast becoming a myth. Today it amounts to regulation not by a governmental agency concerned with the public interest. The public interest has become solely the corporate interest. Yes, today we face a governmental rubber stamping of corporate policy that is destructive of government itself. Private gain at public expense is the byword today. May I invite close inspection of the records of the Public Utility Commission for the past six years, and for twenty-four years prior to 1937. There was one brief interlude, and a welcome one for the consumers, for only two years—1937 and 1938.

Need I remind the Senate of the outrageous order in the Pennsylvania Power & Light Case back in 1944. Need I tell you that municipal authorities under the present set-up have little opportunity to organize? I suggest that you read some of their recent decisions and orders, and having read them, I feel safe in saying that it will even offend the most conservative individual.

Gentlemen, we were elected by our people to do their bidding. An evil affecting everyone has crept into our system, and I have confidence that you will join in eradicating it once for all.

Get rid of the present Commission and put in one that will truly safeguard the interests of the people.

Let me read here a letter that I admire; I think it is one of the finest letters I have ever received, in the form of a Christmas Greeting, sent to probably every member of the Senate. I wish, however, it were sent to the members of the P. U. C.

"Hon. Jerome H. Jaspan
824 N. Seventh St.
Philadelphia, Penna.

"Dear Friend

"A Merry Christmas and a Happy, Healthful New Year to you and your loved ones.

"Each year at this season every one of us becomes more kindly and thoughtful and filled with a feeling of Brotherly Love. You have noticed, I am sure, how people generally are so much nicer to each other. Unfortunately, however, after the Season has passed, too many of us become, once again, unkind in our dealings and associations and once more just practical and sometimes disagreeable human beings seeking our own selfish ends to the detriment of our fellowmen. Never was it so necessary that the Spirit, which is in us now during this Christmas Season, be retained so that we shall always live in accordance with the Teachings and Principles of our Savior, particularly that of practicing Brotherly Love . . ."

I could go on but I will just say that the letter is signed by my colleague, Senator James A. Geltz, and I thoroughly agree with what he has written in his letter.

Let me go further. In a magnificent speech made last Tuesday by our newly elected Governor, and I think it is one of the greatest I have ever read, let me quote from certain sections of his speech.

"Superficially our domestic situation may not appear unusual. But whatever the appearance we can no longer be unaware that we are living in a tremendously revolutionary period—a period when even a small blaze of discontent has the potential of flaming into a conflagration of discord."

"In this rapidly changing and revolutionary world, it is imperative that we in America put our house completely in order.

"To do so we must sincerely and searchingly examine and define those situations in our social, political and economic structure where experience proves we have been unfair or unjust or where changes are indicated for the common benefit. Then promptly and resolutely we must make such changes and betterments—whoever is affected—as we are sure will be for the common benefit and strength of us all.

"We are faced by a great challenge. Either we can correct such evils as have crept into our system, or run the risk of losing everything that has been built up so successfully and so laboriously and at such great sacrifice and loss of blood and treasure in this fair land."

So, Mr. President, I say in all sincerity, an evil—as pointed to by our newly elected Governor—has crept into our system, and I have confidence that every member of the Senate here will join together to eradicate it, once and for all.

Thank you.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HALUSKA asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President and gentlemen of the Senate, I am about to offer a resolution asking for a senatorial investigation of the P.I.A.A. and its activities in Pennsylvania. Before doing so, I want to make a few words of explanation, because I am told on Wednesday afternoon of this week this group will meet in this city and formulate their plans for the coming year. Therefore it should be an easy task to question this group as to their activities and authorization to perform the duties they are performing now with regard to our public schools. Mr. President, for the information of the Senate, the P.I.A.A. is the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association. Back in the counties of Cambria, Blair, Westmoreland, Fayette and Allegheny—I mention these counties because I have first hand knowledge of these counties—this association has barred our Catholic schools from competing in basketball and football with the public schools.

I am sure, Mr. President, it is still fresh in our minds that many of our colleagues here, or many of their sons, have just returned from service, fighting the battle to protect our freedom.

Now we find a group which has drawn a line, telling us that certain other groups can not belong to the association.

It is unfortunate, since I am a Catholic, that I am compelled at this time to offer this resolution, but I am proud and tolerant, and I hope I shall never live to see the day when I shall be otherwise, but back in the county of Cambria, which I represent, we have been barred throughout the last football season, and now during basketball season, from competing in sports with public schools, although we as taxpayers contribute our money for the maintenance of these public schools.

Last fall the P.I.A.A. met in the city of Johnstown in session at the Fort Stanwix Hotel and disbarred all the coaches in the county of Cambria because they have refereed football games of Catholic High.

I was called in, Mr. President, and met Mr. Wicht, the president of this organization, and he informed me that he would put the boys back in good grace and everything was well, but the very next day he issued a ruling from his head office that the schools could not participate in this program.

I hope that the members of this Senate will never take the attitude that Catholics, Jews or Protestants, or anyone else, cannot live together, work together and play together, and I am asking, Mr. President, for an investigation, as I said a moment ago, because on Wednesday afternoon they will have this meeting here at Harrisburg, to determine from this group why Catholics cannot belong to its membership and compete in football games, as they have for the last twenty years.

If they have a good reason and can show the committee that they are right, that is the end of it, in so far as I am concerned, but if they have no good reason, certainly I think it is our duty to place this organization either under the Department of Education or the Department of Public Instruction.

The schools have no appeal now from this group, they are the lords, their word is final, but still they govern the very lives of our children.

I know, Mr. President, that the members of this body dislike investigations, but I think this is one of merit, one that every man will rise up in arms about if he finds out first-hand that such tactics are being used in Pennsylvania.

So I offer this resolution, Mr. President. I am not asking for immediate adoption. I would like to have a committee study it, if they wish, and if they decide to act upon it, I only ask that they give it their consideration before Wednesday afternoon, which will expedite this matter in a great hurry.

RESOLUTIONS

COMMITTEE BE APPOINTED TO INVESTIGATE THE P. I. A. A.

Mr. HALUSKA offered the following resolution which was twice read and referred to the Committee on Education:

In the Senate, January 27, 1947.

Many high schools in Pennsylvania are member schools of an organization known as the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association (P. I. A. A.), a group which undoubtedly has had considerable influence in shaping interscholastic athletic policies of our high schools.

From time to time, the various actions of the P. I. A. A. have been severely criticized publicly not only by non-member schools but also by newspapers and the general public. A recent ruling of this association has aroused such a reaction.

Questions may well be raised as to the source of the authority of the P. I. A. A. and as to the desirability of having high school athletics in Pennsylvania affected by such an association.

It seems proper that the P. I. A. A. and allied associations similarly affecting high school athletics in this Commonwealth shall be under the control and regulation of a governmental agency in order that its actions may be in keeping with the principles our school system attempts to inculcate, and may be accepted without public furor; therefore, be it

Resolved, That a committee of five be appointed, five members of the Senate, to be appointed by the President pro tempore, whose duty it shall be to conduct an investigation of the P. I. A. A., its workings, power, and authority to issue rules, and to report to the General Assembly its findings and recommendations to the end that the P. I. A. A. may be placed under the control of the Department of Public Instruction; and that said committee is hereby given the power of the General Assembly as to subpoena of witnesses and documents.

MEMORIALIZING THE CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES TO WITHHOLD THE SELLING OF THE BIG AND LITTLE INCH PIPE LINES

Mr. CROWE on behalf of Mr. LETZLER and himself offered the following resolution which was twice read and referred to the Committee on Mines and Mining:

In the Senate, January 27, 1947.

Whereas, The War Assets Administrator has filed his report with the Congress, recommending that the Big and Little Inch Pipe Lines be sold to the highest cash bidder, either for the transportation of petroleum and its products or natural gas, or a combination of both; and

Whereas, Unless the Congress acts, a sale of said lines to the highest cash bidder may be made after February 3, 1947; and

Whereas, Protests are pending before the Federal Power Commission against the granting of an application for the use of the Big and Little Inch Lines to transport natural gas to the Eastern market now adequately served by the solid fuel industries; and

Whereas, The sale and use of these pipe lines for the transportation of natural gas would create serious unemployment in Pennsylvania by displacing thousands of anthracite and bituminous mine workers, railroaders, retail coal dealers' employees, teamsters, longshoremen and gas and coke workers; and

Whereas, The sale of these pipe lines for the transportation of natural gas would do irreparable damage to the economy of the State of Pennsylvania; and

Whereas, These pipe lines were built by the Federal Government during the war emergency to assure the most effective use of the property for war purposes and in the common defense, and were not to be used as a means of transporting fuel during a peace-time economy in competition with solid fuel; and

Whereas, Natural gas is a fuel produced without the expenditure of an appreciable amount of labor; and

Whereas, The available known supplies of natural gas are only about one per centum of our total known fuel resources; and

Whereas, If these lines are converted to the transportation of natural gas and consumers made dependent thereon for fuel, it would become impossible to reconvert these lines to the transportation of petroleum in case of another national emergency; and

Whereas, The use of these pipe lines for the transportation of natural gas would serve only as a temporary expedient because of the estimated short life of the natural gas industry, and by the closing of mines and the attending difficulty of reopening mines without skilled miners to mine needed solid fuel, would lead to another emergency in supplying homes and industry with the fuel which is required; and

Whereas, The Federal Power Commission is now engaged in an investigation and study of the available supplies of natural gas, the most economical use of such supplies, and the potential effect of the dislocation of the industrial economy through the use of these lines for the transportation of natural gas; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives occurs) That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth hereby respectfully memorializes the Congress of the United States to withhold the sale, by the War Assets Administration, of the Big and Little Inch Pipe Lines for any purpose until at least six months after the filing with the Congress of the final report and recommendations of the Federal Power Commission on the proceeding of the Federal Power Commission to Docket Number G-580; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the President Pro Tempore of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives of the Congress of the United States and to each Senator and Member of the House of Representatives from Pennsylvania in the Congress of the United States.

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

Mr. LORD offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, January 27, 1947.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur) That when the Senate adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday, February 3, 1947, at four o'clock, p. m.; and when the House of Representatives adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday, February 3, 1947, at nine o'clock, p. m.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

CALENDAR

AMENDMENTS OFFERED

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2, entitled:

An Act making a deficiency appropriation to the Department of Public Assistance and providing for certain allocations therefrom for the purpose of carrying out the Public Assistance Law for the two fiscal years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred forty-five and for the payment of assistance and expenses accrued or incurred prior to and remaining unpaid on May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred forty-five.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section,

Mr. DENT offered the following amendments:

Amend Section 1 (Sec. 1), Page 2, lines 5 and 6 by striking out the words "and for the payment of attorneys' fees and court costs necessary"

Amend Section 1 (Sec. 1), Page 2, line 9 by striking out the words "attorneys' fees and court costs"

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman who has offered the amendments.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DENT. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, will the gentleman please explain the purpose of his amendments?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, the purpose of these amendments is to try to stop the expenditure of great sums of money appropriated by the state, supposedly for direct relief purposes, but expended for the payment of attorney fees, said attorneys being occupied in the dubious occupation of harassing citizens who, because of unfortunate circumstances were forced to draw relief from the state, subject to the prescribed rules set up by the state, and, because they have some tangible assets, they now find themselves harassed by the state for repayment of said funds, contrary to the belief of the minority party in this Commonwealth.

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, it seems to me that the amendments offered by the gentleman from Westmoreland, seeking to amend this portion of the bill, will not bring about the result that he desires, because at other places in the public assistance law, there is contained a provision which permits the Commonwealth to make its effort to collect and to be reimbursed for moneys which it has expended.

I suggest therefore, Mr. President, that the amendments which have been offered are not the proper way to meet this problem. I suggest further that these amendments which have been offered would hamper the department in the conduct of its business, because payments of attorney fees and court costs, which are mentioned in this portion of the bill, form a necessary part of the administrative functions of the department, and for those reasons I request my colleagues to vote down the amendments.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Lehigh.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Lehigh permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. TALLMAN. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, will the gentleman from Lehigh tell the Senate how many attorneys are on the payroll of the Public Assistance Department in the state of Pennsylvania.

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, I do not know how many there are.

Mr. DENT. Thank you. Mr. President, we all know that a certain amount of attorney's fees and necessary costs must be met by the department, but as a practical matter they have named scores of attorneys, and a greater portion of the amount appropriated for relief of indigent and needy persons of Pennsylvania than should be expended is being expended for attorney fees.

All we are doing here in these small amendments is removing the profession of law from the relief rolls in Pennsylvania, a very commendable object I would say, Mr. President. We believe that our purpose is right and the attack we are making upon this portion of the bill is just and proper, and it is the only method we know by which we can do the job which we are trying to do.

I yield to the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President as a member of the bar . . .

Mr. DENT. Of course I could say what bar but I won't.

Mr. WALKER. The gentleman and I have met in every one of them, so that is not necessary.

Mr. DENT. I have enjoyed it, but relief did not pay for it.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I do not represent the Department of Public Assistance, I have never been on the state pay roll in that capacity, but I am a member of the bar and even in levity I do not think any high profession such as the legal profession should be attacked by innuendo. If the gentleman from Westmoreland has any facts to lay before the Senate as to the number of attorneys who are misemployed by the department, I think he should give us those facts. Making a very vague suggestion that the department is employing scores of attorneys, without suggesting whether or not it is necessary to have that number on the payroll in order to have the Department properly function, is not being quite fair to this body.

I might say, Mr. President, that I am not defending the Department of Public Assistance, and I disapprove of the bond system which they use, but I do not think a direct or collateral attack, on members of the legal profession who are employed to do work that requires a member of the bar to perform, is the proper answer to this, and to make a direct attack on the legal profession, as though they were surreptitiously obtaining funds to which they are not entitled, is hardly fair and is unbecoming of the very high principles upon which the gentleman from Westmoreland usually operates on the floor of the Senate.

May I suggest, Mr. President, that at the bottom of page 2 of the bill line 19 there is also a provision for the payment of attorney fees and court costs, necessary for the proper conduct of the work of the department and in order to make the amendments complete I would respectfully suggest, if the gentleman is going to carry out the purpose for which the amendments are offered, that he offer a third one to cover those particular lines and words in the act.

May I say, Mr. President, without retreating one bit from the stand which I have taken in my eight years in the Senate in opposing this public assistance bond, I certainly would vote against this particular amendment not because I am trying to obtain a few fees for a few lawyers, but because I think in the administration of the courts of the Commonwealth, which in a triumvirate sense is one of the three prongs upon which the Republic stands, that a member of the bar is at least entitled to some shred of dignity in the maintenance of his profession, and I will not under any circumstances permit my profession to be attacked by innuendo on the floor of this Senate or any place else.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, the gentleman from Allegheny repeated a number of times the words "direct attack against the legal profession." I happen to be a man who comes from labor, and I have heard labor attacked many times, but I never took it personally; I kind of felt that maybe some of it might have been able to stand a little attack.

However, that does not in any sense at all take away from the amendments that I have offered, the quality of the amendments. So far as the suggestion that I prepare the proper amendments, if the clerk will continue reading the amendments you will find that section 2 on page 2, is also contained in the proposed amendments.

However, for the information of the gentleman from Allegheny, he poses some very important questions and the only way that we can arrive at the answers to those questions is to adopt these amendments. How many attorneys are there employed? How much money do they receive? What is the amount in comparison to the total amount of money expended for relief? What is the total cost of administration of relief in Pennsylvania? Is it true that they have maintained highly expensive administrative forces all over the state and yet they have had a dwindling number of relief recipients?

Are we to ask these questions now, when the money is so necessary, or are we to wait until the money has been spent and a new bill comes up and then we are forced to the question of whether we are voting for relief for those that need it or not? I say these are the sort of questions that make it imperative that these amendments be accepted at this time. Those of us who are interested want to know just how many attorneys are employed by the state of Pennsylvania. Some of us want to know also whether or not the amount they receive takes too great a proportion of the amount that is collected from the relief recipients, through application of the bond, a greater proportion of that amount that the people of Pennsylvania recover from relief recipients.

These are questions the answers to which should be ascertained before we vote $23,000,000. I have heard Republicans time and time again get up and talk about the Democrats voting for blind legislation. Let us have some light, you have said we can stand some light, we are willing to turn the light on, but this time the subject to be lighted here is one that you are the caretaker of. For many years we have been the caretaker of it and you have turned the light on, but now we are turning the light on as to how many attorneys are employed and what compensation do they receive.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, I ask for a roll call, (During the calling of the roll, the following occurred:)

POINT OF INFORMATION

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I rise on a point of information.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Allegheny will state his point of information.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, do the lawyers in the Senate have a right to vote on this bill.

The PRESIDENT. The answer of the Chair is yes.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, are you a lawyer?

RESOLUTION

Mr. WATKINS asked and obtained unanimous consent to add two additional names as sponsors of a resolution.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. WORLEY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

The resolution I am about to introduce recommends that this House affirm its belief that the Charter of the United Nations should be amended to provide for a World Federal Government on a representative democracy basis with separation of powers which are limited and delegated for the prevention of war and the preservation of peace and which prohibits interference in the home rule and domestic jurisdiction of any nation.

The present United Nations Charter is a confederation form of government for the reason that the veto power contained therein makes those units of government having that power stronger than the central government itself, and consequently the central government is not strong enough to back up the decisions of the World Court for the promotion of justice in international affairs. This would be doing to the United Nations Charter what the United States Federal Constitution did to the Colonial Articles of Confederation, and until this is done to the present Charter of Confederation, war to kill the innocent for the wrongs of the guilty is inevitable at the will of outlawing nations. An international federal system will eliminate all war, except a Civil War which is not a war in a legal sense but is an exercise of the limited sovereign police power of such Federal Government.

It is very important that the people be educated to the fact that the nations of today are away ahead in physical science in comparison to their development in political science, and that an international federal government to deal strictly with international affairs is needed, and that such a government must be formed for justice and not for power.

Mr. Speaker, I now move the immediate consideration and adoption of this resolution, which I request the Clerk to read, and do hereby move the suspension of all rules necessary to carry out the motion.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would inform the gentleman that he was given unanimous consent to address the House and not unanimous consent to present a resolution. Under the rules, it will lie over and be referred to a Committee.

RESOLUTION

Mr. WORLEY offered a resolution which was filed with the Clerk.

ANNOUNCEMENT

The SPEAKER. Last week we informed the Members that a photographer would be present this evening to take a photograph of the Members of the House. Due to the Members of the Committee attending the funeral of our colleague, it was decided that this be delayed until a later date.

The Chair will again announce to the Members in ample time a particular day or night that the photographer will be present.

The Chair would also like to announce that tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock, in the New House Caucus Room, there will be a meeting of all the new Members of the House, at which time the Parliamentarian would like to address them. The Chair assures you it will be worth your while, if you have had no prior legislative experience, to attend this meeting.

The Chair has just received a very important message asking that the Legislators sign their bills legibly. There has been considerable difficulty in reading the names of some of the sponsors on the bills. Will you please sign your bills legibly.

SENATE

TUESDAY, January 28, 1947.

The Senate met at 12:00 o'clock M. Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Daniel B. Strickler) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. W. MURRAY YOUNG, offered the following prayer:

Great and marvelous are Thy works Lord God Almighty! Let Thy works appear unto Thy servants and Thy glory unto their children. We would be still and know that Thou art God. We would humbly acknowledge our sins and misdoings; the remembrance of them is grievous unto us. Have mercy upon us, have mercy upon us, most merciful Father; for Thy name's sake forgive us all that is past, and grant that we may ever hereafter serve and please Thee in newness of life. Teach us that every renunciation brings us nearer the pinnacle of upright and heroic living. Strengthen us with that fortitude of soul that persists through difficulty and sorrow. The years are ours by inheritance; the fruits of the present depend on us; the future awaits our pledge. Great Jehovah, God of mankind, lay Thy hands upon us, who are in authority, that the welfare of the state and nation may be held in the folds of every conscience; and lead us to carry our load of obligation to the Altar of the Lord.

Almighty God, inspire this Senate to ever safeguard the rights and contentment, the liberty and peace, of our fellow citizens, until the barren places of life shall be transformed into a veritable paradise of tranquility and delight.

Unite us in a fellowship of cooperation for the public good, and mutual helpfulness of all mankind, and help us to act nobly in all the intricate relationships of life. In the name of Christ, our Lord, we pray. Amen.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. BLASS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. BLASS. Mr. President, before introducing a bill that I am about to present on behalf of the gentleman from Warren, Dr. Chapman and myself, I wish to make a few remarks.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Erie will proceed.

Mr. BLASS. This bill, which provides for the designation of September 14 of each year as National Anthem Day by proclamation of the Governor of the Commonwealth, is sponsored by the Society of the War of 1812. Both Senator Chapman and myself are especially honored to make this presentation, by reason of the important role that Erie and Northwestern Pennsylvania played during that war. It was in the city of Erie that Perry's first fleet was built and equipped. It was in that city that Commodore Perry resided during the construction of that fleet, and it was in the harbor of Erie that the Lawrence and the Niagara returning in a disabled condition, were sunk to prevent their capture by the British.

This bill, Mr. President, is not designed to create another holiday. Its aim is to instill in the people of this Commonwealth a patriotic spirit and to foster, encourage and maintain throughout the Commonwealth a patriotic reverence for the flag and the national anthem, by appropriate exercises and the reading of the Governor's proclamation in the public schools, by appropriate comment over the radio and in the press, and by a display of our national flag on all public buildings.

Mr. President, I read in place and present to the Chair the following bill.

The PRESIDENT. Is the gentleman from Erie a veteran of the War of 1812? The answer is no.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. BLASS on behalf of Mr. CHAPMAN and himself, read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 51 entitled

An Act providing for the observance of September fourteenth of each year as National Anthem Day.

Which was committed to the Committee on State Government.

Mr. LANE on behalf of Mr. TARR and himself read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 52 entitled

An Act to promote the safety of employes and travelers upon railroads by compelling common carriers by railroad to man locomotives, trains and other self propelled engines or machines with competent employes; to provide the least number of men that may be employed on locomotive trains, and other self propelled engines or machines; to provide the qualifications of certain employes; and to provide a penalty for the violation thereof, and the enforcement thereof by the Public Utility Commission.

Which was committed to the Committee on Labor and Industry.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HOLLAND asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, the motor vehicle industry of Pennsylvania is getting larger and larger each year, with the result that the local communities are having to pay enormous sums for the protection of the life and property of the inhabitants of these communities. This cost rightfully belongs to the source of taxes paid by the industry which causes this additional service on the local communities.

In Pennsylvania today the handling of traffic by the local communities has reached the enormous sum of $8,000,000, nearly one dollar for each and every man, woman and child in the state of Pennsylvania. This money is secured by the local community by taxes on the homes, while the man who owns the home itself has no relation at all to the service rendered by the local community.

For instance, in Pittsburgh, the city of Pittsburgh pays $1.26 to protect the life of every man, woman and child, and the people of Pittsburgh who own homes pay that expense. In Philadelphia, where a large salary tax is being placed on the people in addition to real estate taxes, the cost has reached $1.90.

It is, I say, unfair to place this burden upon the good citizens of America, because the good citizens are those who own homes, and the cost I feel rightfully belongs on the motor vehicle industry; they pay taxes, and these taxes should be used to pay for the services which they have caused in the state.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. HOLLAND read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 53 entitled

An Act providing for payment by the Commonwealth out of moneys derived from liquid fuels taxes of the cost to cities, boroughs, towns, and townships of traffic regulation and safety and other service attributable to automobile and motor truck usage, of municipal and township streets and highways; prohibiting the payment of such costs out of taxes on real property; imposing duties on such municipalities, and townships, and on the Department of Revenue, and the Pennsylvania State Police; and appropriating moneys in the Motor License Fund.

Which was committed to the Committee on Highways.

Mr. STIEFEL read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 54 entitled

An Act making an appropriation to the Trustees of Temple University Hospital at Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

Which was committed to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. HALUSKA read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 55 entitled

An Act to further amend section four of the act approved the sixteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 1780), entitled "An act to fix the salaries and compensation of the judges of Supreme Court, the judges of the Superior Court, the judges of the courts of common pleas, the judges of the orphans' courts, the judges of the Municipal Court of Philadelphia, and the Judges of the County Court of Allegheny County," by increasing the salaries of judges of common pleas courts.

Which was committed to the Committee on Judiciary General.

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed the Senate will be in order.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. SNOWDEN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. SNOWDEN from the Committee on Highways, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 50, entitled:

An Act to further amend section eight of the act, approved the twenty-first day of May, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 774), entitled "An act to facilitate vehicular traffic between the eastern and western sections of the Commonwealth by providing for the construction, operation and maintenance of a turnpike from a point at or near Middlesex in Cumberland County to a point at or near Irwin in Westmoreland County; providing for the creation of the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission, and conferring power and imposing duties on said commission; authorizing the issuance of turnpike revenue bonds of the Commonwealth, payable solely from tolls, to pay the cost of such turnpike; providing that no debt of the Commonwealth shall be incurred in the exercise of any of the powers granted by this act; providing for the collection of tolls for the payment of such bonds and for the cost of maintenance, operation and repair of the turnpike; making such bonds exempt from taxation; constituting such bonds legal investments in certain instances; prescribing conditions upon which such turnpike shall become free; providing for condemnation; granting certain powers and authority to municipal subdivisions and agencies of the Commonwealth to cooperate with the commission; and authorizing the issuance of turnpike revenue refunding bonds," by providing for the facsimile signatures of the Governor and the chairman of the commission and a facsimile of the official seal of the commission upon bonds issued by the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission.

HOUSE MESSAGE

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, presented an extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives, which was twice read, as follows:

JOINT LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE BE APPOINTED TO ASCERTAIN THE REVENUES OF THE COMMONWEALTH

In the House of Representatives, January 28, 1947.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), that a joint Committee of both of the Houses of the General Assembly, to consist of the Speaker of the House, the Majority and Minority Leaders of the House, and the Chairman of the Committee of Ways and Means of the House, and the President Pro Tempore of the Senate, the Majority and Minority Leaders of the Senate, and the Chairman of the Committee of Finance of the Senate, be appointed for the purpose of ascertaining as nearly as possible the revenues of the Commonwealth for the two fiscal years beginning the first day of June, one thousand nine hundred forty-seven, on the present tax basis; the expenditures of the Commonwealth for the same period necessary to carry on the present functions of the Commonwealth Government; an estimate of the additional revenues required due to increased costs during said period to maintain the present functions of the Commonwealth Government; and an estimate of the additional revenues which will be required during said period to finance necessary expansion or extension of present facilities and functions and to finance needed new or additional functions or facilities.

The foregoing joint committee shall make its report to the General Assembly during the current Session thereof.

RESOLUTION ADOPTED

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, I move the Senate adopt the concurrent resolution.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I second the motion. On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, on the question of adoption this particular resolution covers a great deal more ground than it appears to cover. Unless you study it, you do not catch the significance of it.

We are relieving the Budget director of his duties in ascertaining the bugetary needs of the state; we are relieving the Secretary of Revenue of his proper duties in estimating the necessary revenues of the state; we are relieving the newly elected Governor of his responsibilities in establishing the fiscal policies for the coming biennium.

No member of this General Assembly, to my mind, is qualified to cover the subjects herein contained in the very short period at our disposal and give the necessary answers to the questions posed, namely, an estimate of the additional revenues needed in the Commonwealth for the next biennium, and the expenditures of the Commonwealth for the next biennium necessary to carry on the present functions of government.

We are certainly assuming a great deal more than we are justified in assuming if we pass this resolution. I can not honestly represent the minority on this committee and speak for the minority when it comes to the fiscal policies for the next biennium. The usual and orderly procedure is for the Governor to give to the Legislature his estimates on revenue and his budgetary needs, and then the Legislature, in its wisdom, determines the proper course for it to follow.

We are now assuming duties which rightfully belong to the Governor, and the administrative forces of the Governor, and we do not have the time to give it the intelligent study that is required to do a good job.

If you want a report to guide the Legislature, that is one thing; if the Governor wants a report to guide him in his policies and in his determination for the future needs of the state that is another thing, and I would suggest humbly that we take the standing committee of the Joint State Government Commission, to which we have contributed and given thousands upon thousands of dollars to make the necessary studies, with the proper personnel, in order that they would know the answers to the various questions posed by this resolution.

I am not shirking my duty. I will do any job that will benefit and be of benefit to the general welfare of the state, but I know my own capabilities and I would not even dare to presume that in two weeks I could sign a report that would be used as the basis for the fiscal policies of the Commonwealth for the next two years.

I think we all know that certain campaign promises were made, and I believe the Governor wants to keep them, but he made them—let him determine how they are to be kept. I made them and I was not selected, but if I would have been, I will assure you I would not have pushed it off onto the Legislature to determine what to do.

I am going to ask my colleagues to vote "no" on this resolution.

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, I regret very much that probably the form of the resolution may have prompted Senator Dent to make the remarks that he did at this time. I feel confident that his sincerity in this matter can not be questioned, and I feel confident, too, that he will participate and cooperate in the work of this committee, so far as the committee can intelligently discharge the duties which it assumes.

It seems to me that the intent of the resolution, and the appointment of a committee, is for a very fine purpose and one that comes with generosity on the part of the Governor.

There have been for years in this Senate many men who have questioned repeatedly budget messages from the Governor; there have been many men over a period of many years who have questioned the fact that in their opinion the Legislature has not had ample opportunity to study these matters, nor has it been consulted sufficiently.

It seems to me that this is a forward step on the part of the Governor, in inviting the Legislature to participate in this matter at an early stage, prior to presentation of the budget message, which so all-importantly not only affects the people of the Commonwealth, but is of such keen interest to the members of this Senate and to the members of the House.

It seems to me that the approach to this thing needs to be on the basis of its intent. I share with Senator Dent his feeling that probably the members of the legislative committee can not do a complete overall sound job in a short period of time, and I think I reflect the opinion of the members on this side of the Senate when I say that there is no man here, any more than he, who believes anything that this committee does or will do should relieve the Governor of any responsibility that he may have, as Governor, or politically, or in any other manner, but I feel that this resolution should be passed. I feel that Senator Dent's colleagues should vote for the passage of this resolution in the hope that this committee may, even if it be only in a small way, assist in solving the very vital financial situation that faces the administration and that faces the people of this Commonwealth.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

(A voice vote having been taken the question was determined in the affirmative.)

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

COMMITTEE BE APPOINTED TO INVESTIGATE THE DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC ASSISTANCE

Mr. DENT offered the following resolution which was twice read, as follows:

In the Senate of Pennsylvania, January 28, 1947.

Whereas, The Department of Public Assistance has admittedly expended funds beyond the amounts appropriated by the Legislature, and

Whereas, Said Department has administrative policies and methods which may or may not be some of the reasons for the need of a deficiency appropriation, and

Whereas, The sum of twenty-three million dollars now being appropriated by the Legislature without due consideration being given to the conditions that created the need for this appropriation, be it therefore

Resolved, That the Senate name a committee of five members who will be at liberty to thoroughly investigate the Department of Public Assistance, its staff, its methods of operation, cost of administration, to make inquiry into the application of the Bond feature of the Public Assistance Law, to determine the number of attorneys employed by the Department, their total salaries and other expenses incidental to the collection of monies under the Bond feature of the Public Assistance Law, and be it further

Resolved, That this investigation take place before the General appropriation to the Department of Public Assistance is made by the Legislature.

REQUEST THAT RULE 39 BE SUSPENDED

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which require resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be dispensed with and the Senate proceed to the consideration of the foregoing resolution.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, I object.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, since the Senate has just passed a resolution setting up a committee of the Legislature to determine policies and so forth, I do not believe the Senate will have any objections to passing this resolution.

If we are sincere in our one effort, we must be sincere in the other effort, that is, that we are now passing a $23,000,000 deficiency appropriation without any strings whatever attached to the appropriation.

I therefore am presenting a resolution in order that a committee of the Senate may wait upon the Public Assistance Department and determine just what is the necessity for this sum of money and why the deficiency, how much is the administrative cost of this department; what are the natural and normal expenses; whether or not they have fluctuated with the number of relief recipients; in proportion to the number of recipients, what has the cost been?

All of these questions must be determined if we are to work intelligently, and if we are going to start out on a business-like session, then let us start out on a business-like session. We are not going to say in one breath, here we are, we are going to determine the policies of the Commonwealth for the next biennium through a legislative committee, and then refuse, if you please, to look into a very pertinent question that is now before us.

I therefore present to the Chair this following resolution, and ask for immediate consideration.

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, I object to immediate consideration of this resolution, primarily by reason of the fact that there was a meeting of the Committee on Appropriations this morning, the purpose of which was to make inquiry into one of the subjects suggested by the resolution, and I am informed that five of Senator Dent's colleagues were in attendance at that meeting.

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, the good Senator from Allentown mentioned the fact that some Senators were present. I admit I was present. My intention was not to vote for this resolution, because I was fully satisfied with the cross-examination the two gentlemen from the department went through this morning, and I feel that there is no alternative and any questions that may have existed have been clarified, and that the efforts of the specific department have been on the economical side, and that the things that have developed have been beyond salvage and beyond control.

I did not intend to vote for this resolution, because I was fully satisfied. Others could have been present at the meeting this morning, and could have availed themselves of the opportunity to cross-examine those gentlemen, and I feel that this discussion is absolutely out of order.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. DiSilvestro.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, will the gentleman from Philadelphia, since he attended the meeting and attended the cross-examination, give me the percentage of money that has been spent by this department of administrative costs?

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Well, Mr. President, I did not go into a mathematical study, but after the cross-examination these gentlemen went through by the members of the committee, I took the word of the gentlemen, and although I do not remember the mathematic percentage—in fact I was pretty well held down in mathematics when I went to school—I was willing to take the men at their word. I was concerned more about their desire to keep expenses down, and in a general way I was convinced that they were making every effort to do so.

Any more questions, Mr. President.

Mr. DENT. No, thank you very kindly.

Mr. President, of course we are not interested in logical answers or in intentions, I have no quarrel with the intentions of the department heads. I go under the assumption that all men are honest until they are proven dishonest. I am not questioning the sincerity or the honesty or the policy of the men who conduct this department's business. I ask some simple questions: What is the relationship between the relief recipient, the amount that he receives, and the amount that is paid out in order that he may receive this money.

That is an age old question, one that the Republican Party has kept asking year after year and year after year in the halls of Congress, one that they asked here repeatedly week after week when the Democratic Party was in power. They are questions that need intelligent answers.

The question of whether or not you are interested in the mathematical side is not interesting. That is all this resolution asks for, as to figures, and I say that it does not affect this appropriation. If you will listen to the resolution, all we want to know is just how this money is spent, in order that when we come to make up the new budgetary proposition and the amount to be appropriated we will know intelligently what we are doing.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, for the information of the gentleman from Westmoreland, the amount of the administrative cost is eight per cent.

Mr. DENT. What, Mr. President?

Mr. HEYBURN. Eight per cent.

Mr. DENT. Did the gentleman from Delaware say eight per cent or eighty.

Mr. HEYBURN. Eight.

Mr. DENT. That is very interesting, but I still want to see the balances, I still want to see the figures, I want to know whether or not there are so many relief visitors and whether these relief visitors were kept on the pay roll during a time when there was little or no need for assistance in this state. Those are the questions I want answers to.

The PRESIDENT. The resolution is referred to the Committee on Public Health and Welfare.

Mr. CRIDER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make a report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. DENT. Yes, Mr. President I have objection. We must dispose of the matter before the Senate. A vote must be taken.

Mr. HEYBURN. It has been disposed of; it is in committee.

Mr. DENT. You have buried it already, without the formality of a funeral!

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. CRIDER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. CRIDER from the Committee on Military Affairs and Aeronautics, reported as amended House Bill No. 4, entitled:

An Act to further amend section two hundred seven of the act approved the ninth day of April one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 177) entitled "An act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments boards commissions and officers thereof including the boards of trustees of State Normal Schools or Teachers Colleges abolishing creating reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative department boards and commissions defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers and of the several administrative departments boards commissions and officers fixing the salaries of the Governor Lieutenant-Governor and certain other executive and administrative officers providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers and of all deputies and other assistants and employees in certain departments boards and commissions and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the deputies and all other assistants and employees of certain departments boards and commissions shall be determined requiring certain qualifications for the Adjutant General.

RECESS

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take recess for ten minutes.

Mr. T. NEWELL WOOD. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed the Senate will be in order.

MEMORIALIZING THE CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES TO WITHHOLD THE SELLING OF THE BIG AND LITTLE INCH PIPE LINES

Mr. CROWE, from the Committee on Mines and Mining, to which was referred resolution offered by Mr. CROWE on behalf of Mr. LETZLER and himself, on January 27, 1947, reported the same without amendment as follows:

In the Senate, January 27, 1947.

Whereas, The War Assets Administrator has filed his report with the Congress recommending that the Big and Little Inch Pipe Lines be sold to the highest cash bidder, either for the transportation of petroleum and its products or natural gas or a combination of both, and

Whereas, Unless the Congress acts, a sale of said lines to the highest cash bidder, may be made after February 3, 1947, and

Whereas, Protests are pending before the Federal Power Commission against the granting of an application for the use of the Big and Little Inch Lines to transport natural gas to the Eastern market now adequately served by the solid fuel industries, and

Whereas, The sale and use of these pipe lines for the transportation of natural gas would create serious unemployment in Pennsylvania by displacing thousands of anthracite and bituminous mine workers, railroaders, retail coal dealers' employees, teamsters, long shoremen and gas and coke workers, and

Whereas, The sale of these pipe lines for the transportation of natural gas would do irreparable damage to the economy of the State of Pennsylvania, and

Whereas, These pipe lines were built by the Federal Government during the war emergency to assure the most effective use of the property for war purposes and in the common defense, and were not to be used as a means of transporting fuel during a peace-time economy in competition with solid fuel, and

Whereas, Natural gas is a fuel produced without the expenditure of an appreciable amount of labor, and

Whereas, The available known supplies of natural gas are only about one per cent of our total known fuel resources, and

Whereas. If these lines are converted to the transportation of natural gas and consumers made dependent thereon for fuel, it would become impossible to reconvert these lines to the transportation of petroleum in case of another national emergency, and

Whereas, The use of these pipe lines for the transportation of natural gas would serve only as a temporary expedient because of the estimated short life of the natural gas industry, and by the closing of mines and the attending difficulty of reopening mines without skilled miners to mine needed solid fuel, would lead to another emergency in supplying homes and industry with the fuel which is required, and

Whereas, The Federal Power Commission is now engaged in an investigation and study of the available supplies of natural gas, the most economical use of such supplies, and the potential effect in the dislocation of the industrial economy through the use of these lines for the transportation of natural gas, therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concurs), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth hereby respectfully memorializes the Congress of the United States to withhold the sale, by the War Assets Administration, of the Big and Little Inch Pipe Lines for any purpose until at least six months after the filing with the Congress of the final report and recommendations of the Federal Power Commission on the proceeding of the Federal Power Commission to Docket Number G-580.

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the President Pro Tempore of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives of the Congress of the United States and to each Senator and Member of the House of Representatives from Pennsylvania in the Congress of the United States.

which was laid over for one day under the rules.

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. WORLEY. (Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 8.

In the House of Representatives, January 27, 1947.

Whereas, the devastations and untold sorrow produced by Wars have demonstrated that peace cannot be maintained through preparations by individual nations for defense against war and that enduring peace can be attained only through the establishment of justice administered according to law on a basis that will eliminate resort to war for the settlement of international disputes; and

Whereas, the Constitution of the United States, under which the union of independent States has been effectually preserved for one hundred fifty-eight years, affords a pattern for a federation of the nations resting upon limited delegated powers so as to attain the essential minimum of centralized control in international affairs with the maximum of self-government in national affairs; and

Whereas, only by widespread education can public opinion be formed to support an effective world government designed to insure justice through laws; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania affirms its belief in the following principles:

1. World peace must rest upon the solid foundation of justice administered according to law.

2. The present Charter of the United Nations can and should be utilized, through proper revision thereof or amendments thereto, to provide a world government under law, consisting of judicial, legislative and executive branches, with necessary checks and balances analogous to those provided by the Constitution of the United States; the legislative powers should be limited, specific and clearly defined, without authority to intervene or act in any matter which is essentially within the domestic or home rule jurisdiction of any nation, the laws to be applicable to and enforced against individuals as well as nations and to provide regulation and control of atomic energy and other means of war; the legislative body might well be organized on a bicameral basis, with weighted representation in one chamber and equal representation in the other; each nation should be free to determine for itself the method of selecting its members of the legislative body, in order that they may carry out the will of the people they represent, the issues to be decided by the votes of the individual members rather than by nations; the judiciary should be given the power to interpret the Charter as well as to construe legislation and to determine whether any organ of the United Nations has exceeded the powers granted by the Charter;

Be it Further Resolved, that a copy of this resolution be sent to the President and each member of the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States, and to each of the delegates of the United Nations Organization from all of the nation members of said organization.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Messrs. WATKINS, ROBERTSON, O'NEILL and HEWITT. (Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 9.

In the House of Representatives, January 27, 1947.

Whereas, The War Assets Administrator has filed his report with the Congress, recommending that the Big and Little Inch Pipe Lines be sold to the highest cash bidder, either for the transportation of petroleum and its products or natural gas, or a combination of both; and

Whereas, Unless the Congress acts, a sale of said lines to the highest cash bidder may be made after February 3rd, 1947; and

Whereas, Protests are pending before the Federal Power Commission against the granting of an application for the use of the Big and Little Inch Lines to transport natural gas to the Eastern market now adequately served by the solid fuel industries; and

Whereas, The sale and use of these pipe lines for the transportation of natural gas would create serious unemployment in Pennsylvania by displacing thousands of anthracite and bituminous mine workers, railroaders, retail coal dealers' employes, teamsters, longshoremen and gas and coke workers; and

Whereas, The sale of these pipe lines for the transportation of natural gas would do irreparable damage to the economy of the State of Pennsylvania; and

Whereas, These pipe lines were built by the Federal Government during the war emergency to assure the most effective use of the property for war purposes and in the common defense, and were not to be used as a means of transporting fuel during a peace-time economy in competition with solid fuel; and

Whereas, Natural gas is a fuel produced without the expenditure of an appreciable amount of labor; and

Whereas, The available known supplies of natural gas are only about one per centum of our total known fuel resources; and

Whereas, If these lines are converted to the transportation of natural gas and consumers made dependent thereon for fuel, it would become impossible to recon-vert these lines to the transportation of petroleum in case of another national emergency; and

Whereas, The use of these pipe lines for the transportation of natural gas would serve only as a temporary expedient because of the estimated short life of the natural gas industry, and by the closing of mines and the attending difficulty of reopening mines without skilled miners to mine needed solid fuel, would lead to another emergency in supplying homes and industry with the fuel which is required; and

Whereas, The Federal Power Commission is now engaged in an investigation and study of the available supplies of natural gas, the most economical use of such supplies, and the potential effect of the dislocation of the industrial economy through the use of these lines for the transportation of natural gas; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concurs) That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth hereby respectfully memorializes the Congress of the United States to withhold the sale, by the War Assets Administration, of the Big and Little Inch Pipe Lines for any purpose until at least six months after the filing with the Congress of the final report and recommendations of the Federal Power Commission on the proceeding of the Federal Power Commission to Docket Number G-580; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the President Pro Tempore of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives of the Congress of the United States and to each Senator and Member of the House of Representatives from Pennsylvania in the Congress of the United States.

RESOLUTION

COMMITTEE TO STUDY STATE REVENUES

Mr. SORG offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read as follows:

In the House of Representatives, January 28, 1947.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That a joint committee of both of the Houses of the General Assembly, to consist of the Speaker of the House, the Majority and Minority Leaders of the House, and the Chairman of the Committee of Ways and Means of the House, and the President Pro Tempore of the Senate, the Majority and Minority Leaders of the Senate, and the Chairman of the Committee of Finance of the Senate, be appointed for the purpose of ascertaining as nearly as possible the revenues of the Commonwealth for the two fiscal years beginning the first day of June, one thousand nine hundred forty-seven, on the present tax basis; the expenditures of the Commonwealth for the same period necessary to carry on the present functions of the Commonwealth Government; an estimate of the additional revenues required due to increased costs during said period to maintain the present functions of the Commonwealth Government; and an estimate of the additional revenues which will be required during said period to finance necessary expansion or extension of present facilities and functions, and to finance needed new or additional functions or facilities.

The foregoing joint committee shall make its report to the General Assembly during the current session thereof.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the Majority Floor Leader.

The SPEAKER. Will the Majority Floor Leader permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SORG. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, is there any reason why this proposed Committee has been denied the right of subpoena?

Mr. SORG. There is no reason, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Is it not the opinion of the Majority Leader, Mr. Speaker, that in order to make certain that this proposed Committee has access to all the records of all the Departments that it should have the power of subpoena?

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I am not sure that without a specific inclusion of a clause saying "power of subpoena" that any Committee appointed by this Legislative body should not have that power.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, will the Majority Floor Leader please say that again? I couldn't quite understand what his reply was.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, it is my opinion that this Committee shall have full and adequate power to perform its functions properly.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, without the declaration as to the power of subpoena in the resolution does the Committee nevertheless have that power?

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I will confess that I am not certain of the answer to the gentleman's inquiry, but I would say this, that in the event that this Committee should be in any manner thwarted in any of its objects, I would be the first to come before this House with a request that it have such power.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, since this is the Majority Leader's resolution, and since it would not take him more than three minutes to draft an amendment, is there any reason why an amendment giving the Committee power and jurisdiction should not be included at this time?

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman yield for the purpose of a parliamentary inquiry?

Mr. ANDREWS. I yield, Mr. Speaker.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. SORG. I desire to ask, Mr. Speaker, whether a clause specifically mentioning the power of subpoena is necessary in a resolution, or does the Committee have that power.

The SPEAKER. The Chair is of the opinion that the House must confer such power of subpoena on any of its committees.

The House itself has the power to compel witnesses to appear and testify before any of its committees, to punish for contempt for refusal to do so, but only if the matter of inquiry is properly in connection with legislative business.

Does that answer the gentleman's question?

Mr. SORG. Yes sir, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would further add that the power to enforce obedience to its processes is under the Constitution, Article 2, Section 11.

Mr. SORG. In answer to the gentleman's inquiry, Mr. Speaker, it is my opinion that the House has the right to enforce the appearance of witnesses before this Committee.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, as I understand the opinion from the Chair, the Chair holds, and correctly holds, that this House can endow its committees with full power and jurisdiction, but there is no such power resident in a House committee unless that power has been explicitly conferred. That is the reason I am asking the Majority Leader why there should be any hesitation at this time, since it would only take a three line paragraph, to endow this committee with the proper power and authority to obtain all the records of all the Departments serving under the Commonwealth.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I am not in full accord with the gentleman that the ruling of the Chair was that the Committee would be powerless to compel the appearance of witnesses, and in order that witnesses be compelled to appear, that it is necessary that such power be specifically conferred upon the Committee. It is my understanding that in the event the Committee desired information on any subject the House can compel the appearance of witnesses before that Committee.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, the Majority Leader is undoubtedly right. Any Department under this resolution can refuse this Committee access to its records, and the Committee then can come back to this House and receive authority to subpoena. But why come back? Why not do the job now? Why not complete the work, and have this committee vested with the authority to subpoena witnesses and compel and require the attendance of any person in the Commonwealth, Department head or no department head, or any person else in the Commonwealth to appear before it?

Mr. SORG. The gentleman indulges in a technicality that has no practical meaning, the original verbal request for the appointment of this committee coming from the Executive Department of this government. Under circumstances such as those there is no reason that I can see to assume that it shall not receive the full cooperation that is necessary for its purpose. I feel that the inclusion of such a clause with the additional clerical work and so forth, superfluous and entirely unnecessary.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, what is the reason that this resolution is without terminal facilities or exit date? Is it not in line with the common sense of the situation that this Committee should report to this House within some definite period?

Mr. SORG. It is within the realm of common sense, Mr. Speaker, and it is my hope that the Committee will exercise the common sense to do the job as quickly as possible, and give a report as quickly as possible.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, will the Majority Floor Leader inform this House as to how long this inquiry is likely to last before the Committee will be in position to report?

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, if I might hazard a guess I would say off hand that this looks to me about a three weeks' job.

Mr. ANDREWS. We are to understand then, Mr. Speaker, that there will be no budget communications from His Excellency the Governor until this committee has reported?

Mr. SORG. I presume, Mr. Speaker, that in view of the fact that this committee is being formed at the request of His Excellency, that he will refrain from making any budget recommendations to this Assembly until this Committee shall have an opportunity to make a report.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, can the Majority Floor Leader inform this House as to what piece of legislation of prime importance it can do prior to the time we have an executive budget for our consideration?

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman will please clarify as to what in his opinion is of prime importance I might be able to answer his question.

Mr. ANDREWS. Very well, Mr. Speaker, the Majority Floor Leader prefers to dodge the question rather than answer it. It's quite alright. I thank the Majority Leader.

We are faced with the most remarkable proposition that has ever been brought before this House in the memory of the oldest member. Instead of being in a position to question, and to investigate an executive budget, the situation has been reversed. We are not to be in a position to question or interrogate the powers that be concerning the executive budget. We are to help frame one and then the executive will be in a position to question the judgment of this House. We are supposed to find out what became of the mythical surplus. We are supposed to find out how far the State will be in the red if the promises made by both parties, if you please, are to be redeemed.

I say to the Majority Leader and to his Excellency the Governor that this House has a right to have submitted to it all of the information at the disposal of the Executive; submitted to this House as an evidence of good faith, and then it would have been our business through our regular committees or through a special committee to find out whether the figures submitted in the Executive budget were or were not correct. It would also have been business of this House to assume the cost of any services additional to the service that the Governor might have recommended: services which might have appeared as being worth while to this House, but which the Governor had not mentioned. It is wholly without precedent that we should grant an Executive budget, and in advance of information from the Budget Office outline a Legislative program.

Now, if it is true that the figures in the Budget Office are so demoralized that they need legislative assistance to straighten them out, perhaps this Committee is the way to go about it. If it is true that Welfare bills for the Department of Welfare, instead of being paid are piling up until you have almost a room full of them, perhaps it is our province to investigate that, but it is not our province, or should not have been our province to launch this committee until we have in our possession the report on the condition of the Department filed with us by the Governor of this Commonwealth, and the budget estimate as prepared by the Budget Office.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is absolutely correct. This House has the right to ask for the figures; and the gentleman is also correct when he says that this may be a remarkable procedure, but we certainly can see nothing wrong with this gesture of cooperation of our Executive to the direct representatives of the people in these extraordinary times and with these extraordinary problems with which we are confronted.

Let the gentleman say what he will, we of the majority welcome the gesture of cooperation and the responsibility that goes with it to help try to solve the problem on behalf of the people.

Mr. CHUDOFF. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the Majority Floor Leader, the gentleman from Elk, Mr. Sorg.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Elk permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SORG. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. CHUDOFF. Mr. Speaker, I should like to know from the gentleman from Elk, as to whether if this resolution is adopted the Legislature will stay in session until such time as the committee reports back to it, or will we pack up and go home?

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, there is yet no Committee. I presume that at such time as this Committee may have an opportunity to organize there may be some discussion of the subject advanced by the gentleman, but I am not in position to say there will be a recess or whether we will continue in session.

Mr. CHUDOFF. Mr. Speaker, I read somewhere in one of the newspapers published in this Commonwealth that the Governor has asked for a short, businesslike session. So far no committees other than the Committee on State Government and the Committee on Welfare have organized. We have done no work whatsoever, and there will be no calendar tomorrow if we are in session.

I feel, Mr. Speaker, that if it is so vitally important to this House that this Committee be appointed and report back to this House, we are just wasting a lot of time sitting around here, going into session for twenty minutes to a half hour each day and doing nothing, and I feel that unless we get to work and do something we ought to adjourn and go home until the Committee finishes its business, which will probably take, in my opinion, six weeks, and not three weeks.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I simply arise to ask the Clerk if he will read the resolution over again. It was a little noisy back here, we could not hear it, and it was the first time that some of us knew that this resolution was to be introduced.

The resolution was again read by the Clerk.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the Majority Floor Leader?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Elk, Mr. Sorg, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SORG. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BROWN. I understand, Mr. Speaker, from this resolution that this Committee is to ascertain as nearly as possible the revenues of the Commonwealth for the two fiscal years beginning with the first day of June. That is clear, is it not, Mr. Majority Floor Leader?

Mr. SORG. Under the present taxation.

Mr. BROWN. And the expenditures of the Commonwealth for the same period necessary to carry on the present functions of the Commonwealth's government, is that correct?

Mr. SORG. That is correct.

Mr. BROWN. An estimate of the additional revenues required due to increased costs during the said period to maintain the present functions of the Commonwealth's government?

Mr. SORG. Correct.

Mr. BROWN. And to estimate additional revenues which will be required during the said period, and to finance necessary extension or expansion of present facilities or functions, and to finance needed new functions or facilities, is that correct?

Mr. SORG. That is correct.

Mr. BROWN. I thank the Majority Floor Leader.

Mr. Speaker, I want to assure the Majority Floor Leader that I have no intention of criticizing in any way any cooperation between the Executive and the Legislative. We need all of the cooperation that can be secured, but this resolution seems to embrace the entire legislative program, and if the Committee is sincere in doing everything that is supposed to be done under this resolution, we had just as well fold up and go home for the balance of the session.

Now, I am willing, because we have other things to do at home, to surrender our power to this Committee and go home, but I would like the Majority Floor Leader to tell us how under heaven a committee, regardless of what committee it is, can do these things set forth in this resolution, which is a cross-section of the entire program of the Legislature, within a space of two to three weeks? If the Majority Floor Leader can tell us that it can be done in that time, then I am perfectly willing to surrender unto him and his Committee the entire legislative function for the legislature of 1947.

I ask that question in all good faith, because I think the resolution is entirely too broad and will be misrepresented and will hurt him as well as hurt me. I would like for him to answer that question.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I desire to assure the gentleman first of all that no one has asked any Member of this House to surrender any of his rights.

It is my feeling that the gentleman recognizes the need for committees of this House to study various questions. I am not prepared—I am not ready to admit here and now that it embraces the entire legislative program for this particular session. There are many, many subjects on which this Committee under this resolution will not operate. It is simply a matter of cooperating with the Executive department in the ascertaining of certain facts that might be brought to the attention of this entire body for whatever appropriate action they may see fit to take.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the Majority Floor Leader?

The SPEAKER. Will the Majority Floor Leader, the gentleman from Elk, Mr. Sorg, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SORG. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BROWN. I do not have a copy of the Governor's message at the Inaugural, which I thought was very, very admirable, and I am one hundred percent in accord with it. Therefore, not having a copy in my hand I may not be able to follow the program in its order, but I want to ask this simple question, whether I am right in assuming that the major planks in the Governor's program are health, school, veterans, hospitals, roads, and I believe the last one comprehends the purification of streams. I want to ask him if I am right in assuming that that embraces the major emphasis of the Governor's program.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, those are in substance the major points in the Governor's program.

Mr. BROWN. And would they not also be the items upon which this Legislature would place the emphasis if it had the intention of carrying out His Excellency's program?

Mr. SORG. Does the gentleman ask whether or not it is the intention of the Legislature to do that?

Mr. BROWN. Not exactly the intention of the Legislature, but I do believe that the Majority Party want to carry out in so far as it can the Governor's program. That is the reason they want this Committee, so we can cooperate.

Mr. SORG. They do, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, do not all of those functions reflect themselves in the Budget and in the finances of the Commonwealth?

Mr. SORG. They do to a substantial extent indirectly, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BROWN. We would then be bound, Mr. Speaker, if we passed this resolution, to wait until this Committee gives us some idea of the revenues of the Commonwealth before we could embark upon any Legislation involving any of these subdivisions announced in the Governor's inaugural address.

Mr. SORG. No, Mr. Speaker, we are not so bound.

Mr. BROWN. Do I understand the Majority Leader, Mr. Speaker, to say we are not bound, but at the same time we are going to cooperate, and we are going to study by this Committee the revenues that would be necessary to carry out the Governor's program?

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, we are here naming such a committee to investigate the facts necessary in order to accomplish that purpose. We are nowhere in adopting the resolution binding ourselves to accept any conclusions of the Committee on the subject matter involved.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, we would be morally bound, though, to wait until this Committee reports before we could embark on any legislation that has to do with the functions of this Commonwealth in any of the fields enumerated in the Governor's program.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman uses a rather general term when he says "morally bound." I feel that this House in adopting this resolution would deem it advisable to await such report, if that is what the gentleman means.

Mr. BROWN. That is correct, that is the only answer that I was really trying to get out of him, Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman.

This resolution would take a lot of work off this House and all we will have to do will be to meet in committee and come out and say "That is the House and the Senate's program" and we uphold it. But I think before this resolution is passed that we ought to have some clear cut program as to what the House is to do during the interim, and I think in fairness to all the Members of the House that before this resolution is passed, some program should be placed before us as to what we are going to do in the interim, and I ask the Majority Floor Leader to give us assurance that we will have something to do, or let us stay home and relieve the taxpayers of the expense so that we will have more money in the treasury.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, in reply to the gentleman's request or suggestion, as was indicated in the previous interrogation, there has been no definite conclusion, there has been no agreement or suggestion even of this House of the possibility of recess. In the event, however, that there is none, it is my understanding that tomorrow morning there is to be a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Joint State Government Commission for the purpose of accepting the reports on the part of the various committees of that Commission that will provide subjects for legislation that would merit the consideration of this House. Whether there be a recess to allow that committee their full time to work on the subject matter of the legislation or there be a recess, we feel that the results can be more speedily accomplished and that there will be no harm whatever in adopting the resolution.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I do not see or hear anything in this resolution saying that we are going to recess, but for the life of me I can't understand that there is not a lot of work that this House can do during that interval that it takes for this study by this Committee.

I do not agree with the resolution; I think the study should be made by the Executive Department and given to the House, as Mr. Andrews has suggested. I want to say to you that I oppose this resolution if in any way it is going to recess this House for a period of three weeks or any particular time, when we will find in the final days of this session that there are many pieces of legislation still stacked away in the Committee Rooms on which there has never been any action taken, and for that reason I oppose this resolution.

On the question recurring,

"Will the House adopt the resolution?"

It was adopted.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for its concurrence.

PRAYER

In the absence of the Chaplain prayer was offered by the Senator from Berks, Dr. RUTH.

Our dear heavenly Father, we thank Thee that Thou hast given us a new day full of opportunities to serve Thee and our fellow men. We pray for the wisdom which Thou alone canst give unto us that we may serve well. We pray, Father, for those of our brothers who are sick, that Thou wilt lay Thy healing hand upon them and completely restore them to health and to their places of usefulness, and in the days that are ahead, may we sense the responsibilities which Thou and our people have placed in us, that we may use every effort and all the energy that we can to legislate and to work for the welfare of our people and of our country as a whole.

We pray Thy blessing upon the people of the world, that we may feel that Thou hast given us so much and that Thou dost expect much from us. May we work towards that one great end when all men everywhere shall be brothers and that all men everywhere shall acknowledge Thee as the one true God, so that Thy name may have all the honor and the glory, and that Thy kingdom may come upon earth as it is in Heaven.

We ask it in the Master's holy name. Amen.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. JASPAN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President and members of the Senate once again I am obliged to protest in the most vigorous terms the conduct of the P. U. C., especially with respect to its final decision in the P. T. C. case. The increase in rates as requested by the P. T. C. was allowed effective February 5, 1947. It was allowed on a record that was not complete. The Commission deliberately delayed the proceedings, so the proceedings could not be completed within the nine month's period, and hence the increase would automatically go into effect. Mind you, out of eight months and two weeks, only thirty days were devoted to hearings by the Commission. However, the city realizing the great danger of an increase going through by default at the expiration of nine months, appealed to the Supreme Court to force the Commission to take immediate action, and further asked the Court to take original jurisdiction.

At the hearing before the Supreme Court, the attorney for the Commission was questioned as to the reasons for the delay, and in reply stated that it was a very important case, and probably would require considerably more time to complete. However, when asked by the Court as to why more time had not been given by the Commission to the proceedings during the nine months, he frankly stated that he could not speak for the Commission. May I ask, as their attorney, for whom was he talking? The Justices were apparently disturbed at the failure of the Commission to act more expeditiously. The Commission, upon learning this and fearful of the Court's wrath, took to filing an order in the said proceedings within twenty-four hours after the Court had heard the city's request. Yes, the Commission reviewed 2509 pages of testimony and numerous exhibits within twenty-four hours and handed down a ten page order. I call it a miracle that you usually witness in mystery plays, unless the Commission was in process of preparing their order for some time before the completion of the case and prior to January 28, 1947, the day on which the Supreme Court heard the appeal. If such were the case, why did they not notify the City of Philadelphia so as to eliminate any need for appeal to the Supreme Court for immediate action? It is my belief that the Commission had made up its mind as to the order much in advance of the nine months' period but hesitated about filing it, hoping that by delaying the case, the increase would automatically go into effect at the expiration of the nine months' period. This would relieve them of any stigma that might attach to an order adverse to the consumer. It is also my belief that they were under the impression that the Supreme Court might dismiss the city's complaint, but when they learned to their surprise that the Supreme Court was disturbed about the delay by the Commission, they ran for cover and filed an order within twenty-four hours upholding the P. T. C., and, mind you, the P. T. C. had not as yet filed its brief in the case. A remarkable feat.

Now, I term it chicanery, and double dealing by the Commission, to the prejudice of the City of Philadelphia and three million car riders. Can the Commission explain this? This may be only a straw, but it certainly shows which way the wind blows.

The Commission went out of its way to justify the increase. It fixed approximately $103,000,000 as the fair value of the traction company's property and allowed six and one-half one percent as the allowable return, and in so doing, ignored the City of Philadelphia's expert's figure of $75,000,000, ignored its own witness' figure of $51,000,000, and its own valuation of $77,000,000, as fixed by the Commission in 1942. The P. U. C. attempts to justify its position by citing a Superior Court decision which fixed the amount at $93,000,000. Said decision was appealed to the Supreme Court, but has not been definitely determined. I ask you to please read the case cited in 350 Pa. 373. Hence, it is not binding and conclusive.

The Commission added $4,000,000 to the operating expense of the company, representing it to be additional labor costs for the year 1947, although no such testimony was presented. I challenge the Commission to produce one iota of testimony along these lines.

The Commission further ignored the testimony of its own witness who testified that the company's capital structure is vicious and distorted. In this regard, let me point out that there are now outstanding $30,000,000 in second mortgage bonds on which six per cent is paid. Rather a stiff interest. And believe it or not, there are only about $5,000,000 of first mortgage bonds on which about three percent is paid. Small wonder, then, that the second mortgage bonds are gobbled up and by whom, I wonder? By those financial giants and wizards who fleeced the company before? We have a right to know. The Commission apparently is not interested.

Here is another factor that bears investigation. The Commission emphatically stated among other things, in discussing the return allowed to the company, that with respect to combined street railway and bus operations, such as those conducted by the P. T. C., it is common knowledge, and the record shows, with respect to the company's own securities, that investors receive a larger return as compared with their appraisal of the securities of the utility types. Therefore a trolley company is entitled to a greater return, so that the investor can be paid more. I wonder. Is it because the risk is too great, or that the investor is mindful of the financial juggling by its predecessor, the P. R. T. Don't you think the reason is that the financial giants are out to make as much money as possible, and at whose expense? As is usual, the public. Since when has it become axiomatic that the traction companies are entitled to greater returns than other utilities. My friends, the entire record of the P. R. T. reeks with financial juggling, flim-flam and hocus-pocus, and I am very much afraid that the company's financial structure is vicious and distorted, and that the practices of its predecessor have spread to the present company. However, the Commission overlooks it. As a matter of fact, the Commission justifies it, notwithstanding the testimony by its own witness, that the capital structure of the P. T. C. is distorted and vicious.

Need I go further? Three million car riders have been sold down the river by the Commission in an order that apparently bears the handwriting of the utilities. There is only one way to correct the situation. There is only one answer—reorganization of the Commission and its staff.

In the meanwhile, I suggest an investigation of the Philadelphia Transportation Co. to be made by the Senate. The expense will amount to little or nothing. The City's witnesses, including their attorneys, will surely aid in the investigation if called upon. Let us have the truth. I am sure you are not afraid of it. Our consumers need protection, and we owe it to them.

RESOLUTION

COMMITTEE BE APPOINTED TO MAKE AN INVESTIGATION OF THE PHILADELPHIA TRANSPORTATION COMPANY

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. JASPAN offered the following resolution which was twice read, and referred to the Committee on Corporations:

In the Senate, February 3, 1947.

The importance of transportation grows with the years and today it has become most vital as a necessity of life itself.

Shortly after transportation became mechanized, it was discovered that the operation thereof and the fares charged for such transportation could not be left in the hands of private enterprise. Accordingly the State was obliged to intervene and the State did so by having the Legislature enact laws under which businesses of this type were regulated.

Today the regulation by legislation of Public Utilities is taken for granted. However, the Legislature still has the burden of seeing to it that transportation is sufficient and adequate, and that the rates therefor are not excessive.

Utility Commissions created by the Legislature should handle much of the fact finding activities relating to transportation and its costs among other activities. However, as stated the burden is still with the General Assembly to determine what services shall be rendered and at what cost.

All of this is elementary, and yet occasionally we must state our position so that when it is to be observed that complaints made to the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission in relating to the inadequate and insufficient service and to excessive fares for such service, go unanswered, the General Assembly must take a hand.

That recently the Public Utility Commission arbitrarily allowed an increase in fare, without any basis in fact or in law.

That further, the present Public Utility Commission has shown a disposition to ignore the wishes and interests of the consumer, and has generally decided every matter or case in favor of the Public Utility.

And consequently, our consumers have lost confidence in the said body, and unable to obtain relief, request that the Legislature or any sub-division thereof, give them the necessary relief.

Therefore, be it

Resolved, That the President pro tempore of the Senate is hereby authorized to appoint a committee of five members of the Senate, whose duty it shall be to make a searching investigation of the financial structure of the Philadelphia Transportation Company, to determine to what extent there are physical assets belonging to the company and the value thereof; and be it further

Resolved, That the said committee shall carefully examine all unanswered complaints filed with the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission whether such complaints be formally filed or not, so that if such complaints warrant investigation for the purpose of obtaining relief, such investigation shall be made; and be it further

Resolved, That the committee shall dedicate itself to perform the burden of the legislature, that is to exercise its legislative powers in such a manner as to be responsive to and mindful of the powers inherent to the people of this Commonwealth, and be it further

Resolved, That the said committee shall make a report in the Senate at the earliest possible date, and if not to the Senate, then, to the Governor, in no event later than May 1, 1947.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. DENT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I would like to read to members of the Senate a letter, and I hope they will take it in the same spirit as I have. It is a letter from a crank. By reading this letter it may give the Grand Cyclops down there in Chambersburg an idea where he may get a new member for his organization. This letter is addressed to me from Lewistown, Pennsylvania, and is as follows:

"Lewistown, Pa., Jan. 30, 1947.

"Mr. John H. Dent,
Harrisburg, Penna.

"Dear Sir:

"Why don't you investigate the K. of C. who have their first allegiance to the Roman City of Italy, and the K.K.K.

stands first and always for America, first, last, and always, which is right. Why should we take care of Rome, first and then America.

"I tell you watch and look into both organizations, and you will find the 3 K. stand for equal rights for all, free Americans, Gentile, White, Red, Black and Yellow. (I don't know why he missed the blues.) No discrimination but the B-Mia-B-Wrath and the K. of C. just these two organizations to exist in America and then beware. Thanks for reading this. I am no Kluxer—but am willing to be if I am worthy, also the Firy Circle.

Signed,
A Veteran."

Mr. President, I always believed in hitting a nail right on the head, if I am going to drive a nail. There has been a great deal of talk on the part of public servants, who stand up and preach and prattle about the Constitution and the Bill of Rights and who, when opportunity is presented to them to do something concrete and decisive in the way of upholding this same Constitution and the Bill of rights, have always been found wanting.

I am presenting to the Senate of Pennsylvania a bill which, if enacted, will forever clear this state of any such organization as is rearing its head now down around Chambersburg and Franklin county and in fact in every county of the state.

We went through a partial investigation by the state police last year during the campaign, when this organization did some of its dirtiest work, and I say to you, men of the Senate, that if you are sincere and want to try to destroy the type of organization that has made Georgia the laughing stock of all civilized peoples all over the world, I present to the Chair at this time a bill which only requires about two minutes to read.

It provides a fine of $10,000 and from five to twenty years in jail for any official of any organization that preaches a doctrine that is found against the things that we hold so dear.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. DENT read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 76, entitled:

An Act enjoining and making unlawful certain organizations, the purposes, doctrines, advocations or practices of which, discriminate against or persecute persons because of their race, creed or color; or which deny or abridge the rights, privileges and immunities granted to the people under the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and of the United States; and prescribing penalties.

Which was committed to the Committee on Judiciary General.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. ROSENFELD asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. ROSENFELD. Mr. President, before introducing a bill I would like to make some preliminary remarks for the benefit of my colleagues who may be from outside of the city of Philadelphia and who are not familiar with the transportation situation there, and for the benefit of those who perhaps may not have obtained clearly the factual statements made by my colleague from Philadelphia, Mr. Japan.

Without it appearing that I rise to come to the defense of the Public Utility Commission, I do know that the problem of the Commission, and everyone concerned with the Philadelphia Transportation Company rate case, is one involving a legal principle.

There is a conflict in theory today throughout the United States on the establishment of rates by utility commissions involving determination of the fair valuation of a utility's property.

In 1941 the Supreme Court of the United States changed what had been the law for some forty-seven years. The problem involves the question of taking testimony and what it would cost to reproduce the physical assets, the physical property of a utility, and that had been the law in this country since 1893. We in Pennsylvania had it in our old Public Service Commission law, where we used the expression that the Commission "shall provide a fair return on the fair value of the property of a utility."

In 1937, when we did away with the Public Service Commission Act, we enacted the Public Utility Commission Act and we repeated the language of the old act, in which we stated that the commission shall provide the utility a fair return on the fair value of its property.

I will say this for the P.U.C. in Pennsylvania, it tried in the Peoples Natural Gas case to adopt the new theory of the Supreme Court, which was to the effect that reproduction costs were not to be given any weight, that they were not to be considered, but that the prudent investment of the utility, together with whatever charges were necessary to carry the utility, were to be considered.

As a result of a decision of the United States Supreme Court our Commission in Pennsylvania adopted that theory in the Peoples Natural Gas case in 1943. An appeal was taken from the action of the Commission and Judge Kenworthy stated, for the Superior Court, that the Legislature in 1937, when it passed the Public Utility Commission act, used the same wording that was used in the old Public Service Act and the fact that the Supreme Court of the United States had since changed its mind would have no effect on the Superior Court, and that the Public Utility Commission had no right to adopt the prudent investment theory and do away with the reproduction cost theory until the Legislature said it could do so.

In the meantime the Philadelphia Transportation Company in Philadelphia had filed its application for an increase in tariff in January of 1942. Hearings had to be held, and one of the reasons for the holding of lengthy hearings is because in taking testimony on reproduction cost those reproduction costs must be considered at the time application is made, so that notwithstanding it might have cost sixteen cents to buy a nut and a bolt when the nut and bolt were bought, if at the time the application was made that nut and bolt cost forty-seven cents, testimony was needed to bring that to the attention of the Commission.

That is the reason for the lengthy hearings in all these rate cases. That January, 1942 application was not decided by the P. U. C. until October of 1952. It decided against the transportation company; it adopted the prudent investment theory and it went to the Superior Court, and the Superior Court in 1944 handed down a decision by Judge Hirt, in which he specifically reiterated Judge Kenworthy's prior opinion, that the Public Utility Commission could not use the prudent investment theory in establishing a rate unless the Legislature said it could. In that decision of 1944 the Superior Court set forth the value of the P. T. C. but as the result of an increase in business the P. T. C. never increased its fares.

In June of 1946 the P. T. C. decided again to apply for increased fares, it filed its tariff, and again hearings were held. Hearings were held until January 23, 1947, 2,509 pages of testimony were taken, most of them again on the question of reproduction costs. All this would have been unnecessary if the Commission had been permitted to use the prudent investment theory in applying its formula as a basis for rates.

After January 23, 1947, the Public Utility Commission was behind the proverbial eight-ball; it had staring it in the face the decision of the Superior Court of 1944, which gave its figures and established values for everything, especially reproduction value, which varied from 1944 to 1946.

The Commission may have had in mind it would have liked to do what it did three years prior to that time, but with the opinion of the Superior Court staring it in its face it could not very well do it. I suppose when application was made by the officials of the city of Philadelphia to go before the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania the Commission decided to follow the previous decision of the Superior Court, and so it permitted the increased application as filed by the transportation company.

Now, gentlemen, I would like to say this, we have this picture before us; our Public Utility Commission would like to adopt the prudent investment theory, the citizens of the City of Philadelphia would like to keep fares down, the officials of the city of Philadelphia would like to keep fares down, but the Superior Court has said that until the Legislature of this Commonwealth acts it will have to continue to use reproduction cost as a basis.

The only remedy lies with us in this Legislature. The Superior Court, unless it changes its mind completely, will on the 15th of February, or shortly thereafter, decide what it decided in 1944; it will have no basis for changing its mind. It said then that was the law and everyone, excepting possibly the P. T. C. itself, must look to the Legislature for aid. This has cost the taxpayers of the city of Philadelphia and the taxpayers of the Commonwealth thousands of dollars in this recent rate case. The city has already spent $140,000. That is money out of our pockets. The P. T. C. has probably spent $240,000. That is money out of our pockets. The Public Utility Commission has probably spent thousands and thousands of dollars in attending these hearings and taking testimony. That is money out of our pockets. And, of course, every time it goes to the Superior Court again that too is money out of our pockets.

I say this, they look to us for a remedy. We are the only body that can give them that remedy, and it is for that reason I ask, if it meets with the approval of the Senate, that the bill I am about to present to the Chair be considered quickly, if you are so disposed, in order that the Superior Court may on February 15, or shortly thereafter, know that the Legislature of this Commonwealth is willing that the Public Utility Commission adopt the theory it wanted to, in order to evaluate the property of the P. T. C. properly and give the citizens, the trolley riders and the investors in that company a fair return.

I read in place and present to the Chair the following bill.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. ROSENFELD read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 77, entitled:

An Act to amend subsection (a) of section three hundred seven, subsection (d) of section three hundred ten, and section three hundred eleven of the act approved the twenty-eighth day of May, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 1053), entitled "An act relating to the regulation of public utilities; defining as public utilities certain corporations, companies, associations, and persons; providing for the regulation of public utilities, including, to a limited extent, municipalities engaging in public utility business, by prescribing, defining, and limiting their duties, powers, and liabilities, and regulating the exercise, surrender, or abandonment of their powers, privileges, and franchises; defining and regulating contract carriers by motor vehicle and brokers in order to regulate effectively common carriers by motor vehicle, conferring upon the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission the power and duty of supervising and regulating persons, associations, companies, and corporations, including, to a limited extent, municipal corporations subject to this act, and administering the provisions of this act; authorizing the commission to fix temporary rates; placing the burden of proof on public utilities to sustain their rates and certain other matters; authorizing a permissive or mandatory sliding scale method of regulating rates; providing for the supervision of financial and contractual relations between public utilities and affiliated interests, and supervision and regulation of accounts and securities or obligations issued, assumed or kept by persons, associations, companies, corporations, or municipal corporations subject to this act; conferring upon the commission power to vary, reform, or revise certain contracts; conferring upon the commission the exclusive power to regulate or order the construction, alteration, relocation, protection, or abolition of crossings of facilities of public utilities, and of such facilities by or over public highways, to appropriate property for the construction or improvement of such crossings, and to award or apportion resultant costs and damages; authorizing owners of such property to sue the Commonwealth for such damages; providing for ejectment proceedings in connection with the appropriation of property for crossings; conferring upon the commission power to control and regulate budget of public utilities; imposing upon persons, associations, companies and corporations (except municipal corporations) subject to regulation, the cost of administering this act; prescribing and regulating practice and procedure before the commission and procedure for review by the courts of commission action; giving the court of common pleas of Dauphin County exclusive original jurisdiction over certain proceedings; prescribing penalties, fines, and imprisonment for violations of the provisions of this act and regulations and orders of the commission, and the procedure for enforcing such fines and penalties; and repealing legislation supplied and superseded by or inconsistent with this act," by applying the prudent investment standard to utility property in fixing rates in certain cases.

Which was committed to the Committee on Corporations.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. JASPAN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, before introducing a resolution I desire to read a short editorial from the Philadelphia Inquirer, which inspired the introduction of the resolution. It is a very short editorial:

"To Curb Crime Tighten Parole System"

"In the holdup murder of Patrolman Cecil Ingling we have come full-circle back to the problem of releasing confirmed criminals on "parole." The three thugs who killed Ingling—the one who was captured and the two the police are seeking—are 'parolees.'

"It is plain that an overhauling of the parole system as it is operated in this State is needed. Officials attached to that system are defending it, in spite of the ugly facts coming out regarding Ingling's murderers.

"The basis of that defense is the assertion that a large number of convicts under parole settle down quietly and behave themselves.

"This may be true, and it may be accepted as demonstrating need for some kind of a parole system. But the constant reappearance in criminal activities of men who have been let out of prison as supposedly reformed; the murders, assaults, burglaries and other vicious crimes for which they are responsible, are forcible proof that existing parole methods are not good enough by any means.

"In fact, they constitute a menace to law-abiding people, especially at this time when the country is going through a crime wave of unexampled proportions.

The man, Edward Hough, who was captured after Ingling's murder, and the accomplices for whom the police are searching, James F. Smith and David Almeida, were 'model prisoners' while in the Eastern Penitentiary.

"Of course they were—it was their only chance to be paroled. And, according to Major Henry C. Hill, chairman of the State Parole Board, they seem to have been 'model' parolees—very good boys.

"But there they were a few days ago holding up a supermarket near 20th street and Fairmount avenue—hardly a step away from Cherry Hill prison—when Ingling, unarmed and utterly forgetful of danger, tried to halt their stolen automobile and was shot in cold blood.

"Hough self-educated himself as an English teacher while serving five years of a five-to-ten-year sentence for holdup.

Almeida, 32, has a criminal record going back to his teens. He was sentenced for hold-up and robbery, served less than ten years and was pardoned and released on parole last fall. The youngest of the three, James Smith, is 22. He served half of a 'three-to-six'-year term for assault and attempted holdup, was released last April and has been working in his father's delicatessen store since.

"All three had specialized in armed robberies. They went back to their trade, in spite of parole checkups and seemingly good records since they walked out of the 'Pen' with the kindly admonitions of parole officials.

"The last great crime wave, in the Thirties, brought out sharply the evils of parole systems. Some names of that era are familiar yet—John Dillinger, Alvin Karpis, Doc Barker, Baby-Face Nelson, Pretty Boy Floyd, Raymond Hamilton, Harmony Waley, William Mahan, Robert Mais, Walter Legurenza, Walter and George McGee—murderers, bankrobbers, holdup men, kidnapers.

"Virtually all had been paroled once, some twice, to get back at their old games, to kill more people or commit other crimes before their careers were ended in the electric chair, in grim battles with G-men or by long prison terms.

"That vicious history is repeating itself. Through the parole system hardened, desperate men are being fed back into criminal ranks. The system has taken on the character of legalized and semi-automatic mercy for thugs.

"No criminal who has used a gun or other deadly weapon deserves to be paroled. The system which is turning such individuals loose is wrong on its face. It has got to be revised, with the emphasis where it belongs—on protecting the public and the police from murderers and confirmed crooks."

RESOLUTIONS

COMMITTEE BE APPOINTED TO MAKE AN INVESTIGATION OF PAROLE SYSTEM

Mr. JASPAN offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, February 3, 1947.

Whereas, murders and other vicious crimes might have been committed by parolees on an unprecedented scale,

Whereas, there has been a constant reappearance in criminal activities of men who have been let out of prison as supposedly reformed,

Whereas, the murders, assaults, burglaries and other vicious crime for which they are responsible, are forcible proof that existing parole methods are not good enough by any means,

Whereas, under our present system the parole and prison officials are unable to cope with the situation,

Whereas, proper protection should be given to the public and police against murderers and confirmed crooks,

Whereas, there is definitely a need for revision of the parole laws,

Therefore, be it

Resolved, That a committee of five be appointed by the President Pro Tempore to make a thorough investigation and study of the present parole system and determine what changes are necessary in the present law to strengthen and tighten the parole system. Be it further

Resolved, that the Committee report back to the Senate with its recommendations no later than March 15, 1947.

REQUEST THAT RULE 39 BE SUSPENDED

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be dispensed with and the Senate proceed to the consideration of the foregoing resolution.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, I object.

The PRESIDENT. The resolution is referred to the Committee on Judiciary General.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. CROWE. Mr. President, I call from the table Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 104, introduced on January 27, 1947, by Mr. Letzler and myself.

The resolution was read as follows:

MEMORIALIZING CONGRESS TO WITHHOLD THE SELLING OF THE BIG AND LITTLE INCH PIPE LINES BY THE WAR ASSETS ADMINISTRATION

In the Senate, January 27, 1947.

Whereas, The War Assets Administrator has filed his report with the Congress recommending that the Big and Little Inch Pipe Lines be sold to the highest cash bidder, either for the transportation of petroleum and its products or natural gas, or a combination of both and

Whereas, Unless the Congress acts, a sale of said lines to the highest cash bidder may be made after February 3, 1947; and

Whereas, Protests are pending before the Federal Power Commission against the granting of an application for the use of the Big and Little Inch Lines to transport natural gas to the Eastern market now adequately served by the solid fuel industries; and

Whereas, The sale and use of these pipe lines for the transportation of natural gas would create serious unemployment in Pennsylvania by displacing thousands of anthracite and bituminous mine workers railroaders retail coal dealers' employes, teamsters, longshoremen and gas and coke workers; and

Whereas, The sale of these pipe lines for the transportation of natural gas would do irreparable damage to the economy of the State of Pennsylvania; and

Whereas, These pipe lines were built by the Federal Government during the war emergency to assure the most effective use of the property for war purposes and in the common defense, and were not to be used as a means of transporting fuel during a peace-time economy in competition with solid fuel; and

Whereas, Natural gas is a fuel produced without the expenditure of an appreciable amount of labor; and

Whereas, The available known supplies of natural gas are only about one per centum of our total known fuel resources; and

Whereas, If these lines are converted to the transportation of natural gas and consumers made dependent thereon for fuel, it would become impossible to reconvert these lines to the transportation of petroleum in case of another national emergency; and

Whereas, The use of these pipe lines for the transportation of natural gas would serve only as a temporary expedient because of the estimated short life of the natural gas industry, and by the closing of mines and the attending difficulty of reopening mines without skilled miners to mine needed solid fuel, would lead to another emergency in supplying homes and industry with the fuel which is required; and

Whereas, The Federal Power Commission is now engaged in an investigation and study of the available supplies of natural gas, the most economical use of such supplies, and the potential effect of the dislocation of the industrial economy through the use of these lines for the transportation of natural gas; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur) That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth hereby respectfully memorializes the Congress of the United States to withhold the sale, by the War Assets Administration, of the Big and Little Inch Pipe Lines for any purpose until at least six months after the filing with the Congress of the final report and recommendations of the Federal Power Commission on the proceedings of the Federal Power Commission to Docket Number G-580; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the President Pro Tempore of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives of the Congress of the United States and to each Senator and Member of the House of Representatives from Pennsylvania in the Congress of the United States.

RESOLUTION RECOMMITTED

Mr. CROWE. Mr. President, I move that the resolution just read be recommitted to the Committee on Mines and Mining, for the purpose of amendment.

Mr. CARR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. CROWE. I would like to make a brief statement in this connection, that the co-sponsor of this resolution and myself are asking that this resolution be recommended by reason of caucus action, in order to make it more palatable to the members of another industry. That does not mean we are going to let up in our efforts to protect the coal industry, because we are not; we are going to continue to do that.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I ask for a roll call.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. DENT, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—34

Becker,	Farrell,	Letzler,	Tyler,
Berger,	Frazier,	Lord,	Wagner,
Blass,	Geltz,	Mahany,	Walker,
Carr,	Hare,	Mallery,	Watson,
Chapman,	Heyburn,	Scarlett,	Wilson,
Crider,	Holland,	Snowden,	Wolfe,

Donlan,	Kephart,

NAYS—13

Barr,	Klein,	Margie,	Stiefel,
Dent,	Lane,	kosenfeld	Tarr,
DiSilvestro,	Leader,	Ruth,	Woodring,
Haluska,

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HOLLAND asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President and members of the Senate, I voted to send this resolution back to committee but I certainly hope this Senate will not bring out of Committee any more resolutions memorializing Congress in what to do. We elect members to Congress to represent the people of their districts and I believe they have as much right to represent their constituents as we have, without being told what to do by the Senate of Pennsylvania.

I have always opposed any resolutions memorializing Congress, because they stand on their own feet, they are a legislative body in themselves, and we are far exceeding our authority when we send resolutions to Congress telling congressmen how to vote, and I certainly hope this Senate will not bring out any more such foolish resolutions, memorializing Congress, because I may tell you, from my very short time in Congress, that all of these resolutions are placed in the waste paper basket and they say "what right has the Senate of Pennsylvania to tell us how to vote."

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

Mr. DONLAN offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

ANNOUNCEMENT

The SPEAKER. The Members will find on their desk two separate prints of House Bill 4, Printer's Number 4 and 5. Will you please place them before you.

Printed at the top of these bills are the words "Senate Reprint," and below, the stage of passage at which they were amended by the Senate. This bill having been amended at two different times by the Senate—necessitated two separate prints.

The Members of the House are concerned only with the last print for the reason that it includes all of the amendments made by the Senate. This last Printer's No. 5 should be placed in your ring binder following the tab "Concurrence in Senate Amendments," so that it will be available to you when the bill comes up for consideration by the House. The lower Printer's Number 4 goes in your discarded bill envelope.

All House Bills hereafter placed on your desks with the words "Senate Reprint" at the top are properly filed in bill number order following the tab "Concurrence in Senate Amendments" remembering always to discard the lower printer's number, should a later one for the same bill be received, as in the present instance of House Bill No. 5, and also to remember to discard bills as they are finally acted upon—otherwise your files will be filled with obsolete material.

The most effective rule to follow with few exceptions, is to keep in your ring binder file only the bills which are on your House Calendar from day to day and in the order in which they appear on your calendar. You will be instructed as to the exceptions as they occur.

Mr. Earl Price, has been designated by the Chief Clerk as the staff member who will co-operate with the Members individually in assisting them to understand the proper method of keeping up their personal bill files. His office is located on the First Floor adjacent to that of the Chief Clerk.

The Chief Clerk has had complete files of all House and Senate Bills both pink and white, placed in the two conference rooms at the front and rear of the House Chamber, and on a table in the corner to the right of the Speaker. Complete files will also be found in all committee rooms and caucus rooms. The Members may make personal use of these files at any of these locations, but please do not remove any bills from them, their purpose is for reference only, if they are deleted their usefulness will be destroyed.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. BENTZEL asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, this morning four years ago while the Dorchester, a ship, was crossing the North Atlantic Ocean it was torpedoed and four chaplains, one a Jew, one a Catholic, and two Protestants went down with clasped hands in the North Atlantic Ocean.

In York for the past three or four weeks we have been preparing a memorial to the memory of Rabbi Goode, a Yorker. Much has been said throughout the United States regarding these four chaplains when they were sunk in the North Atlantic, as I say, four years ago this morning. These men had prepared themselves; they had their belts on, their life belts, and when they found that many of the soldiers aboard that ship were without belts they took them off and gave them to the soldiers and went down, as I say, hands clasped.

We of York have inaugurated in our public schools a system whereby tolerance is taught to the boys and girls. We had a book plate made with this inscription, and with the pictures of these four chaplains on it for each and every book in our public schools, in the parochial schools and in the synagogues.

One of the verses in this bookplate is as follows:

"Have we not all one father?

Hath not one God created us?

Why do we deal treacherously every man against his brother,

Profaning the covenant of our fathers?" Malachi II:X

Then further on is this inscription:

"This book, chosen by our teacher, was given to the ..... School in memory of the four gallant chaplains of World War II, Father John P. Washington, Rev. George L. Fox, Rev. Clark V. Poling and Rabbi Alexander D. Goode of York, Pennsylvania, who, when the ship, the Dorchester, was torpedoed and sunk on February 3, 1943, by a German submarine, in the North Atlantic, gave their life jackets to soldiers who lacked their own, and then with arms locked together died in the sea—each murmuring the prayer of his own faith. They died nobly together—that others might live nobly together—live in Brotherhood. Only through the true Brotherhood of Men can come justice and peace—can come freedom from fear and war."

In other words, gentlemen, we of York are trying to practice that fine principle of trying to live up to the creed that all men are created equal, and we believe that this method of education amongst the young folks is probably the finest tribute we could give to our fellow men.

We have, of course, many men who are sponsors, who have joined in the movement and we have many organizations who have sponsored this fine program. One of these men was Rabbi Goode a citizen of York and this memorial goes on to say:

"A Memorial Book Project was originated by the York County branch of the Association for Childhood Education, and in February 1946 was dedicated to the work for brotherhood among all men. The individuals of York serving on the sponsoring committee and the organizations approving the memorial project are respectively

Mrs. Robert Angelo; Miss Belle I. Anthony; Miss Geneva M. Bowman; Mr. George S. Dabney; Rev. T. S. Dickson; Dr. A. W. Ferguson; Father Wm. J. Fitzpatrick; Rabbi M. N. Friedman; Miss Irene Hawkins; Dr. Victoria Lyles; Mr. Arthur Markowitz; Miss Julia C. Sprenkel; Mrs. Arthur R. Thomas; B'nai B'rith York Lodge, No. 1157; Catholic Clergy of York; Christians and Jews, Round Table; Ministerial Association of York County; N. A. A. C. P.; Parent-Teacher Association of York; American Legion York Post, No. 127; American Legion, Charles E. Williams Post, No. 794; Amvets, York Post, No. 2; Haym Salomon Post No. 205, Jewish War Veterans; Veterans of Foreign Wars, York Post, No. 556.

I want to close by reading a little poem written by

THE FOUR CHAPLAINS

Bound for lands across the sea
To battle the foes of democracy,
A transport became a blazing wreck,
Torpedoes crashed through hull and deck,
Sending heroes to watery graves,
Swallowed up by the ocean waves;
The morbid news, brought grief and gloom,
February marked their month of doom.

It's a tragic story to pen,
Four chaplains served their God and men;
Commandments and cross; the insignia on their coats,
The chant of prayers, heard from their throats;
Ministers, priest and a rabbi,
Stood with hands uplifted to the sky,
In line of duty they choose to die;
Aiding others, with preservers close by.

The Protestant, Catholic and Jew,
Praying to the one God they knew,
It serves a sermon for the bigot;
That he be ever tolerant, and not forget,
Linked as one; Protestant, Catholic, and Jew,
Went to death and glory; to the one God they all knew.

PERMISSION TO ADD ADDITIONAL SPONSOR

Mr. FLEMING asked and obtained unanimous consent to add as an additional sponsor to House Bill No. 7, Mr. Barrett.

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of information.

Mr. ANDREWS. Knowing that the fountain-head of information in this House is none other than the Majority Leader, he could save me a lot of trouble by answering an inquiry.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Elk, Mr. Sorg, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SORG. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker and Mr. Majority Leader, does the Majority Leader know whether there is on file and accessible to the Members of this House an annual report by the Turnpike Commission, giving its receipts, expenditures, its operating costs, and outlining the reasons why it was necessary to issue bonds?

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I don't know just where it is. The Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission, being an agency established by this Legislature, I presume would have available to any Member of this Legislature the information the gentleman desires.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have that information, and will the Majority Leader join with me in a request to get it?

Mr. SORG. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. I thank the gentleman.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will also join in the request.

An Act to further amend section two hundred seven of the act, approved the ninth day of April, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 177) entitled "Administrative Code of 1929" requiring certain qualifications for the Adjutant General.

BILL SIGNED

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Daniel B. Strickler) announced that the Chief Clerk having reported that the following bill had passed both houses of the General Assembly and the same being correct, the title was publicly read as follows:

House Bill No. 4

An Act to further amend section two hundred seven of the act, approved the ninth day of April, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 177) entitled "Administrative Code of 1929" requiring certain qualifications for the Adjutant General.

Whereupon,

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Daniel B. Strickler) in the presence of the Senate signed the same.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. HOMSHER read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 78, entitled:

An Act to further amend clauses (k), (s) and (y) of section four and to re-enact and further amend section three hundred one of the act, approved the fifth day of December, one thousand nine hundred thirty-six (1937 P. L. 2897), entitled "An act establishing a system of unemployment compensation to be administered by the Department of Labor and Industry and its existing and newly created agencies with personnel (with certain exceptions) selected on a civil service basis; requiring employers to keep records and make reports, and certain employers to pay contributions based on payrolls to provide moneys for the payment of compensation to certain unemployed persons; providing procedure and administrative details for the determination, payment and collection of such contributions and the payment of such compensation; providing for cooperation with the Federal Government and its agencies; creating certain special funds in the custody of the State Treasurer; and prescribing penalties," providing for modification of the manner in which employer contribution rates are determined, and for a lag between the period on which contribution rates are based and the rate period; and placing experience rating on a permanent basis.

Which was committed to the Committee on Labor and Industry.

Mr. FRAZIER read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 79, entitled:

An Act to further amend section four of the act, approved the twentieth day of May, one thousand nine hundred fifteen (P. L. 566), entitled "An act requiring cities of the first class to establish a pension fund for employees of said cities, and all county or other public employees, if any, paid by appropriation of the city councils thereof, and out of the treasury of said cities; and regulating the administration and the payment of such pensions," providing an optional increase in payments by certain former employees and increasing the maximum monthly pension payments in such cases.

Which was committed to the Committee on Local Government.

Mr. SNOWDEN read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 80, entitled:

An Act declaring and adopting the song "Pennsylvania" by a Pennsylvanian, Gertrude Martin Rohrer, as the State song of the Commonwealth.

Which was committed to the Committee on Public Health and Welfare.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I have just heard read the title of the bill introduced by the distinguished Senator from Lycoming county, which would, if adopted or enacted into law, adopt a new song for the state of Pennsylvania.

Now, certainly, we all recognize in this body, if this bill is referred to the Committee on State Government, which committee is headed by our fearless leader of the Senate on the Republican side, it would tend to overwork that committee, and therefore, Mr. President, I move you that this song and all other bills that would adopt a state song, absolutely be sung by the sponsor before the Chair will accept the bill.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, may I interrogate the gentleman from Cumberland, Mr. Wade.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Cumberland permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. WADE. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I desire to inquire of the gentleman from Cumberland, whether or not his motion will be retroactive.

Mr. WADE. No, Mr. President. I was careful to make the motion to apply to this particular bill and those following.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I desire to point out to the Senate that the gentleman from Cumberland also introduced a bill endeavoring to have a song made the official state song. I see no reason why this Senate should discriminate against the distinguished gentleman from Lycoming, and I am sure that the only way the Committee on State Government will ever decide which will be the official state song will be to have either solos, duets, quartets or choirs, and the gentleman from Cumberland, I think, should be hoisted upon his own petard as far as his state song is concerned.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair did not hear a second to the motion.

Mr. SNOWDEN. Mr. President, before the motion is acted on, I feel it should be amended to be made retroactive. I believe if one song should be sung before this body, both songs should be sung, and I think the one that was introduced first should be sung first, so Mr. President, I would like to amend that motion so that it be retroactive, to include all songs that have been introduced.

The PRESIDENT. A motion to amend is improper, because there is no motion before the Senate at the present time, it not having been seconded.

Under the circumstances, the Chair feels a new committee should consider this song, because it affects the Commonwealth as a whole, and therefore refers the bill to the Committee on Public Health and Welfare.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS THE SENATE

Mr. HOLLAND asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, in presenting this bill to the Chair, I believe a few words of explanation are due to the members of the Senate.

Mr. PRESIDENT, I want it understood, in presenting this bill, there is no reflection on any member, either of the Senate or of the Lower House, but it is being presented to correct an evil which has existed in Pennsylvania, making the General Assembly a secondary job. Any member who is elected to the General Assembly must work at some other profession to live. I believe, if this bill is enacted, it will be the first step to arouse the people of Pennsylvania to the fact that the General Assembly should be a full time job.

Article 3, section 33, of the Constitution reads as follows:

"A member who has a personal or private interest in any measure or bill proposed or pending before the General Assembly shall disclose the fact to the House of which he is a member, and shall not vote thereon."

This has been the cause of much discussion. I went to the trouble in the last few weeks to read the proceedings of the different constitutional conventions held in Pennsylvania, and I find that in each convention, especially in the early days of the General Assembly, there was much concern as to the honesty of the members of the General Assembly, and time and time again moves were started to make this a full time job, and every time it was, the members of the constitutional conventions said this was an honorary job, that it was a great honor to serve, and should not carry any compensation at all.

After making these brilliant speeches, these members of the particular assemblies, in the early days, rushed madly back the General Assembly and presented bills granting large tracts of land to relatives of the members of the General Assembly, through bills, which would have given members of their own family considerable money. The result was that the oath that we now take was at last considered and accepted by the constitutional conventions, which would throw sort of a wreath of holiness around the members of both Houses.

As it now stands, every one of us, including myself, represents in some way or another some interest. Certain professions represent many interests, and these professions must represent these interests to live. Others are in the insurance business, some are in the trucking business, some are in the oil business. In other words, every member of the General Assembly is in some business, and every bill that is presented to this House affects them, and he must, to live, get that income from these other sources. I myself, personally, am not immune or holier than thou, because I am on the payroll of a labor union.

Therefore, I feel honestly, that if this article is properly enforced, I myself could not vote, just like some of you who represent other interests can not vote.

It was with this in view, Mr. President, that I had this bill preserved—I imagine it will be preserved after it gets in committee—I mean, prepared, requiring the members of the General Assembly to file financial statements at certain times, and making the failure to file or filing false or incomplete statements, a subject of impeachment. We do not ask them to state the amount of money they receive, but we do ask that every one file with the Secretary of the Senate their source of income, so that the public will know exactly what every member of the Senate or of the House represents, and I believe it will be the first step in freeing this General Assembly from having to go on the outside and work for outside interests to serve in this Assembly, so that you may buy the food and the necessities of life for your family.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. HOLLAND read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 81 entitled:

An Act requiring members of the General Assembly to file financial statements at certain times and making the failure to file, or the filing of false or incomplete statements the subject of impeachment.

Which was committed to the Committee on Judiciary General.

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, if this bill becomes law, I shall be very glad to show my source of income and will bring my file of prescriptions to the Senate.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HALUSKA asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President and members of the Senate, we on this side of the Chamber find it very difficult to understand remarks that are made by members on the other side of the Senate. I do not know what changes may have been made here since the last session, but the voices are hard to understand and even from the Chair, Mr. President, we can not quite understand the decisions made. I feel we should check into the system here and either have it repaired or eliminated, because it is quite difficult over here to understand what is being said on the floor of the Senate. Perhaps this matter should be referred to the Department of Property and Supplies, or some proper committee to check into the matter.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair advises the gentleman from Cambria that the matter will not only be looked into, but the Senators themselves will test the microphones when the Senate is not in session.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, the only thing I understand from the Lieutenant-Governor is when someone is recognized, I can not understand one word coming from the Lieutenant-Governor on this floor.

The PRESIDENT. The matter will be looked into.

MOTION TO INVESTIGATE INSTALLATION OF NEW PERMANENT LOUDSPEAKING EQUIPMENT

Mr. STEVENSON. Mr. President, I would like to revert for just a moment to the suggestion made by the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Haluska, a few minutes ago. During the war-time period, this loudspeaker equipment was put here as rather an improvised arrangement. We have on the part of the Senate a certain unexpired appropriation for improvement to the Senate plant, and I would suggest that the Secretary of the Senate consult with the Department of Property and Supplies, with a view to having a new system of loud speaking put into the Senate, as this was just a temporary arrangement.

The PRESIDENT. Does this gentleman from Clinton desire to put his suggestion in the form of a motion?

Mr. STEVENSON. Mr. President, I move that the Secretary of the Senate be authorized to consult with the Department of Property and Supplies for the purpose of studying the installation of new loud speaking equipment.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Messrs. STIEFEL and ROSENFELD read in their place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 82 entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Moore Institute of Art Science and Industry formerly Philadelphia School of Design for Women at Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

Which was committed to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. RUTH read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 83 entitled:

An Act authorizing the common pleas judges and the county commissioners jointly to create mental clinics for the examination of certain persons convicted of the commission of a crime prior to the sentencing thereof as a means of decreasing the number of habitual offenders; providing for the creation of joint mental clinics among the several counties, and imposing the costs of maintaining and operating such clinics upon the county or counties creating the same.

Which was committed to the Committee on Judiciary General.

Mr. RAHAUSER read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 84 entitled:

An Act to further amend subsection (e) of section three of the act, approved the first day of August, one thousand nine hundred forty-one (P. L. 744), entitled "An act requiring school boards in all school districts, and boards of directors of all vocational school districts, to grant leaves of absence to all school employees who shall volunteer or be called for military or naval service in time of war or during a state of national emergency; preserving certain contracts, salaries, increments, retirement rights, seniority, State contributions and grants to local school boards, eligibility lists, reemployment; authorizing school boards and boards of directors of vocational schools to employ substitutes in place of such employees; requiring school districts and vocational school districts to make additional payments into the School Employees' Retirement Fund; reserving all rights and privileges of employees granted leaves of absence under the provisions herein, and superseding or repealing all contrary laws," by providing that former school employees who entered the military or naval service may obtain credit for such period of service when they return to public school service in another school district or vocational school district.

Which was committed to the Committee on Education.

He also read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 85 entitled:

An Act to repeal the act approved the twenty-ninth day of May, one thousand nine hundred one, (P. L. 327), entitled "An act to prohibit the manufacture and sale of oleomargarine, butterine, and other similar products, when

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

IN THE CITY OF PHILADELPHIA URGING STUDY OF A SITE FOR ERECTION OF A STATE COURT HOUSE AND OFFICE BUILDING

Mr. STIEFEL offered the following resolution which was twice read and referred to the Committee on State Government:

In the Senate, February 4, 1947.

Whereas the dispersal and inconvenient location of the offices of the various departments, commissions, bureaus, and boards of our State Government in the City of Philadelphia is not conducive to efficiency and economy and above all not commensurate with the dignity and greatness of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and,

Whereas the rentals paid by the Commonwealth for its Philadelphia offices for the last two decades would have amply covered the costs of an imposing state-owned building erected structurally and artistically according to the highest and most modern standards of office-building architecture and,

Whereas the acoustics and accommodations of the rooms occupied by the State Courts in the City Hall of Philadelphia are deficient and functionally inadequate, thus requiring changes that cannot be longer delayed and,

Whereas there is thus a definite need now extant in Philadelphia for the erection therein of a State Court House and Office Building and,

Whereas recently the City of Philadelphia and the Pennsylvania Railroad Company have agreed that the so called "Chinese Wall," running from Broad Street Station to 30th Street Station parallel to Market Street be removed and a ninety-foot wide boulevard laid out upon the tract of land now covered by said "Chinese Wall" and that as a part of this development the future width of Fifteenth Street between the proposed boulevard and Market Street is to be fixed at sixty-seven feet and that of Sixteenth Street at seventy-feet and,

Whereas the execution of the aforesaid agreement between the City of Philadelphia and the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will place at the disposal of the City of Philadelphia an available site within less than one hundred yards from City Hall having a length of three-hundred sixty-feet and a depth of two-hundred eighty-feet and thus admirably suited for the erection thereon of a State Court House and Office Building.

Now Be It Therefore Resolved (If the House of Representatives concur) That:

(a) The Joint State Government Commission appoint a committee to make a study of the locational and dispersonal inconveniences of the several State Offices in Philadelphia and the effect thereof upon the efficiency of the services rendered.

(b) That the City of Philadelphia be urged by the General Assembly of Pennsylvania to place at the disposal of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania the aforesaid site for the erection thereon of a State Court House and Office Building.

(c) That his Excellency the Governor of Pennsylvania be urged to order a study by his subordinates of the suitability of the aforesaid site for the erection thereon of a State Court House and Office Building, as well as the advisability of such a project.

(d) That the General Assembly of Pennsylvania enact such legislation that may be necessary for the initiation of the project.

(e) That the Secretary of the Senate forward copies of this resolution to his Excellency the Governor of Pennsylvania to the Mayor of Philadelphia, and to the President of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS THE SENATE

Mr. LETZLER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make a statement on behalf of the Committee on Mines and Mining.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Clearfield may proceed.

Mr. LETZLER. Mr. President, pursuant to the action of this Senate taken yesterday, the Committee on Mines and Mining met this morning to give further consideration to the resolution on the big and little inch pipe lines.

When the Committee convened, an Associated Press dispatch was read to the committee, and I want to quote this dispatch, because it determined the action of the Committee to a large extent, in fact quite conclusively.

This dispatch reads as follows:

"Washington, Feb. 3-(AP)—The Senate Armed Services Committee today refused to recommend postponement of the sale of the $146,000,000 Government-Owned Big and Little Inch Pipelines

"Chairman Gurney (R-SD), told reporters after a closed session that committee members declined to vote favorably on any of the resolutions requesting a delay in disposing of the facilities. The lines were built during the war for the emergency transportation of petroleum from Texas to the east coast.

"Gurney added, in response to questions, that apparently the War Assets Administration is free to go ahead with its announced intention of selling the lines for use in transporting either oil or natural gas use.

"The committee has been informed by War Assets Administrator Robert M. Littlejohn that bids for the purchase of the lines must be in by Feb. 8 and that they will be opened Feb. 10, Gurney said.

"A resolution for postponement of the sale also is before House Interstate Commerce Committee, but there have been indications that similar opposition to delay exists in that committee."

In view of the action apparently already taken in Washington, the Committee on Mines and Mining felt that any further action on this matter at this time would be futile. I just wanted to make that report to the Senate.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. ROOT and SAX. RESOLUTION No. 10.

In the House of Representatives, February 3, 1947.

Early in 1946, the Governor of this Commonwealth, the Honorable Edward Martin, convinced that soon Pennsylvania's colleges would be overcrowded, appointed the Governor's Advisory Committee on Higher Education to consider plans to insure to every qualified Pennsylvania veteran and recent high school graduate the opportunity of attending college.

The Area College Center Plan was finally promulgated, and went into operation July 1st, 1946, realizing the Governor's aim.

There are now ten Area College Centers throughout Pennsylvania having a total student enrollment of approximately thirty-five hundred.

The Area College Center Plan, designed as a temporary emergency measure, has been well established administratively on a self-supporting basis without legislative assistance, the General Assembly not being in session at its inception; therefore be it

Resolved, That this House of Representatives extends its highest praise to former Governor, now Senator Edward Martin, for his foresight in recognizing the emergency and his wholehearted support of the plan devised and carried into operation; to the Governor's Advisory Committee on Higher Education; to Dr. Francis B. Haas and the Department of Public Instruction and Dr. Robert M. Steele, Coordinator, on whom fell the burden of administering the plan; the presidents of the colleges and universities of Pennsylvania, who have contributed their ideas, facilities and faculties; all the Area Coordinators; all the local school authorities; and all those other individuals who have aided in making the Plan the success it is; and be it further

Resolved, That this House of Representatives approves

the Area College Center Plan and desires that it be continued at least until June 30, 1949, and to that end requests that with the Governor's approval, the Department of Public Instruction and the Coordinator will submit to the Legislature a program for the continuation of such plan during the next two years, and any recommendations they may have for legislation necessary for the carrying out of such program; and be it further Resolved, That copies of this resolution shall be transmitted to United States Senator Edward Martin, to the Governor of this Commonwealth, and to the Superintendent of the Department of Public Instruction, and the Coordinator of the Area College Center Plan.

Referred to Committee on Education.

SENATE

MONDAY, February 10, 1947

The Senate met at 4:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Daniel B. Strickler) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. W. MURRAY YOUNG, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, unto whom all hearts are open, all desires known, and from whom no secrets are hid, cleanse the thoughts of our hearts by the inspiration of Thy Holy Spirit, that we may perfectly love Thee and worthily magnify Thy high and holy Name.

Be pleased to let Thy blessed Will hold complete sway over our lives, that we may honor and serve, acceptably, our day and generation.

Make us all most proficient in weighty and profound matters of legislation for the common good. May we be conversant with, and proficient in, political science and political economy, so that the work of our hearts and minds shall prove to be a true exponent of Thy Divine Will for the good of the citizenry of our beloved state and nation.

Infinite One, may this day of high privilege make us ever aware of our several responsibilities to Thee, our God, to our fellowman, and ourselves. Through Christ our Lord, we pray. Amen!

Boyle, 400 East Cheltenham Avenue, Philadelphia, Philadelphia County, for appointment as Judge of the Municipal Court of the First Judicial District of Pennsylvania, composed of the City and County of Philadelphia, until the first Monday of January, 1948, vice William Gray Knowles, deceased.

JAMES H. DUFF.

MEMBER OF THE MONTGOMERY COUNTY BOARD OF ASSISTANCE

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, February 10, 1947.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In conformity with law, I have the honor hereby to nominate for the advice and consent of the Senate Miss Thelma Feeman (Republican), R. F. D. No. 4, Danville, Montour County, for appointment as a member of the Montour County Board of Assistance, to serve until December 31, 1949, and until her successor is duly appointed and qualified, vice Miss Anna Pritchard, Danville, whose term expired.

JAMES H. DUFF.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. BARR asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President and members of the Senate, first I want to commend the Department of Property and Supplies for fixing this loud speaking system; I now can understand the Lieutenant-Governor.

I am sure that Governor Duff has never over-indulged—except perhaps in campaign oratory—but I am equally sure that the Governor is nursing tonight the biggest and most painful and most expensive hangover ever witnessed in the state.

The hangover, like all of them, comes from liquor.

More specifically, it comes from the state's Liquor Control Board, which Governor Duff inherited from Governor Martin and Governor James.

Ordinarily, the excessive use of alcohol is said to produce the phenomenon of seeing double, or even triple. But in this case of acute political alcoholism, the phenomenon has reversed itself. Where we ought to see three men, we only see one.

The Liquor Control Board has become, through executive failure, a one-man show, a dictatorship.

The dictator is the chairman of the board. The Legislature set up the Liquor Control Board as an agency to be guided by three men, presumably qualified by the variety of talents and experience needed to direct a vast business enterprise. Instead, we have one man, with no discernable talent nor experience, operating the state's liquor merchandising system to suit himself.

There has been one vacancy on the Board for six years.

And the other place is occupied by a man unable to serve.

This so-called board could hold its meetings in the nearest telephone booth, with Gelder making the motions, seconding himself, and calling for the yeas and nays.

It is an administrative farce, and a state-wide scandal.

It is illegal in spirit, if not in fact, because it defies the intent of the Legislature as defined in the Act creating the liquor control system of the state.

It gives the people of this state a raw deal.

Never have so many paid so much for so little.

The neighboring monopoly states have better quality merchandise at lower prices than Pennsylvania. As for New York and the District of Columbia, I refer you to the advertisements you will see every day in the New York and Washington newspapers.

We all know that enforcement of the liquor laws is ineffective, subject to every kind of influence, spotty, unable to protect the decent, law-abiding licensee from his unscrupulous competitors.

The merchandising policy of the board is no policy at all. Pennsylvania has been through the war years and is today the dumping ground for every unknown brand of liquor and wine to be discovered in this country. I ask you, who ever heard of Old Camel whiskey? Gelder heard of it and I think he is the only one. When they sweep out the distilleries, they send the product to Pennsylvania where the hapless people, suffering under the Gelder dictatorship, buy at the Board's prices because they can get nothing else.

The business methods of the Board are atrocious. With bulging profits, there is a case on record of the Board failing to profit by discounting its bills promptly enough. This incident was admitted by the present Speaker of the House, then Republican Leader in that body, who acknowledged that the Board had passed up discounts amounting to $11,811 in one month. You can find Mr. Lichtenwalter's admission in the Legislative Journal, page 812, for the 1945 session.

How many other such incidents have occurred, only a complete investigation of the Board will reveal.

The liquor store shelves, empty of good brands, and the price schedules, are the best evidence of the mal-administration. And let me add that this can not be hidden from the people of the state. It is something they know from their own experience; it is something that clips the contents of their pocketbooks.

We complain about the one-man clubs in this state.

I am sure that our troubles start with our one-man board.

The people are looking to the present governor, in whom they have demonstrated confidence, to justify that confidence. They expect him to act.

They want Governor Duff to cure that hangover, and not with hair of the dog that bit him. They want to see something new in the annals of Republican government in this state; a fully manned and efficiently operated Liquor Control Board.

The Board should have a member who knows merchandising.

The Board should have a member who knows the liquor industry.

The Board should have a member who knows law enforcement.

Then it will function in the interest of the people of Pennsylvania. Then our liquor control system will really control. Then the Pennsylvania consumer will be protected against high prices and poor quality. They want the bootlegger and the dishonest licensee eliminated. They want to see that the evils in the liquor trade, which produced national failure of prohibition, are stopped in time to prevent a repeat performance of that "Noble Experiment."

The responsibility is the Governor's.

I trust that he will meet it.

There is much more to be said. There is plenty of detail that could be supplied. I intend to keep up the fight until we get action for the people of this state. You will continue to hear from me until this public scandal has been corrected and until the gentlemen on the other side of the aisle join me in seeing that this situation is cleared for the people of our Commonwealth.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, for the sake of the record I would like to correct a few of the impressions that the gentleman from Allegheny county, Mr. Barr, has left with the members of the Senate. He talked about prices in Pennsylvania stores as compared with prices in the state of New York. I hold here, Mr. President, an ad from the New York Times of February 6, 1947, and here are some prices that are in comparison with prices in New York. By the way, I am not too familiar, Mr. President, with types of liquor and brands. However, I suppose some people know more about that than I do.

However, Mr. President, in New York, the price of Martin's V. V. O. is $7.94, and in Pennsylvania, it retails at $6.34. In New York, Sanderson's is $6.96 and in Pennsylvania it is $6.11. Ballantine's in New York is $7.94 and in Pennsylvania it retails at $6.35. On down to Johnny Walker Black Label, or perhaps I should say up, because in New York for Johnny Walker Black Label they get $10.98 per bottle, while in Pennsylvania it retails at $7.52. These have all been Scotch whiskies I have been talking about.

The next classification seems to be whiskies—I suppose those are ryes; King's Black Label is cheaper in New York than it is here, as in New York it sells for $3.28 as against $4.14. Harwood's Canadian is $5.49 in New York as compared with $6.40 in Pennsylvania.

Comparatively speaking, Mr. President, prices compare very favorably in Pennsylvania with prices in the state of New York. Here is the ad and here is the comparison.

Mr. President, to correct another impression, the gentleman quoted from the Legislative Journal of the House, speaking of the then Majority Leader, Mr. Lichtenwalter, admitting that the Board had lost in one month, by failing to take advantage of discounts, $11,811.54.

Mr. President, what the gentleman did not say, however, was this, that that was after the time when the then controlling party in the House, which was the party of which Mr. Barr is a member, held up the administration's tax program and did not pass the tax anticipation legislation, and tax anticipation notes could not be sold, and the money was not available for the Board, Mr. President, to take advantage of discounts at that time, purely because those in control of the House at that time did not see fit to pass the necessary legislation until after the biennium had elapsed.

Mr. President, in doing a big business there are some orders on which discounts can not be taken advantage of due to slow transportation or the fact that some disputes arise as to the quantity or quality of merchandise.

The figures on discounts are these: from January 1, 1943 to December 1, 1944, the last available figures I have here, the Board lost, because of disputed bills and so forth, $11,811.54 in discounts. However, during that same period, Mr. President, they earned in discounts $2,306,480.63.

Mr. President, I think all of us agree, as soon as some one with the necessary qualifications can be found, a Liquor Control Board appointment should be made, but the record speaks for itself, Mr. President, and apparently on the record, and that is the only thing anyone has to go by, a pretty good job has been done by the Liquor Control Board in Pennsylvania.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, my memory is pretty good and I can remember Mr. Heyburn making that statement in 1945, but at that time, Mr. Heyburn, I came over to your desk and told you how wrong you were. I did not think you would repeat it at this time. The month I referred to, Mr. Heyburn, was the month of December, 1944, and if you tell me the Legislature was around here for six months preceding that, then something is wrong with my mind.

I want to tell you in that year of 1944 the total sales by the Liquor Control Board were $165,662,874, showing a net profit of $21,000,000 plus $11,787,621 from the ten per cent tax. Mr. Heyburn, you should be familiar with the fact that the Liquor Control Board has available at all times $5,000,000 from the General Fund, in order that they can discount their bills. It is a revolving fund; it is there for that purpose.

If you want me to go into this any further, Mr. President, I can tell you the distillers where they did not take the discount, and I will give you some of them: Seagrams for that month, their bill was $135,000 and they failed to take the discount of one and one half per cent which was $2,131, and they lost that. Hiram Walker, their bill for that month was $76,000 and they failed to take the discount amounting to $1,100. However, not to clutter up the record, the amount for the month was the one thing you were correct on, Mr. Heyburn, when you said the amount the state lost was $11,811.54.

As to the brands, Mr. President, I will have that schedule for you also. I have my own schedule of the popular brands.

I want to ask the members whether they know how much a bottle of Scotch cost. The price when it lands in New York is ninety-seven cents plus the cost of carrying the bottle over, or $1.04, when it is laid down at the pier, and how they can arrive at the figure of $8.95 or $9.95 in this state, that is one of the things I want to find out.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I have one further correction. The gentleman from Allegheny has seen fit to criticize a member of the Board because of sickness and I would like to submit to this body that criticism of the one member of the Board not being able to serve because of illness is unwarranted and unjust. In the first place, he has been attending to his duties right up until almost the present moment. It is conceivable, of course, that any three-man board may see the time when two members were incapacitated because of illness.

However, be that as it may, the distinguished gentleman, my colleague from Delaware County, has answered, I think, in every respect with the possible exception of the criticism of the gentleman from Allegheny as to the merchandising policy, and in that respect he has answered to a large degree.

Mr. President, I want to submit to you, and to the members of this distinguished body, that any business which transacts a total business of $201,375,968 plus, in the period beginning June 1, 1945 and ending May 31, 1946, with a total profit to the Commonwealth of $42,800,000 plus, does not have a faulty merchandising problem by any standard.

During that period the market was very much upset by conditions brought about by the war and nobody could change that, nobody could alter that, but in their merchandising policy they have been proven sound, contrary to what our colleague from Allegheny County charges, they have brought back to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania a total profit of almost $43,000,000.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, it is mighty entertaining to have this picture reversed after so many years of hearing it the other way.

You know, you can not leave a rotten apple in a basket unless you wish to make the rest of the basket rotten too.

You can defend the Liquor Board if you want. I will take the last objection made by the good Senator from Cumberland, George Wade, and take it first. Certainly any body in Pennsylvania operating a monopoly such as the State Liquor Control Board is, with the low wages paid their help or their clerical staff, could easily make a profit as much as the one he enumerated here to the Senate, of $42 odd millions of dollars.

For the same amount of liquor purchased in other states, I would say those states are enriched to a greater degree and to a larger amount than the state of Pennsylvania, because of the numerous persons in those states who make a livelihood from that particular business.

So far as the brand names are concerned, I may say to the gentleman from Delaware that that is particularly amusing to me. He said he does not know any of the brand names. Well, in Pennsylvania about the only brand name we knew about for years and years and volumes and cases was a brand known as Kinsey. I think you will remember that. You may also remember the putrid smell that went with it, if you ever drank any of it, and I presume the Senator from Delaware, when bitten by a snake, might have been tempted.

Mr. President, this question of liquor administration in Pennsylvania is not new. The last day of the session of 1945, after previous attempts to have the majority do something about it, the minority introduced a resolution asking for a complete investigation of the administration. That resolution, by the way, was not even printed in the Legislative Journal, as properly it should have been.

The question of liquor distribution in Pennsylvania is one that requires some examination. Charges of favoritism have been made upon this floor and no one has successfully answered those charges. You talk about merchandising in this state. Do any of you know how the system operates, the question of rationing in Pennsylvania, the question of allotments to the various licensees, the question of the types of liquors that some licensees are privileged to get, as compared with the types of liquors that other licensees are required to take? These are questions of administration. The state is in the liquor business and therefore that business belongs to the state and we ought to investigate every phase of it, and I certainly would hate to admit, along with the gentleman from Delaware, that in six long years we have not found a man in this great Commonwealth of ours with the necessary ability to take a position on the Liquor Control Board. If the Governor would allow, I would be glad to suggest some names to him, and I believe they would do as good a job by working half time as other people do full time.

I might suggest to the gentleman from Cumberland County as to the question of a member being sick, it is not inappropriate for the members of the Senate to criticize that particular phase of the matter, because if there were three members appointed to the Board, as there should be and as is required by law, the question of one member being sick would not make that much difference, but certainly, even with a three-man Board, with one person incapacitated and one not even named to the Board, then you find a one-man-dictatorship, which is exactly what the Senator from Allegheny County charges.

I might say, Mr. President, I have charged upon the Senate floor time and time again that we, the people of Pennsylvania, ought to know whether there is any truth to the story that when Kinsey liquor was dropped upon the market in Pennsylvania it was a particular brand that was allowed to be sold only in Pennsylvania, it could not be sold anywhere else, and there was something like one million dollars of undercover graft money paid out to somebody. I have charged that before and some time I would like to know the answer, because certainly on a legitimate deal we would never have taken that much bad whisky.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I told the Majority Floor Leader that I intended doing this today, and this is not what you might call a Pearl Harbor attack. I am warning him I will be back next Monday with more information and a list of popular brands for Mr. Heyburn, and the prices that are being charged in other states nearby, where they do not even have a monopoly and where they are not the largest purchaser of liquor, as is the state of Pennsylvania.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, when I came to the Senate in 1935 it was my privilege, so I considered it, to learn that Senator Gelder was a man of the highest character. No matter who would be put on that Board, he would be subject to criticism, he would be reviled by those who wanted licenses and, for reasons which members of the Board would see fit and proper to deny applications, naturally those so refused would say there was something wrong with the Board, that we should have a new Board.

I am not criticising the remarks made by my colleagues on the other side, when they recommend and urge the appointment of another member to the Board to complete the membership of the Board, but I certainly would be remiss in not reaffirming my faith in Senator Gelder. Outside of the Governor I do not believe there is anyone on the payroll of the state who has had a bigger job and who has done a better job under most adverse circumstances than Senator Gelder.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I do not think my colleague and friend, Senator Mallery, meant the innuendo that was in his speech, but just to clear the record I would like to have it known that I have never been to the Liquor Control Board to get a license for anyone, I have only been in that building once since my advent in the Senate of Pennsylvania back in 1940, so there is nothing personal in that, but I do know a lot of other men who have been there quite often and who have been very successful in getting licenses and favors for their friends.

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President and members of the Senate, I have been in the Senate since 1936 and I dare say I have seen them come and go. When I was first admitted to this body, Mr. Crossen was Chairman of the Liquor Control Board, and to me he represented the worst that we ever had, notwithstanding the fact that he was appointed by a Democratic Governor. Mr. Hitchler, who was Dean of Dickinson College and the gentleman who succeeded Mr. Crossen, was still worse.

However, with respect to Senator Gelder I dare say he has done an excellent job. Whenever he is approached he is fair, goes into matters very closely, honestly and fairly. It does not make any difference what party you are connected with, but unfortunately he has worked under adverse conditions, to repeat what my good friend from Blair, Senator Mallery said, and if his name were submitted to the Senate tomorrow for confirmation, I would go on record as voting for him.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I always get a certain thrill out of hearing men stand up for one another, and I want to join with Senator Mallery and Senator Jaspán and Senator Barr in saying that Fred Gelder is a fine man.

The only thing that I object to is the unsympathetic attitude he displays toward the men and women who are interested in the liquor industry. You know, while we are talking about it, the men who are really interested in the liquor industry are the men who work; the men who purchase liquor are the men who work in the mills, the shops and the mines; they come home and at times they need a little pick-up after their day's work and they will take a drink of liquor. That is an old custom here in Pennsylvania and has been for years. In fact, they tell me back prior to the whiskey rebellion in Westmoreland County they nursed their younguns on it. There is nothing wrong with it; if a man knows how to handle it, it is perfectly all right and it has certain medicinal attributes.

I want to say that here is a man who does not know the business, and I think that Fred Gelder, if he were here in the Senate, would be the first one to admit that, so far as the liquor industry and its workings are concerned, he knows little about it.

If we are going to be in the liquor business let us make it available to those who want it at reasonable prices.

I want to say also I do not practice law and I have no occasion to go to the Liquor Control Board to get licenses for anybody, and I know the Senator from Blair, Mr. Mallery, does not suspect me of crawling in the back door and getting kicked out the front.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I do not want to prolong this any longer, but I would like to refer the members of the Senate to a bulletin prepared by the Distilled Spirits Institute, Inc., 1135 National Press Building, Washington, D. C., prepared for the Conference of the National Press Association, held at Chicago, October 9, 1946.

Here in Schedule "A" is reported all the profits of all the States engaged in the liquor business and in the sale of liquor throughout the country.

In Pennsylvania, Mr. President, even in the year of 1945, when everybody said there was no merchandise available and there was nothing to sell, they showed a profit of $51,326,000 on all their business, and the only state to exceed that, Mr. President, was New York with a total profit of $66,236,000. Michigan had $35,000,000, Illinois had $41,000,000 and Ohio had $47,000,000, and so on down the line. Pennsylvania ranks second of all the states.

Somebody, Mr. President, must have been doing some good merchandising over in the Liquor Control Board, as this record shows.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President we are all aware that Pennsylvania is the second largest state and the second largest consumer of whiskey, New York, naturally, is first and we are second and then come Illinois and Ohio in rank, third and fourth.

I do not like to prolong this, but it seems to me that the majority side brings us up here each week and we are not doing a darned thing; there is no calendar today, and I think this might be a good day to bring this out in the open.

"The State Liquor Control Board today was accused of grabbing 'on unjustified profit to the tune of many millions from the pockets of Pennsylvanians.'

"Its pricing policies were sharply criticized as paving the way for the reign of the bootlegger. It was charged with setting prices so high that they are 'almost prohibitive to any but the wealthy.'

"The charges were made by Laurence H. Eldredge, president of the Pennsylvania Alcoholic Beverage Study, Inc., as the 'first shot in a campaign to bring down State liquor prices to a fair level.' Mr. Eldredge opened his drive in a speech in Philadelphia.

"A check of Pittsburgh State Stores today showed that customers are 'staying away in droves' despite the fact that rationing ended last Monday. The better grades of whiskies are still on the shelves, the customers refusing apparently to pay the price the Board has set. Even Scotch, bourbon and bottled in bond rye are available.

"There is no justification for the Board's raising prices which are already excessive,' Mr. Eldredge told the Junior Board of Commerce in Philadelphia. 'Our citizens are willing to pay fair prices for liquor. But they will not submit to prices which are almost prohibitive to any but the wealthy.'

"It is bad liquor control which creates a class of favored customers. Its effect is to enforce a kind of prohibition on people of moderate means, while allowing unlimited supplies to the well-to-do. This will lead to a revival of bootlegging.'

"Mr. Eldredge pointed out that the Board has boosted prices an average of 54 cents on a fifth of whiskey.

"This about doubles the already swollen profits of the State monopoly, which totaled more than 22 million dollars in 1946," he said.

"There is no valid excuse for this amazing boost of prices. It is not a cost of living increase, representing higher costs of production or providing better wages for State Store employees. It has nothing to do with scarcities."

And then he gives a comparison of what whiskey cost in 1942 and what it costs today in the State of Pennsylvania. The gentlemen from Delaware mentioned a few brands and I will now mention a few. Old Overholt Rye, we all know that brand, was $2.42 in 1942, and today it is $6.86 on the shelves in the State Stores in Pennsylvania. Old Forester Bourbon, a good Bourbon, was $3.50 in 1942, and today it is $7.21.

The gentleman a little while ago mentioned some Scotch Johnny Walker Black Label, $5.64, it was then, and $7.52 now, and the price we pay in England and in Scotland has not been raised one cent.

Mr. HEYBURN. Positively, Mr. President, I will not get on my feet again but I would like to answer the last remarks made by the gentleman from Allegheny.

I would like to tell the gentleman from Allegheny that Pennsylvania is not second in the consumption of liquor at all, it is fourth; it is second in profits, but fourth in consumption.

Again, the gentleman from Allegheny quoted prices today as compared with 1942. The Federal Government in Washington put a tax of $9 per gallon on whiskey, and that is the reason prices are up. It is silly to compare prices now with prices in 1942, because the gentleman should know that in 1942 the Federal Government tax was $4 a gallon and today it is $9 a gallon, and that is the answer to a lot of the increases in prices.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I know the government tax was $2.32 on a fifth of whiskey. I have figures here also.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. FRAZIER. Mr. President, as one of the new members, may I rise to a point of inquiry?

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Philadelphia will state his inquiry.

Mr. FRAZIER. Mr. President, I happen to be in this Senate a good many years ago and I am wondering how many times a Senator may be heard on any one day; ought we not stop discussions some time?

The PRESIDENT. Members may not speak on any subject more than twice, without getting permission of the Senate. The Chair heard no objection.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I believe the biggest profit made out of clubs in Pennsylvania is from one-armed bandits. I would like to ask who do you go to see to make the "fix" to get slot machines in a club.

The PRESIDENT. The Senate can not speak on that question.

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, I think this is getting to be a farce. I have listened to the different arguments on both sides, and there is merit to both sides of the argument.

I think the point involved here, Mr. President, is whether the Governor will make the Liquor Control Board a three-man Board. I sincerely hope, and I feel I interpret the sentiments of those who really are interested in the progress of the state of Pennsylvania through the medium of the Liquor Control Board, when I say we hope that the Governor will make this appointment and make it quite hastily.

RESOLUTION

CONGRATULATIONS EXTENDED TO THE PUBLISHERS OF "THE EVENING BULLETIN"

Messrs. JASPAN and STIEFEL, offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to.

In the Senate, February 10, 1947.

"Nearly everybody reads the Evening Bulletin."

This statement is true in Philadelphia and it is surprising in how many other cities and towns one finds many constant readers of "The Evening Bulletin."

Many Philadelphia generations have been virtually raised on "The Evening Bulletin." First, we as children, learned to read its comics then in connection with our school work, we followed current event items in the "Bulletin" news. Later we gathered our debating materials from its pages and how much Beatrice Fairfax or Dorothy Dix solved our love problems, one cannot say as we are a little hazy on the subject today. When we turned to political interests, we always felt we could obtain an impartial viewpoint from the "Bulletin." And now many of us are developing an interest in the obituaries. A similar recital could be made by five generations of Philadelphians.

"The Evening Bulletin" is almost as Philadelphian as the Liberty Bell and Philadelphia Scapple.

Now that it has entered upon its new venture of publishing "The Sunday Bulletin" we fully expect it to live up to and continue its one hundred year reputation for public confidence, acceptance and service.

We know that the publishers of "The Evening Bulletin" mean every word of the following statement which was made in the first edition of "The Sunday Bulletin"—

"It will be our continuing effort to present the news impartially and fairly and to search out and reveal events and trends which affect the life of the community. The Sunday edition of The Bulletin will, like the daily, be independent in politics—not tied to any party or political group—and, we trust, in editorial treatment of all subjects, more than fair and courteous to those who may differ with its views," therefore be it

Resolved, By the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that it congratulates the publishers of "The Evening Bulletin" upon their new venture in publishing "The Sunday Bulletin" and wishes them the continued success which has been theirs; and be it further a copy of this resolution to the publishers of "The Philadelphia Bulletin" and "The Sunday Bulletin."

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate transmits

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. KEPHART read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 131, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act approved the third day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven, (P. L. 1333), entitled "An act concerning elections, including general, municipal, special and primary elections, the nomination of candidates, primary and election expenses and election contests; creating and defining membership of county boards of elections; imposing duties upon the Secretary of the Commonwealth, courts, county boards of elections, county commissioners; imposing penalties for violation of the act, and codifying, revising and consolidating the laws relating thereto; and repealing certain acts and parts of acts relating to elections," changing procedure for the voting of electors in actual military service who are absent from their place of residence, further regulating the filing of nomination petitions and nomination papers; the withdrawal of nominated candidates; the payment of fees by persons nominated at primary elections; the filing of substitute nomination certificates to fill vacancies caused by the withdrawal of candidates, and further regulating the date of the primary election.

Which was committed to the Committee on Elections.

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. MAHANY, offered the following resolution, which was twice read, as follows:

In the Senate, February 10, 1947.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur) That when the Senate adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday, February 17, 1947, at four o'clock p. m.; and when the House of Representatives adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday, February 17, 1947, at nine o'clock, p. m.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, before we adopt this resolution I would like to make a brief statement.

We are now completing the sixth week of this session. I have spent practically one-third of my natural life in these Chambers and I have seen many sessions in progress, but I have not seen or taken part in any session that has done less than we have up until this present time.

What is wrong I do not know. We see by the papers that a small group of men have taken upon themselves the handling of the fiscal situation of this Commonwealth. All of us have been duly elected to serve the people of this Commonwealth and we feel that we should have some knowledge of what is taking place. If the majority has reached the end of the line and is unable to continue, we in our humble way offer our services. We feel we should have knowledge of what is taking place here.

Here it is the tenth day of February and our calendar is very slim—one bill on the calendar and it is postponed. I am wondering what we come here for. I, like many more of us, would like to stay at home. If we stay at home we are questioned by our people. When we arrive home over the weekends we are asked to give an accounting of what we have accomplished and we must bow our heads in shame.

According to our history, we have 85 bills in committee and certainly some of those bills could be acted upon. I see no reason why we can not get the wheels turning and bring some of the bills out of committee, which have no bearing on the fiscal condition of the Commonwealth.

We find that in Pittsburgh a group of interests, real estate men, are asking for a sales tax; we find in Philadelphia the Chamber of Commerce condemning a sales tax. We do not know whether a special few are being favored, outsiders who are going to set up our policies, but we, the men in this Chamber and in the House, ought to know what is going on.

I am not trying to criticize the administration or my colleagues, but I am offering our aid, our help, our advice, to sit down and determine what is holding up this session from making progress.

If the majority has knowledge why not tell us. If they have no program, again, why not tell us, but I am getting somewhat tired, as one member of this Body, coming here every Monday and listening to a resolution that when the Senate adjourns this week we shall convene next Monday at 4 o'clock, and then coming back here Monday with nothing to do.

So I hope, Mr. President, that next week our committees may function and bring out some of these bills, rather than wait until April or May and try to pass a hundred bills in one day, and none of us have any knowledge of what we are voting on.

So I am asking the leaders on the Republican side of the Senate to poll the committees, put us to work, bring out some of these bills and get rid of them and then, when the Governor is ready with his program, we can decide slowly and surely our right course.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

The resolution was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Dear Mr. Lichtenwalter:

I want to express my sincere thanks and appreciation to you and the members of the House of Representatives for the tribute you paid Harry as expressed in the flowers you sent him and the Resolution you sent me.

While it is difficult to adjust oneself to such a tragic happening it is such thoughts and kindnesses as these that have helped me during the past month.

I shall always cherish the Resolution as a memory of the office to which Harry had aspired.

Very sincerely yours,

/s/ CATHARINE SCHLECHT.

REPORT OF THE DOLLAR SAVINGS BANK

The SPEAKER laid before the House list of depositors who have not made a deposit within two years and also the 183rd Semi-Annual Statement December 1, 1946.

(For list and report see appendix).

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, my only question of personal privilege is that I wanted to try to save the Commonwealth some money.

I have here a large bill, a General State Authority Bill. Some other Member of the House, whose name I do not know, has prepared an identical bill. Of course, if he introduces his bill and I introduce mine there will be a lot of unnecessary printing. I would just like to know who the Member of the House is who has had a General State Authority Bill drafted. If he wants to introduce it all right, I will get out of the way or I will co-sponsor it with him.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cambria please read the title of the bill.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, "To promote the welfare of the people of the Commonwealth; creating a General State Authority as a body corporate and politic with power to construct, improve and operate the projects, and to lease the same, and to fix and collect fees, rentals and charges for the use thereof . . ."

The SPEAKER. The Members will please take notice of the request of the Minority Leader.

The Chair again recognizes the Minority Leader, Mr. Andrews.

MOTION TO GO INTO COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House now resolve itself into a Committee of the Whole for the purpose of considering a date to which this House should recess while a Legislative Program is being prepared for its consideration.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion. On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I am not offering this motion in any frivolous spirit. We have been here now, the newspapers tell us, for six weeks. The net result is one bill on first reading on our calendar to-night.

Now, Mr. Speaker, I see the gentleman from Erie, the redoubtable Dalrymple—I don't know how many snowbanks he crawled out of or through to get here. For what? For another week of delay? It is not my fault; it is not your fault that you don't have a program. Why, gentleman of the House, if you took the bills which the Democrats have introduced, you would hardly have an index; you would hardly have a history. How long are we going to dilly-dally with a committee, a committee that has been subject to the advice of the Governor, to advise the committee in order that the committee can advise the Governor, who is assembling all of the facts that the Budget Office has obtained and used, and you solemnly sit there and pretend that the work of the Special Committee is being in some way attended to.

I remember the session of 1935. I have the record here. I am not going to read it but I can remember it. It is on page 943 of the Legislative Journal for the session of 1935, when the Majority Leader, the Republican leader—I have forgotten whether he was majority or minority but I guess he was the minority leader, chided the Democrats because they had come here week after week and had nothing to present for the consideration of the House.

The only time that the Members can speak their mind is in Committee of the Whole. The discussion there is free and unrestrained. You can be more free than you can in your own caucus, and I would like to see this House resolve itself into a Committee of the Whole for the purpose of fixing a date to which we would recess while whoever is in command of the situation prepares a program of some kind for the consideration of the other Members of this House.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I would rise to oppose this motion to resolve ourselves into a Committee of the Whole, if for no other reason than because I have a definite recollection right now of the argument used against a resolution submitted here two weeks ago, the discussion of which involved a discussion of this very question as to whether this House should recess. From the same microphone, from the very same side, came the expression that under no circumstances would they permit the consideration of a resolution if it carried with it an understanding that we should have such a recess.

Mr. Speaker, I rise also to oppose the motion not only because it is a matter of fulfilling our word that it did not involve a recess, but also because I am assured by the various Chairmen of Committees who have before them the consideration of well over 200 proposed pieces of legislation by the Members of this House, as well as legislation that it is expected will come from the Senate, of a nature sufficiently serious, that the Members of this body should take the pains of having it drawn into legal form and submitted for the consideration of the House.

I rise to oppose this motion, Mr. Speaker, so that the proposed legislation already submitted by the Members will be given due consideration on the part of the Committees which will meet when we gather here week after week.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Elk, the Majority Leader, Mr. Sorg.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SORG. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, can the Majority Leader assure us that any of the important so-called administration measures will be submitted for the consideration of this House within the next two weeks?

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, again I must remind the gentleman from Cambria that I have not a proper conception of what he considers important. If he means matters of the budget, if he means matters of the fiscal affairs for the coming biennium, I would say that I do not expect any such measures within the next two weeks.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to clarify the Majority Leader's thinking about administration measures. He might tell us about the measures he has already discussed with His Excellency the Governor, as to whether any of those measures being considered today will be brought before the House within the next two weeks.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman has asked a double barreled question. He has assumed that I have discussed these measures with His Excellency the Governor, which I have not.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, will the Majority Leader inform this House when he intends to discuss this legislation with His Excellency the Governor?

Mr. SORG. Specific legislation, does the gentleman mean?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, specific legislation in which His Excellency the Governor might be particularly interested.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I have no specific date in mind.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, the Majority Leader confirms my contention that he does not have a program. The Republican Caucus has not as yet framed a program. His Excellency the Governor does not have a program ready to submit. The powers that be who decide who is to pay the taxes have not yet decided who is going to pay them. So we are here dealing with minor measures while the serious affairs of the Commonwealth are overlooked.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cambria permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ANDREWS. I shall Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman if in his opinion the House of Representatives in 1935 had a program as of February 15.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, in 1935 the Democrats were unfortunately a trifle slow on the uptake. They had a Governor that was new on the job. He had a lot of advisers who were new on the job. They could not decide which substantial interest should pay the freight. They had to wait a little before they could frame their tax program, and they were properly chided more than once because they were slow in coming to bat with legislation, and were compelling the Members to come to Harrisburg week after week to listen to the Majority and the Minority Leaders stage a little conference.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, were His Excellency, the Governor and his advisors in 1937 still new on the job?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, they were a trifle more experienced. They had not, however, served as Attorney General and they did not have the benefit of the mature advice of the present Majority Leader, the talent we now have in the Chair and the experience which I see in the committees of the majority party. We were just a commonplace people taking up too much time to go to bat, and we were chided for not doing it, and so the people asked us to speed things up.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I agree with the gentleman that they were just a little bit backward on the uptake, because just about this stage of the proceedings in 1935 there had been no legislation acted upon, but they were a little faster in 1937; there were two matters of legislation acted upon. We here make the representation that this is not an extraordinary situation and we oppose this motion because we feel that during the time the gentleman may have in mind for a recess the measures sponsored by the various Members of the House can be given the due and adequate consideration to which they are entitled.

On the question recurring.

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was not agreed to.

The SPEAKER. The resolution will lie over for one day before it can be considered.

CONDOLENCE RESOLUTION

Mr. O'NEILL asked and obtained unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a condolence resolution.

Messrs. O'NEILL, CORDIER, ROBERTSON, NEEDHAM, SCANLON and STONIER offered a resolution which was read, considered and unanimously adopted by a rising vote as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 10, 1947.

The members of this House of Representatives have been shocked and deeply saddened by the sudden passing of Representative Robert W. Munley on January 25, 1947.

Robert Munley, having represented the Fifth Legislative District of Lackawanna County continuously since 1938, took an active part in this present session until the date of his unexpected death.

A resident of Archbald, where he received his public school education, after his graduation from St. Thomas' College (now the University of Scranton), he settled in his home town and early began following the example of his father, the late W. J. (Ring) Munley, one of the best known men in political life in Northeastern Pennsylvania.

From 1933 to 1938, he was Deputy Collector of Internal Revenue for the Twelfth Pennsylvania District. In 1938, after his father's death, he was first elected to the House of Representatives as his successor.

Since 1938 he served his constituents ably, growing in stature as a legislator with each session. He was well-informed and conscientiously and studiously devoted himself to his legislative duties.

Representative Munley was a Democrat and a liberal. He firmly supported organized labor throughout his career as a member of the House of Representatives. At the same time, he held the esteem of his political opponents. His loss is not only his party's, but also that of this House of Representatives', the labors of which he put above party.

A well-rounded citizen, Mr. Munley was active for years in furthering the Boy Scout movement. He was a communicant of St. Thomas Aquinas Church in Archbald. In addition to being a leading political figure in his section of the State, he was also noted for his interest in sports. He served as deputy boxing commissioner for the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission for several years—a position he was proud to acknowledge because of his great interest in that sport.

The people of this Commonwealth have lost a conscientious law-maker of undisputed integrity and proven ability. His community is justly proud of having had so capable a representative—doubly saddened at his passing almost in his youth.

Thousands called him friend and many journeyed to pay last respects from all over the State, including William E. Habbyschaw, Chief Clerk and William R. Roan, Secretary of the House of Representatives. His omnipresent smile and his helping hand will be missed by all; therefore, be it

Resolved, by the House of Representatives, of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, that in the passing of Robert W. Munley, his family, community, and State, have suffered a grievous, painful loss, and in recognition thereof, this House extends to his widow Mrs. Marian Langan Munley and their sons, Robert and James, this expression of its sincere sympathy; and be it further Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of this House shall transmit to his widow, a copy of this resolution.

ANNOUNCEMENT

The SPEAKER. Will the members please return the forms submitted to them indicating whether or not they are veterans, to Mr. Roan, Secretary of the House.

The Chair is requested to announce that on Wednesday, March 19th, the Policemen's Ball will be held at the Zembo Mosque. As you know, these policemen are the friends of many of the Members of this House, whose property and persons they have protected on many occasions. These are annual affairs and they are inviting their Legislative friends to be present. Tickets can be purchased from the officer at the corner of Third and Walnut Streets.

INTERROGATION

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Fleming, concerning a resolution.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. FLEMING. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, is the gentleman a co-sponsor of Resolution No. 5, Printers No. 7, relating to appointment of a committee of five Members of this House to investigate the housing shortage with reference to the Members of this House.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would state that both gentlemen are out of order, but the Chair will overlook that technically since the resolution that is being discussed is not before the House at this time. However, if the gentleman is inquiring for his own good, the Chair will overlook the technicality.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, may I inquire is the gentleman from Allegheny a co-sponsor of such a resolution?

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. Speaker, if it appears in the House history I evidently was. Might I ask the gentleman, Mr. Speaker, if Mr. Stuart is a co-sponsor of that resolution?

Mr. READINGER. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. FLEMING. Then Mr. Speaker, I believe I am a co-sponsor of it. I understand that the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Stuart knows more about it than I do. So, I yield the floor to him.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Stuart?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Stuart, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. STUART. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman inform me whether this resolution has been reported out by the Committee on Rules?

Mr. STUART. I don't know, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman please inform me whether or not all the Members of the House are suitably and happily settled in this great metropolis of Harrisburg.

Mr. STUART. Mr. Speaker, I understand there are still some homeless souls, hoping that some hotels will kindly take them in.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman inform me why the Committee on Rules has not acted on this resolution.

Mr. STUART. Mr. Speaker, I am not a clairvoyant and I am not a mind reader, so I cannot answer that.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I thank the Speaker and also the gentleman from Allegheny.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks both of the gentlemen.

The Senate met at 11:00 o'clock a. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Daniel B. Strickler) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. W. MURRAY YOUNG, offered the following prayer:

Eternal God and Father, Creator and Preserver of all mankind, we humbly lift our hearts to Thee, beseeching Thy loving care for all sorts and conditions of men. May Thy ways be known in all the earth, Thy saving grace among all nations.

On this, the eve of the anniversary of the birth of that truly great American, Abraham Lincoln, whose spirit we seek to catch, we pray for the reuniting of Thy earthly family, which has been disrupted by strife and broken by war. Help us to love Thee with heart, soul, mind and strength, and our neighbor as ourselves. Enlighten our minds, warm our hearts, and create within us a right spirit. Purge us from all unbrotherliness and hatred. Grant us grace and wisdom to mend our flaws, and to work together for the common good, that we may establish justice, friendship and good will among all classes, races and nations of men which dwell upon the face of the earth. Amen.

HOUSE MESSAGE

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced informed the Senate that the House has concurred in resolution from the Senate as follows:

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

In the Senate, February 10, 1947.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur) That when the Senate adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday, February 17, 1947, at four o'clock p. m., and when the House of Representatives adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday, February 17, 1947 at nine o'clock, p. m.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS THE SENATE

Mr. WAGNER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, I understand, this being the eve of Abraham Lincoln's birthday, two of the gentlemen of the Senate who are more qualified to do it than I am going to properly make certain observations about this great man in the history of the nation, and I shall not infringe upon their time or upon that subject.

However, Mr. President, I would like to speak about an industry that has left its imprint upon the economic life of Pennsylvania, and which may possibly before too long be dead and be revered as an instrumentality of well-being in our economic life.

Last week we had before us several times the matter of a resolution memorializing Congress to defer the sale of the so-called Big Inch and Little Inch pipe lines. That resolution was introduced, it was out on the floor, it was back, and then it dissolved into rather thin air because of the action in Washington.

I do not want to memorialize Congress, I do not care to criticize Congress, nor would I this morning cry over what seems to be spilt milk, but I do want to speak about the coal industry and what we might be able to do for it in the future as officials of the state and as citizens of the state.

When Congress passed the Surplus Property Act it declared, among other objectives, that it wished above all else to stimulate full employment. That certainly is of interest to you and me and to all of us in Pennsylvania.

I submit to this body this morning the belief that the use of the pipe lines for natural gas would naturally create unemployment by destroying the jobs of some eleven thousand anthracite workers, because six million tons of coal per year could be displaced by the gas, and by causing unemployment in the seventy-five thousand jobs now held by persons engaged in the retail distribution of anthracite and bituminous coal, coke and fuel oil. There is an abundant supply of all these fuels, but they can be displaced by gas distributed through existing facilities of the public utilities with practically no need for labor. I submit further that would cause unemployment among those persons now engaged in the mining of bituminous coal and the production of coke and anthracite, and the men employed by the rail and water carriers of these solid fuels.

Now gentlemen, we do not want that to happen. I have in my hands a part of the Congressional Record of January 15 in which this matter was discussed rather fully. I have been reminded by the Congressional Record that the Congress of the United States last year appropriated $450,000 of the taxpayer's money to help carry out the Government obligations to see that this industry remains a healthy one. That money is earmarked for the construction of a scientific laboratory in the anthracite region designed to find new uses for anthracite coal, to develop more efficient methods of mining it, and to promote more convenient use of the fuel. Now, to destroy that industry by Government favor to a competing industry would make our proposed new laboratory useless.

Anthracite production, practically all of it in Pennsylvania, in 1946 totaled about 60,500,000 tons, an increase of more than ten per cent over the 1945 total. 1945 production was likewise high. The anthracite mines of Pennsylvania, if you please, had to keep the Eastern seaboard warm throughout the war when users of oil and other fuels in the East were shivering. Members of this body who lived in homes or apartments heated by hard coal, can thank the anthracite miners of this state for being warm and comfortable here in Pennsylvania during the war.

Now, then, it is proposed by the War Assets Administration to sell the Big and Little Inch pipelines to the highest bidder. The sale will be made without regard to whether oil or gas will be transported and the highest bids currently seem to be for gas. The capacity of these two lines, if used in the transportation of natural gas, would amount to the equivalent of six million tons of coal.

It is generally conceded that most of this gas would go into anthracite burning states in the East and would be used largely for what is called space heating. If it replaced anthracite eventually, the economic dislocation would be about as follows:—

Mine workers displaced .....	10,000
Gas and coke workers .....	4,880
Railroad workers .....	3,940
Teamsters, longshoremen, fuel handlers, salesmen and so forth .....	7,890

Making a displaced total of 26,710 wage earners.

If gas displaced bituminous coal in its entirety, the number of mine workers displaced would be 4,720 and the others displaced would be the same as given above, making a total of 21,430. This is only the beginning of the threat to our economy.

Gas is a laborless fuel. Reserves in this country are calculated to last no more than twenty-nine years, on the basis of the 1945 production of 5¼ trillion cubic feet.

Remember, gentlemen, it would be too much to expect the industry to bring back into production, in case of a national emergency, mines long closed as the result of competition from gas. Just this week another operation was closed down in my county of Schuylkill, and I am concerned about that. Mines disused will fill with water and generally deteriorate, so that the problem of bringing them back into production at some future date would be not only very costly but would require a considerable amount of time.

I want to make this point before I close: there are those who feel that the present right-of-way agreements issued by the state to permit the passage of the Big and Little Inch pipelines through the state could not be invoked effectively if the lines were sold to someone who would use them as a common carrier. In the case of gas, however, it would be a private enterprise and the lines would not be used as a common carrier and the state could probably prevent their use for the transportation of gas.

I earnestly urge the public, the Legislature, the Public Utility Commission and the leaders of our state government to alert themselves and be ready to use whatever proper means are available to us to lend every possible aid to the preservation of an industry that means so much to employment and to our general economic well-being here in the State of Pennsylvania.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. JASPAN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, I have been given to understand that the state is about to embark on a project of widening Vine Street in the city of Philadelphia. Vine Street, you know, runs from the Delaware River over to about Twenty-second Street and, incidentally, it is in my district. The project will start at the entrance or exit to the Delaware River bridge and run to about Eighteenth Street.

I have this much to say in behalf of some of the citizens in my district as well as those who live in the neighborhood of Vine Street:

We unequivocally oppose the widening of Vine Street in Philadelphia at the present time. The state's idea to widen the street to accommodate business and motorists is laudable. However, the time is not yet ripe for it. It is now more important to consider the plight of four hundred poor families living in the area and a thousand commercial tenants.

I have been given to understand that the state some time ago told those tenants, those poor families, that they would not be driven out until other and suitable quarters were provided. They have not as yet gotten those suitable quarters. To those families it will mean distress at a time when housing accommodations are difficult to obtain. To the businesses now located on Vine Street it means the loss of millions of dollars, at a time when it is impossible to obtain new locations in the city. These businesses undoubtedly will be driven out of town.

I say, without fear of contradiction, that the housing of our citizens and accommodations for business interests transcends the importance the convenience of motorists and truckers.

RESOLUTION

RECOMMENDING THAT THE SECRETARY OF HIGHWAYS AND THE GOVERNOR WITHHOLD ACTION ON THE WIDENING OF VINE STREET, PHILADELPHIA.

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. JASPAN offered the following resolution which was twice read and referred to the Committee on Highways:

In the Senate of Pennsylvania, February 11, 1947.

Whereas, The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is about to embark upon the project of widening Vine Street in the City of Philadelphia, and

Whereas, Such project will result in the driving of four hundred families out of their homes and one thousand commercial tenants from their places of business, and

Whereas, It is now almost impossible to obtain housing accommodations and new locations for business enterprises, and

Whereas, The situation is such that it will result in distress to the many poor families now living in this area and will further result in forcing industry to leave Philadelphia, and

Whereas, The rights of home-owners and business transcend the convenience of motorists; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Senate of Pennsylvania recommend that the Secretary of Highways and the Governor withhold action on the widening of Vine Street for a year or at least until such time as housing conditions improve.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. DONLAN, from the Committee on Military Affairs and Aeronautics, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 23, entitled:

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, presented an extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

SYMPATHY OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY EXTENDED TO MRS. ADA R. SALUS AND SON

In the House of Representatives, February 11, 1947.

Hon. Samuel Wieder Salus passed away December 28, 1945 after a long, busy life laboring in the cause of the people of this Commonwealth.

A lifelong resident of Philadelphia, he completed his formal education at the University of Pennsylvania Law School in 1895, and was admitted to the Philadelphia Bar the same year.

He began his political career in 1902, when he served as a member of the Common Council of Philadelphia, representing the Fourth Ward. In 1903 he served his first term as a legislator, representing Philadelphia in the House of Representatives for that term. From 1904 to 1907 he was an assistant district attorney of Philadelphia County under Hon. John C. Bell.

In 1909, he returned to the General Assembly as a Representative. The following year he was elected to the Senate, succeeding Israel Durham from the second legislative District of Philadelphia County. His capability as a leader resulted in his re-election in 1914, 1918, 1922 and 1926.

The year 1925 was rewarding for him since he was then elected President Pro Tem of the Senate, in which capacity he served continuously until 1938. In 1943, he was elected to the House of Representatives again, and was serving his re-election term when he died in 1945, a fitting conclusion to his lifelong service.

Samuel W. Salus, just plain Sam to his friends, was a devotee and advocate of the square deal for all races. Forty-five years ago, Sam decided to do something about the deplorable conditions among the colored children residing in the Fourth Ward in Philadelphia. He rolled up his sleeves, turned his back on pleas from certain acquaintances that he "not get mixed up in affairs of negroes" and went to bat. As a result he obtained school facilities equal to that of any school district in the state for those colored children.

In a letter thanking the late Senator Salus for his liberal donations to a Philadelphia Institution, the N. A. A. C. P. stated:—"Our workers know of your big heart. . . You live to serve, and that's the thing that makes the work of those who are entrusted with the care of the less fortunate easy."

Those of us who knew Sam well realized that he was one of the few men in public office who sincerely appreciated that all men were created equal regardless of race, color or creed.

Sam Salus had no selfish motives in entering politics. But as an American, he knew Democracy thrived upon work and sweat, tears and sacrifice. A man whose profession was essential to the community in which he lived, he did not need politics for extra activities. He was motivated by a love of political philosophy, knowing that every bit he did help make this a greater state.

He gave up the quietness of his home to become the target of political hacks and bigots, yet he took them to see to it that this state would be a better place for us all.

Encouraged by his attitude toward legislation the members of the Senate and the House where he served unselfishly can carry on, knowing full well that behind us, always, is that spirit of Sam Salus, working for the common good for the people of Pennsylvania, therefore, be it,

Resolved, (if the Senate concurs) That the General Assembly of Pennsylvania extends its deep and genuine sympathy to Mrs. Ada R. Salus, his widow, and Arthur S. Salus, Esq. his son, in recognition of the great loss and the terrible anguish of heart and mind that has come to them; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives shall transmit a copy of this resolution to Mrs. Ada R. Salus.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HOLLAND asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President and members of the Senate, I believe that all of us were thrilled and inspired on inaugural day, when Mr. Duff, as Governor of the state of Pennsylvania, delivered a great progressive and liberal speech on the program that he had outlined that he was going to give to the people of Pennsylvania.

However, some of us who have been here a number of years know that after this program was presented by a very sincere man, Mr. Duff, the big guns of certain financial interest in Pennsylvania were turned loose, and we find now a fight existing in Pennsylvania between two financial interests as to who shall pay the bill.

I have confidence in the present Governor in this fight, but I believe he needs a lot of help, and as a member of the Minority Party, I believe this fight should be brought out into the open so that the people of Pennsylvania should know what is going on behind the scenes.

RESOLUTION

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. HOLLAND offered the following resolution which was twice read, as follows:

In the Senate of Pennsylvania, February 11, 1947.

Whereas, The present Session of the Legislature is in a Stalemate because of the lack of a fiscal and administrative program, and

Whereas, The administration of such a policy appears to be beyond the control of the Legislature, be it therefore

Resolved, That the special interests represented by Joseph Pew and the special interests represented by Joseph Grundy, be granted the use of the Senate Chambers on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week in order that they can deliberate in the open their difficulties concerning the fiscal policies of this Administration and present to the Legislative Majority Members of the Senate a program in order that the Legislature can complete its work and adjourn sine die.

REQUEST THAT RULE 39 BE SUSPENDED

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be dispensed with and the Senate proceed to the consideration of the foregoing resolution.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, I object to immediate consideration of the resolution and suggest that it be committed to the Committee on Inland Waters.

The PRESIDENT. The resolution is referred to the Committee on Public Health and Welfare.

Ordered, That the Governor be informed accordingly.

EXECUTIVE SESSION RISES

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, I move that the Executive Session do now rise.

Mr. HARE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, relative to this appointment, I want to compliment the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr.

Barr, on his speedy action in starting to clean up the mess in the Liquor Control Board and having a new member appointed, and I suggest to him that he keep bringing into the Senate these pertinent facts he discloses so well, in order that perhaps we may get a third member on the Board next week.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I hesitate to take the floor at this moment, but it is very disturbing to me to hear our distinguished colleague on the other side make such a statement.

In the first place, most of us, if not all of us, know the very serious condition of a former member of the Board, Mr. Stuart, who is very ill at the moment, and because of his condition, it was necessary for the Governor to accept his recent resignation. That left but one member of the Board, so that it is mandatory for this Senate to confirm this appointment by the Governor.

Here we have a business, as explained yesterday, which contributes to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania some fifty millions of dollars annually in profits, and which has proven itself beyond a question of any doubt to be the wise method for handling this matter we call liquor control. Without the confirmation of this man, and because of the very very unfortunate circumstances with W. Searight Stuart, it was necessary for this body to make this confirmation, and I give no credit whatever, and I know the other members of this body give no credit, to the fact it was brought to our attention by the Honorable Joseph Barr yesterday. That had no bearing whatsoever on this matter today.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I am sure we all accept the apology of the gentleman on the other side in their haste to confirm this new appointment, but I want to inform him that there has been a vacancy for over six years, and I was complimenting Senator Barr in getting that vacancy filled. It does not matter much whether the new appointee takes the place of the man recently resigned or the place of the man who should have been named over six years ago, and I again say to Senator Barr, keep up your good work and we will finally get three men on the board.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I accept the apologies of the gentleman from Westmoreland, and I heartily agree with him, since the Legislature has set up a board which provides for three members, I am sure the present Governor will continue his efforts to get three able and qualified men on the board. However, I can not speak for him, but I agree with the Senator from Westmoreland that the board should be composed of three members.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Messrs. STIEFEL and ROSENFELD read in place and presented to the Chair, Senate Bill No. 143, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Trustees of Temple University at Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

REMARKS MEMORIALIZING ABRAHAM LINCOLN

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, gentlemen of the Senate: I am indeed grateful to the leaders of the Senate of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania for requesting me to join today other members of this august body in paying a tribute to the revered memory of the Great Emancipator and our saintly Martyr-President, whose birthday will be celebrated tomorrow February 12th, not only within the confines of this Great Land but all over the world.

I consider this request as a bestowal of a great honor upon me, for reasons that are quite evident in my instance. After spending my youth on the battlefields of Europe, Egypt, Palestine and Syria during the First World War, I came to the shores of this great land in the hope that its peace and tranquility will heal a soul seared during years of turbulence by doubt, disillusionment and pessimism. Having plunged into the rejuvenating and cleansing waters of Americanism, I emerged therefrom with a vigor that enabled me after years of toil and moil to reach "Per Aspera Ad Astra" gratifying stages of success. Through all these years the study of Lincoln was both my inspiration and a guiding-light.

Our traditional celebration of the Lincoln Birthday in the Senate of Pennsylvania assumes added significance this year since in about five months from now, namely on July 26, 1947, the four locked and sealed boxes of Lincoln's manuscripts, which were deposited in 1923, by Robert Lincoln, son of the Martyr-President in the Library of Congress, will be opened. These boxes are now considered the Nation's most valuable and mysterious treasure chests, since they contain the personal papers of Abraham Lincoln and approximately ten thousand different items are said to be included in the collection.

Robert Lincoln was about to burn these papers in 1923 when Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, then President of Columbia University pointed at him a monitory finger and stated "those papers belong to the Nation." The suggestion made by Dr. Butler to deposit the Lincoln papers in the Library of Congress was in full consonance with the intentions of Robert Lincoln since in a deed dated January 23, 1923, he conveyed certain family-papers to the government, providing inter alia:

"That all the said letters, manuscripts, documents and other papers shall be placed in a sealed vault or compartment and carefully preserved from official or public inspection or private view until after the expiration of twenty-one years from the date of my death."

This fascinating chapter of Lincolniana is told by Dr. Butler in an article published in the Saturday Evening Post for February 11, 1939.

In a world sunk in the mud of bitterness and suspicion and poisoned by brutal rivalries and unscrupulous materialism, the towering figure of the Martyr-President is still growing in stature, exuding imperishable warmth and solace to the oppressed and downtrodden the world over. His spoken words have epitomized the conscience of the world and expressed thoughts that will forever be blessed with deathless bloom.

Just a few gems penned by great thinkers and preachers that admirably express the quintessence of Lincoln.

Leo Tolsoy called him "A Christ in Miniature".

Bishop Homer C. Stuntz attests to Lincoln's cosmopolitan appeal. Says the bishop:

"The picture and name of Abraham Lincoln are more widely known throughout the world than any other except Jesus Christ. I have seen his picture in cabins in Borneo, in Sumatra, China, India and South America. He is the idol of the millions of the earth."

Dr. S. Parks Cadman summarized Lincoln as "A Christian Personality," stating that:

"Religion has many dialects, many diverse complexions but it has one true voice—the voice of human pity, of mercy, of patient Justice. Not since that voice resounded in Jerusalem, Antioch, Athens, Rome and in Wesley's England, has it been heard more clearly and convincingly than from Lincoln in America."

Rabbi Alexander Lyons places Lincoln along with the great prophets of ancient Israel and Dr. C. F. Aked terms him "The World's Hero."

Bishop Matthew Simpson eloquently describes our reverence for President Lincoln as follows:

"Mothers shall teach thy name to their lisping children. The youth of our land shall emulate thy virtues. Statesmen shall study this record and learn lessons of wisdom. Mute though thy lips be, yet they still speak. Hushed is thy voice but its echoes of liberty are ringing through the world, and the sons of bondage listen with joy. Prisoned thou art in death, and yet thou are marching abroad; and chains and manacles are bursting at thy touch."

At the time of President Lincoln's death, Secretary Stanton exclaimed: "Now he belongs to the ages." He might well have added "Henceforth Abraham Lincoln belongs to all the races and all the continents, for all time."

But Lincoln's is not only the Saint of America—he is the genius of our great Land, who by having been deeply rooted therein became endowed by superb and rare powers. Only a genius could transform gleanings from a few unrelated books into the greatest mastery of the English language.

The paucity of the log-cabin life precluded a variety of books. Although Lincoln's stepmother Sarah could not read, she realized the importance of books and near Christmas 1819 brought with her four books: "Robinson Crusoe," "Pilgrim's Progress," "Sinbad the Sailor" and "Aesop's Fables." Hank's Charleston Statement records that "Thomas Lincoln brought the Bible in 1818 or 19."

In 1823 when Abraham was fourteen years of age a copy of Bailey's Etymological Dictionary was added to the aforementioned collection. And by the way the Dictionary was the one that was bought by Mordecai Lincoln, one of Lincoln's progenitors. And may I also call your attention to the fact that it was a Mordecai Lincoln who migrated in the beginning of the eighteenth century from New Jersey to Pennsylvania.

There were some other books read by Lincoln but six books have definitely left an indelible impression upon him:

(1) The first book was William Grimshaw's History of the United States, a one volume breviary containing admixtures of astronomy, geography and navigation and what is significant—vehement denunciations of slavery as a climax of human supidity and turpitude.

(2) The second book was the "Revised Laws of Indiana" a formidable volume of nearly five hundred long pages from which Lincoln acquired a fair understanding of the elements of law of government.

(3) The third book was a volume known as "Scott's Lessons" the formal title whereof read as follows: "Lessons in Elocution, or Selections of pieces in Prose and Verse for the Improvement of Youth in Reading and Speaking by William Scott, of Edinburgh." This book contained five pages of maxims, selections from classics, sketches of historic characters such as Alfred, Catiline, Caesar, Elizabeth and many others; excerpts from poems and speeches by the Earl of Chatham, Lord Mansfield, Cicero and Demosthenes, as well as the rudimentary rules of public speaking.

(4) Lincoln also studied the "Kentucky Preceptor" a compilation resembling in the nature of its contents "Scott's Lessons." It contained inter alia such material as short essays on Credulity, Haughtiness, Industry and Indulgence, Liberty and Slavery, anecdotes of Indians, Gouverneur Morris's Funeral Oration "over the corps" of General Hamilton, Jefferson's Inaugural Speech of 1801, scenes and excerpts from English playwrights and poets.

This book was a reader belonging to one Josiah Crawford of whom Lincoln borrowed it and years later, in giving this book to Herndon Mrs. Crawford said that from it "Lincoln learned his speeches."

The other formative two books were Weems's Life of Washington and Weems's Life of Franklin.

These were the six books which Lincoln read so thoroughly that he could repeat word for word passages therefrom that he best liked. Mrs. Lincoln stated that "when he came across a passage that struck him he would write it down on boards, if he had no paper, and keep it there till he did get paper, then he would rewrite it, look at it, repeat it. He had a copy book, a kind of scrap-book in which he put down all things and thus preserved them."

It were the chemistry of a great soul and the burning fires of a genius that transformed meagre beginnings into sublime treasures never heretofore surpassed and in years to come lead this spiritual giant from homespun beginnings to the immortal Gettysburg Address and the history-making Cooper Institute Speech.

Lord Curzon, Earl of Kedleston and Chancellor of the University of Oxford in an address entitled "Modern Parliamentary Eloquence" and delivered before the University of Cambridge on November 6, 1913, referred in the course of his remarks to what he considered "the three supreme masterpieces of English Eloquence—" the toast of William Pitt after the victory of Trafalgar and two of Lincoln's speeches: The Gettysburg Address and the Second Inaugural."

Commenting further on the Gettysburg Address, Curzon said:

"The Gettysburg Address is far more than a pleasing piece of occasional oratory. It is a marvelous piece of English composition. It is a pure well of English undefiled. It sets one to inquiring with nothing short of wonder. 'How knoweth this man letters having never learned'. The more closely the address is analyzed the more one must confess astonishment at the choice of words, the preciseness of its thought, its simplicity, directness and effectiveness."

A compilation of words of appreciation for the Gettysburg Address, which are appearing from day to day in nearly every language, would be an impossible task. This one brief sentiment may serve as a Twentieth Century appraisal of the Gettysburg address:

"In nobility of spirit and majesty of phrase, it is unequaled by any modern utterance."

Lincoln's Cooper Institute Speech was epoch-making since it set him on the road to the Presidency of the United States.

Russell H. Conwell, the immortal founder of Temple University, this great institution of learning built "on acres of diamonds" of which we Pennsylvanians are so proud, relates his most interesting impressions of Lincoln's Cooper Institute Speech.

"That Monday after hearing Beecher, we were invited by a great poet of Western Massachusetts to attend a lecture at the Cooper Institute, New York. We hesitated for some time, but William Cullen Bryant, an old friend, was to preside at the Cooper Institute, and while we had never heard of the man who was to speak, we desired to please the old poet Bryant and feared that he would be sensitive about it if we did not decide to favor him. On Monday night we decided to go to the lecture. We had never been in New York before, and we had some trouble in finding our way. When we came near the Cooper Institute Building, little knots of people were gathering about and agitatedly discussing something. Finally one of these knots of young 'hoodlums' called across to us to come over. We did not dare to disobey. They gave my brother an onion with the husk still on and gave me a turnip and asked us to take these along and said, 'We are going in and when you hear us whistle twice, throw those things at the man on the platform.' I did not dare to say a word for fear that they might beat us, and so we wandered on towards the hall. At the entrance to the hall we passed in with those thugs. The crowd was so great, and the noise was of such a character that we tried to get into a corner. We crowded back to a window, and my brother lifted me up to a window-sill and put my feet on his shoulders and told me to look over and see what was going on at the other end of the hall. That was the first time I had a glimpse of one of the greatest men the world has ever known.

"William Cullen Bryant came in, looked around as if seeking someone he could not find and then took his seat in the chair set for the presiding officer. Several others soon came in. Suddenly, through the flies there came a very stout, short, fat man, built for an alderman, and as he pressed through the flies, he nearly pushed down the scenery. Mr. Bryant arose and then there followed him a man presenting a striking contrast. He was so tall and thin and ungainly. He was somewhat awkwardly dressed and had in his hand a tall hat with the silk brushed the wrong way, and one of his trouser legs had slipped up over his boot. As he appeared, Mr. Bryant rose to shake his hand, and all those around us said, 'Who's that? Who's that? Who's that?' There was no spontaneous applause of any kind. Mr. Bryant seated the tall gentleman, and the fat gentleman then retired.

"This tall gentleman was very awkward. He tried to tie up his feet in the wings of the chair, put some papers in his hat, and then let his chin drop into his bosom, and seemed so stage struck that people began to laugh. The audience was largely opposed to him, and many intended to mob him.

"Mr. Bryant arose and in a wonderful speech, a copy of which I have in my possession, said in effect, 'Gentlemen of New York, you have your favorite son in Mr. Stewart.' As soon as he said 'Stewart,' there was tremendous applause. 'Ohio has its favorite son in Judge Wade.' Again there was a great applause. 'But, gentlemen of New York,' said Mr. Bryant, 'I have the highest honor of my life tonight in introducing to you the next President of the United States, Abraham Lincoln of Illinois.'

"There were more hisses than cheers, and there was a great shuffling of feet, and many were talking when Mr. Lincoln arose. He was a most awkward speaker. Language can scarcely overstate it. His clothing was too large and did not fit. His hair was not combed down but stood up like rooster feathers on the top of his head. He had a pencil beneath his ear that shook strangely. I was afraid it would drop out. He took up his roll of papers, fumbled over them, and began to read. He read two or three pages, always with more hesitation. Finally he lost his place. I think it was on the fifth page. He could not find the leaf. He appeared more awkward and embarrassed than ever. Finally with disgust, he threw the whole roll on the table, and leaves fell on the floor. A boy went after them, but Lincoln did not try to pick up his written speech. He was evidently offended with himself because of his timidity—his shaking fingers showed that.

"He left his manuscript, and fortunate was it for freedom that he did. If he had read the speech in the manuscript, he would not have been elected President. If he had not delivered the unpremeditated speech which he did, he would not have been elected. He came forward, and as they said out west, 'Let himself go.' Oh! The change! I have seen pictures of the transfiguration, but I have never seen a greater transformation through the transfiguration by the spirit than that which came to the face and form of Abraham Lincoln when he 'let himself go.' Then he began to speak with all his heart.

"There was silence then—attention—no more shuffling of feet. He went on for an hour holding their attention so that no one in the hall seemed to know of the passing moments. When he had finished that marvelous address that followed so loosely his published manuscript, there came a sigh through the whole house. They were all startled at the silence following his peroration. All the roughs dropped the onions and turnips. All went out filled with respect.

"When we came out, I said to my brother, 'He will be President of the United States.' My brother said, 'He ought to be.' I said, 'Just think what a happy state it is, to be a great man like that and to be elected President of the great United States. How happy he must be.' My brother said again, 'You don't know anything about it.' And I didn't know anything about it."

In this day of strain and stress when our Nation is still nursing the wounds of the last war, many of our citizens are fearful lest foreign powers will some day attempt to either subjugate us or undermine our great American institutions. To those who fear our advice is to remember that the genius and ingenuity of a land that gave the world a Lincoln can withstand any onslaught as long as we adhere to the great principles of Americanism and imperturbably continue to forge the golden chain of freedom in the spirit of the Declaration of Independence and the teachings of Lincoln.

FURTHER REMARKS MEMORIALIZING ABRAHAM LINCOLN

Mr. CARR. Mr. President and gentlemen of the Senate, first I would like to offer my sincere congratulations to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Stiefel, for the preparation of a very informative and really valuable contribution to our knowledge of the life of one of the greatest men who ever lived in the United States of America.

The year 1809 was a year that was very prolific in giving to the United States of America, and to the world, great men. It gave to poetry Edgar Allen Poe, Oliver Wendell Holmes and Lord Alfred Tennyson. It gave to music Chopin and Mendelssohn; it gave to science Darwin; it gave to England and the political world Gladstone; it gave to America Samuel F. Smith, the author of "America", our national anthem, and it gave Abraham Lincoln, great-hearted patriot and lover of his country, the friend of the oppressed and of all mankind, to the whole wide world.

Ralph Waldo Emerson has said that the true test of civilization is not in the census nor in the size of cities, no, but in the kind of men a country turns out, and as we think of a country, comparatively young as nations go, giving to the world a man like Abraham Lincoln, we must be proud of our civilization.

As we look at the man himself, we try to estimate the cause of his greatness. We know that his early life was hard, he had none of the fine things, as we ordinarily estimate fine things, his education was not something that was granted to him easily but came, as has already been said here, out of his own intense desire to know more and more about all things.

But the motto of his life may be found in just a few words of his own, "Let us have faith that right makes might, and in that faith let us to the end dare to do our duty as we understand it." It seems to me that those words epitomize the very central thought and motive of his great life. You can point to no action in it, you can point to no decision made, which ever violated that precept of his life.

To him thousands look at the Great Emancipator, a whole race of men pays tribute to him because of what he did for them, and yet, not alone to those of the negro race but to those of every race, he stands as one who dared to challenge the iniquity of his time and, challenging it, dared to pursue to the end of the hard course which that challenge imposed upon him.

Mr. President, I shall not continue longer with words of my own, but I shall say some words that come from others. I know not who wrote this bit of verse; I picked it up some years ago, and it has become one of the treasured things in my possession.

Think not there is one
Calvary alone,
Nor say the soul of truth
but one can die.
In every age the mob cries
"Crucify!"
In every age the Pharisees are known.
Who speaks for truth must plead to hearts of stone
Who fights for truth must face the cynic lie

Must know the martyr's fiery agony,
In every age, till wrong is overthrown.
There is a Lincoln statue down the way
And men beside it gather, old and gray
Seeing forgotten years as old men can.
"In every age," one says,
"God finds his man."
"God's man" another answered,
"Man's man too"
Yet how men hated him before they knew.

And then, the words which came from the pen of a great poet, Edwin Markham, expressing in such few words, with such clearness, the meaning of the life of the man:

LINCOLN

The color of the ground was in him, the red earth:
The smack and tang of elemental things;
The rectitude and patience of the cliff;
The good will of the rain that loves
all leaves;
The friendly welcome of the wayside well;
The courage of the bird that dares the sea;
The gladness of the wind that shakes
the corn;
The pity of the snow that hides all scars;
The secrecy of the streams that make their way
Under the mountain to the rifted rock;
The tolerance and the equity of light
That gives as freely to the shrinking flower
As to the great oak flaring to the wind—
To the graves low hill as to the Matterhorn
That shoulders out the sky. Sprung from the West.
He drank the valorous youth of a new world.
The strength of virgin forest braced his mind;
The hush of spacious prairies stilled his soul.

His words were oaks in acorns;
and his thoughts
Were roots that firmly gripped the granite truth.
Up from log cabin to the Capitol,
One fire was on his spirit, one resolve—
To send the keen ax to the root of wrong,
Clearing a free way for the feet of God,
The eyes of conscience testing every stroke,
To make his deed the measure of a man.
He built the rail pile as he built the state Pouring his splendid strength through every blow;
The grip that swung the ax in Illinois
Was on the pen that set a people free.
So came the Captain with a mighty heart;
And when the judgment thunders split the house, Wrenching the rafters from their ancient rest,
He held the ridge-pole up, and spiked again
The rafters of the Home. He held his place—
Held the long purpose like a growing tree—
Held on through blame and faltered not at praise.
And when he fell in whirlwind, he went down
As when a lordly cedar, green with boughs, Goes down with a great shout upon the hills,
And leaves a lonesome place against the sky.

In these words a great poet has expressed with beauty of thought and beauty of word a summation of the life of one who exemplified finally in his love that which Jesus Christ said was greater than all—"Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends."

That, my friends, is just what Abraham Lincoln did in giving himself to this nation and to the world.

PRAYER

The Chaplain Rev. Haldane Brown offered the following prayer:

Eternal Father, Who hast said that where even two or three are gathered in Thy name Thou art in the midst, Thou art not sought by men without unless Thou art discovered of men within, we bespeak now the hush of Thy presence upon our turbulent lives. Truly we are in a time for greatness: that we may truly serve Thee in such a time grant that we shall be delivered of cowardice and self-aggrandizement and of all things that hinder the coming of better things. As we desire Thy presence and Thy coming may we also pray that they shall come through us as Thy servants. We remember the words of Thy son that the first shall be last and the last shall be first with Thee. Grant then unto every present heart the true measure of humility that we may know and serve Thee aright. In Jesus' name. Amen.

In the House of Representatives, February 11, 1947.

Today marks the fifty-fifth anniversary of the birth of William E. Habbyschaw, Chief Clerk of this House of Representatives since the fifth day of January, one thousand nine hundred forty-three.

Mr. Habbyschaw's assistance in expediting the work of this House has been invaluable from the start of his service; and Members of this House, who have elected and reelected him to his office, have been wise in their choice.

A birthday is a happy occasion and a fitting time for congratulations and good wishes. It is a time to pause and reflect on the experiences and memories of the past year and to consider plans and projects of the coming twelve months; therefore, be it

Resolved, That this House, conscious of his excellent record as Chief Clerk of the House, and his friendly personality, extends to William E. Habbyschaw, its heartiest congratulations and felicitations on this, his fifty-fifth birthday, and wishes him many more happy birthdays, good health and continued success.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the Chief Clerk of the House.

CHIEF CLERK HABBYSCHAW. Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, I would like to present another Member of this House whose birthday is today, Adam Bower. (Calls of Speech) From whom? Adam Bower?

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman from Northumberland for his usually long-winded speech, and wishes for both of these gentlemen many, many more happy birthdays.

CONDOLENCE RESOLUTION

Messrs. ROOT and SAX offered a concurrent resolution which was read considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 11, 1947.

Hon. Samuel Wieder Salus passed away December 28, 1945 after a long, busy life laboring in the cause of the people of this Commonwealth.

A lifelong resident of Philadelphia, he completed his formal education at the University of Pennsylvania Law School in 1895, and was admitted to the Philadelphia Bar the same year.

He began his political career in 1902, when he served as a member of the Common Council of Philadelphia, representing the fourth Ward. In 1903 he served his first term as a legislator, representing Philadelphia in the House of Representatives for that term. From 1904 to 1907 he was an assistant district attorney of Philadelphia County under Hon. John C. Bell.

In 1909, he returned to the General Assembly as a Representative. The following year he was elected to the Senate, succeeding Israel Durham from the second legislative District of Philadelphia County. His capability as a leader resulted in his re-election in 1914, 1918, 1922 and 1926.

The year 1925 was rewarding for him since he was then elected President pro tem of the Senate, in which capacity he served continuously until 1938. In 1943, he was elected to the House of Representatives again, and was serving his re-election term when he died in 1945, a fitting conclusion to his lifelong service.

Samuel W. Salus, just plain Sam to his friends, was a devotee and advocate of the square deal for all races. Forty-five years ago, Sam decided to do something about the deplorable conditions among the colored children residing in the fourth ward in Philadelphia. He rolled up his sleeves, turned his back on pleas from certain acquaintances that he "not get mixed up in affairs of negroes" and went to bat. As a result, he obtained school facilities equal to that of any school district in the state for those colored children.

In a letter thanking the late Senator Salus for his liberal donations to a Philadelphia institution, the N. A. A. C. P. stated:—"Our workers know of your big heart . . . You live to serve, and that's the thing that makes the work of those who are entrusted with the care of the less fortunate easy."

Those of us who knew Sam well realized that he was one of the few men in public office who sincerely appreciated that all men are created equal regardless of race, color or creed.

Sam Salus had no selfish motives in entering politics. But as an American, he knew Democracy thrived upon work and sweat, tears and sacrifices. A man whose profession was essential to the community in which he lived, he did not need politics for extra activities. He was motivated by a love of political philosophy, knowing that every bit he did helped make this a greater state.

He gave up the quietness of his home to become the target of political hacks and bigots, yet he took them to see to it that this state would be a better place for us all.

Encouraged by his attitude toward legislation the members of the Senate and the House where he served unselfishly can carry on, knowing full well that behind us, always, is that spirit of Sam Salus, working for the common good for the people of Pennsylvania, therefore, be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concurs) That the General Assembly of Pennsylvania extends its deep and genuine sympathy to Mrs. Ada R. Salus, his widow, and Arthur S. Salus, Esq. his son, in recognition of the great loss and the terrible anguish of heart and mind that has come to them; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives shall transmit a copy of this resolution to Mrs. Ada R. Salus.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

RESOLUTION

ANNIVERSARY OF ABRAHAM LINCOLN

Mr. FISS offered a resolution in commemoration of the birthday of Abraham Lincoln.

The SPEAKER. The Chair requests the gentleman from Snyder, Mr. Fiss, to come to the rostrum and read the resolution, if there are no objections. The Chair hears none.

Mr. FISS. Mr. Speaker, in the love and affection of his fellow man Abraham Lincoln stands out alone because he moved among his fellow man with malice toward none and charity for all.

In the House of Representatives, February 11, 1947.

One hundred thirty-eight years ago, Abraham Lincoln, sixteenth President of the United States of America, was born in Kentucky in humble surroundings.

His ancestors were originally from Berks County, Pennsylvania and were, in the main, hard-working farmers.

Abraham Lincoln's early life was spent in farming and the physical labors that went with it in the days before the machine. He learned to work with his hands and muscles; he knew the satisfaction of physical fatigue. What formal education he then acquired was limited to reading, writing, and arithmetic—after working hours, from borrowed books.

Here was a man who understood human beings and liked them in spite of their many imperfections. It must have been this appreciation of mankind which caused him to go into the practice of law and into politics, so that he might better understand and help men through his working knowledge of their laws and government.

In his service to his community as an attorney, to his state as a legislator, and to his country during its most trying period as its President, he gave to us a heritage that all Americans may well be proud of and thankful for. It is not strange in his case to point to the man rather than to his acts, for the man was the act.

He believed in our nation and as he said, in "government of the people, by the people and for the people." He had the courage, faith, and tenacity to insure that our nation was preserved, and in so doing suffered death.

He was a great leader who was humbled by his power and who placed the sanctity of the individual above all power. He was the master of logic, simplicity, and practicability. His personal life, his writings, and his official conduct are perfect examples of the truth and humility he stood for; therefore be it

Resolved, by The House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, that it pause momentarily to be thankful that this country was able to produce and elevate this great man; to reflect upon the lessons he taught; to mark the birthday of a versatile American citizen; and to honor the man and his achievements.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman from Snyder, Mr. Fiss, for his able presentation of the resolution.

The Crair at this time invites the gentleman from Wayne, Mr. Dix, the poet laureate of the House, who has written a poem entitled "Lincoln." The Chair invites the author of this poem to come to the rostrum and read it at this time, if there are no objections. The Chair hears none.

Mr. DIX. Mr. Speaker, among all the people throughout the world who earnestly desire unity, liberty and democracy, there is one name honored and revered above all others—That name, is Lincoln. And so I humbly offer the following tribute to a great American.

LINCOLN

Lincoln! What music in the name!
The sound of it brings back the bugle call,
The tramp of hurrying feet, the loud acclaim
Of loyal men who felt thy deathless fame;
The sound of it, that like a dream doth fall
Upon our ears today, was music sweet,
For, at thy name, faint hearts did higher beat,
As to the trumpet of another Saul.

Lincoln! What music in thy name!
The sound of it awoke humanity
To promise of a grander destiny
Than severed states could ever hope to claim,
And clearer, nearer like the bugle-call
Of Victory, there comes today the cry:
Lincoln! Thou martyr to man's unity,
Thy name and fame alike can never die.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman from Wayne, Mr. Dix, for his able presentation, and again thanks the gentleman from Snyder, Mr. Fiss, for the resolution.

Mr. TOOMEY. Mr. Speaker, we have another great gentleman who is a Member of this House today who is also celebrating his natal day, that is, the good looking bachelor over here to my left, Mr. Neff of Huntingdon.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman from Perry, Mr. Toomey, for reminding the Chair and the Members of the House that the gentleman from Huntingdon is also celebrating his birthday. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Huntingdon, Mr. Neff.

If the gentleman from Huntingdon can bow as gracefully for as many years as we all wish, I am sure the gentleman will be all right.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I see we have organized the Birthday Club, and if we now organize the Three-Hours-For-Lunch Club we will probably be set. That is not what I arose to say, Mr. Speaker.

I attended various committee meetings this morning, and in some committee meetings the attendance was perilously thin. The Chairman of the Workmen's Compensation Committee had a very healthy committee meeting, but in some of the other committees the attendance, the proportion of strength of the minority party of the committee was wholly out of proportion to its strength upon the floor. There were indeed, Mr. Chairman, several committees wherein I am sure if the minority group had been maliciously inclined, they could have succeeded in reporting measures that might have proved rather embarrassing if they had been brought out upon the floor.

Now, I simply want to tell the Majority Leader that it is quite improper, I think, at this time to saddle the minority with the responsibility of framing and formulating a program without a formal announcement that such is his intention. If he really wants us to get busy and take control of these committees, we will do so.

Another matter that has been surprising, and that I have no explanation for, Mr. Speaker, I have been taught in times past to beware of Republicans when they are too blamed kind, and the consideration up to this time accorded a rather insignificant minority, as far as numbers are concerned, has been such that there has been no cause for charges of discrimination. Why this has been done I do not know, because with your numbers, gentlemen, you could just go ahead and claim we were not here; but instead of that you have recognized the fact that we are here. Even so I hope that the Majority Leader will see that he is properly reinforced in all of the committees that meet so that the wicked Democrats will not be in position to throw any monkey wrenches into his well laid plans and schemes.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. SORG asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, once more we are very grateful for the gentlemen's expression of the spirit of cooperation and the warning. I would like to join with him, however, in the request for encouragement of Members to diligently attend committee meetings and give the Legislation introduced by the Members of the House full and adequate consideration.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. CHUDOFF. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a Parliamentary Inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. CHUDOFF. Mr. Speaker, I should like to inquire as to whether or not there is anything in the Rules of the House providing the number of Members constituting a quorum in both major and minor committees.

The SPEAKER. There is no provision in the Rules of the House fixing a quorum in the committee. That is entirely within the power of the committee itself.

Mr. CHUDOFF. Then I take it, Mr. Speaker, that it would be possible for the Chairman to declare a quorum in a meeting attended by himself. Is that true?

The SPEAKER. That is not correct. The committee fixes the quorum; not the chairman.

Mr. CHUDOFF. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. DeLONG. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Monday, February 17, 1947, at 9 p. m.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 12:07 p. m.) the House adjourned.

SENATE

MONDAY, February 17, 1947.

The Senate met at 4:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore (Weldon B. Heyburn) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. W. MURRAY YOUNG offered the following prayer:

Hear-us, Infinite Spirit, while we breathe the chant of the ages; "Holy, Holy, Holy, Lord God Almighty; Heaven and Earth are filled with Thy Glory, Heaven and Earth are praising Thee, O, Lord God Most High." Hear us and lead us to place our confidence in Thee. We thank Thee for the blessed gift of life; inspire us to live wisely, labor industriously, and at last hand life back to Thee without spot or blemish. Guide us by Thy Law, rule us by Thy Love, and lead us in the way of a just and honorable service for our country.

Indeed, we thank Thee for our country—"the land of the free and the home of the brave," America with her freedom of religion, press, and speech; her unlimited natural resources, her industries, churches, schools, courts of justice, her hospitals and countless institutional homes for little children and the aged; for her towering mountains, her valleys and fertile plains; her orchards, fields and woodlands; her mighty oceans, expansive lakes, flowing rivers and sparkling brooks. Bless God, may we keep her free, strong and honorable; thus preserving and stabilizing, for all time to come, our blood-bought heritage. In Thy Name we pray. Amen.

STRONG, SULLIVAN, SAYLOR & FERGUSON

1700 Girard Trust Company Building
Philadelphia 2, Pa.

February 15, 1947.

To the Honorable the Members of the Senate of Pennsylvania, Harrisburg, Penna.

Gentlemen:

On behalf of my mother, Mrs. Henry D. Saylor, and all members of our family I thank you for the beautiful basket of flowers which you sent in tribute to my father. We are also most grateful to you for the honor you conferred in having a delegation of Senators attend the funeral services.

In my father's long and useful life he served his own community and the state and nation. I know that his service at Harrisburg from 1894 to 1898 as Senator from Montgomery County was one of the things that he looked back to with the greatest pleasure.

We appreciate the kindness of Senator Woods, Senator Frazier, Senator DiSilvestro and Senator Lord whose presence at Pottstown on February 11th meant a great deal to all of us.

Respectfully yours,

S:C.

HAROLD D. SAYLOR

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. The communication will be spread upon the Legislative Journal.

COMMUNICATION FROM CHAIRMAN OF LIQUOR CONTROL BOARD

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board,
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, February 13, 1947.

Honorable Daniel B. Strickler
Lieutenant-Governor
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania

Dear Lieutenant Governor Strickler:

I am writing you this letter as presiding officer of the Pennsylvania State Senate, concerning statements made on the floor of the Senate, according to the public press, on Monday afternoon, February 10, when the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board was under discussions. I trust you will have it read to the Senate.

With the opinions expressed about the ability, efficiency, or otherwise, of the Board or its personnel, I am not at this time concerned. Opinion is based on individual judgment, and I freely admit the right of frank discussion on the Senate floor or elsewhere, of any man's opinion of the Liquor Control Board or its personnel, as on any other subject.

When a charge of graft, reflecting on the integrity of the Board or its personnel, is made that is an entirely different matter. I do not believe the immunity of the Senate floor or any other place justifies such a charge without the presence of facts to back it up. In the present instance I am firmly convinced there are no facts to justify such a charge.

My information of the incident is based on publicity in the newspapers. From my years of association with Senator Dent on the floor of the Senate, aggressive in debate as he is, but priding himself on fair and above-board methods, I am exceedingly loathe to believe that he will, on calm consideration, feel that the present situation is up to the standard of his desires.

If the reports of his remarks as made in the public press are correct the Senator should either furnish some facts to substantiate his statements, or, if they were inadvertently made in the heat of debate, he should make the amend honorable and retract them in the forum where they were made.

Sincerely yours,

FREDERICK T. GELDER, Chairman

Mr. DENT. Mr. President and members of the Senate, if I understood the letter right, former Senator Gelder believes that certain remarks I made ought to be cleared up.

I have offered to the Senate of Pennsylvania on previous occasions resolutions calling for a complete investigation of the activities of the Liquor Control Board in the state of Pennsylvania. Under the leadership of the Republican majority, the Senate of Pennsylvania has refused to accept these resolutions and to name a committee to look into the charges.

I say, to Mr. Gelder and to the Senate of Pennsylvania, I will again introduce a resolution calling for a complete investigation of the administration of the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board to find out whether or not statements made in almost every county in Pennsylvania to me personally, that there was a great deal of graft connected with the Kinsey liquor sales deal in this state, are true. If there was not any graft, an investigation will show that they were just rumors, but I believe the Republicans are past masters as delving into publicly charged scandals. As I understand it, they are having a full-dress parade in Washington at this time, looking into many of the activities of the Federal Government and of things that transpired during the war, and I believe that we here in Pennsylvania are entitled to a complete picture as to whether or not there is any truth in the charges that there is favoritism in the handling of liquor over the counters in liquor stores; whether or not there is any truth in the statement that certain licensees receive choice liquors for their bars and other licensees are compelled to take that which can not be sold; whether there is any truth to the story that certain licensees have received quotas far beyond their immediate needs, and other licensees have been forced to go into the black market in order to get enough merchandise to pay their help.

So I say to you that it takes a complete investigation. I said last week, and I say again, that charges have been made that there was over a million dollars of undercover graft money made on the Kinsey deal. I do not know whether that is true, but until it is proven untrue I am led to believe that there was some smoke where the fire was built.

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, last week and again today the gentleman from Westmoreland has taken it upon himself to make charges, without giving any facts to substantiate the charges. It is interesting to note, too, that today, instead of confining his charges to an allegation of fraud in the Kinsey deal, he adds additional charges. These he speaks about as having come to him personally from various counties in the state. As I understand it, he says now again that he does not know whether they are founded in fact or whether they are not, and he suggests that the only way to find out is to make an investigation. He closes his remarks by adding again that he is not certain whether the charges are true or whether they are not.

It seems to me, Mr. President, that sort of thing and that kind of talk is in direct violation of one of the cardinal concepts of this government. It is a strange thing on the floor of this Senate, a body that repeatedly has asserted itself as being a body that will safeguard the rights of the people, to find the leader of the minority group taking a position which means that unfounded accusations, accusations which he himself admits he does not know about as to their foundation in fact, and suggesting that someone shall be investigated upon the basis of that kind of idle complaint.

The communication from Senator Gelder, which was read here this afternoon, challenges the gentleman from Westmoreland to produce facts on his allegation of fraud in the Kinsey deal. It seems to me that this Senate ought not go off, at the suggestion of the gentleman on the other side, on a witch hunt which is not based upon anything founded in fact.

I should like to read briefly, if I may, from a newspaper which I believe represents the interests of the liquor dealers in this state, entitled "Tap and Tavern," in its issue of February 17, and in which appears an editorial a part of which I shall read. The editorial is entitled "Periodic Echoes" and here is what it says:

"Legislative sessions are convenient sounding boards and, as such, serve a useful service in addition to that of making laws. Unfortunately, though, there's no controlling the kind and character of the sounds that issue from the dome-topped halls and find their way into big, black headlines.

"Take last Tuesday's hue and cry as an example. There was a great to-do about incompetence, maladministration and as a clincher, 'undercover graft.' The charges were leveled against the Liquor Control Board.

"And that day and the next, newspapers all over the state went headline-happy. Typical of the heavy type eye-catchers were these: 'Charges $1,000,000 Graft In State Liquor Regime' and 'Ask Probe of Liquor Board.'

"As is usually the case, the answers to the charges received much less play in the newspapers than the charges themselves. They lacked that sensational quality and didn't qualify for page one. So it's very likely the same number of people who read Sen. John Dent's (D. Westmoreland) assertion that 'an undercover graft of $1,000,000 was made out of a sale of Kinsey whisey and paid to somebody' did not read PLCB Chairman Frederick T. Gelder's categorical and logical denial of the charge.

"Gelder declared that during the five years he has been with the Board, 'I have every confidence there has not been one cent of graft to anyone.' And referring specifically to the charge involving Kinsey, he recalled that it was a brand the Board bought when stocks were short and 'we were buying every gallon we could from anybody in the U. S. which our chemist reported were up to standard.'

"What were the charges based on? Who got the million dollars? Who counted it? Senator Dent says it was 'paid to somebody.' Who is 'somebody'?

"If there's a shred of evidence to back up the charges it ought to be produced in the public interest.

"If there isn't—if the charges are just so much disgruntled fulmination from the political 'outs'—then we ought to stop right here and wonder when such statements are merely irresponsible and when they go beyond that and threaten to boomerang against our whole concept of legislative immunity."

Going on and omitting some of the editorial, I quote:

"The Kinsey fantasy is not a new one. It's as old as the shortages of World War II. At that time, with stocks desperately short and demand growing steadily, Kinsey was brought to the Pennsylvania market."

Then, omitting some more of it:

"But the fact is, the public, licensees and the Board welcomed the availability of Kinsey. They were eager for it. To speak of bribing in those circumstances is like saying that a Buick dealer is paying you a thousand dollars to buy a new car from him. It flies in the face of facts and logic.

"The vague accusations had a familiar ring to us, so we looked back in our files. Sure enough, we found the same irresponsible charges bandied about in the last legislative session. On March 5, 1945, we wrote editorially: ' . . . We get sick and tired of these threatened investigations. (These legislative bodies—of whatever party—who want to make headlines with sensational charges ought to go out and practice some place else. Offhand, we don't recall a session which hasn't reared up and called for a probe of the Board. In most cases, the charges fizzled out before any kind of action was taken on them. In no case were accusations of malad-ministration and other sinister sounding practices sustained by anything resembling proof."

"History has repeated itself in the raising of the charges.

"We don't doubt it will repeat in their burial, as the Legislature goes on to what we hope will be more constructive activity."

Mr. President, it seems to me that if the gentlemen on the other side have these charges within their command, if they know what they are talking about, if they have proof that these charges are sound, then that proof ought to be delivered to this body, and in the absence of it, it seems that we ought not to be presumed upon, simply because a hue and cry is raised, to spend the time nor the money necessary to make such an investigation to go into the detailed kind of examination such as has been suggested by the gentleman from Westmoreland and continue with a long-plodding inquiry that bids fair to prove absolutely nothing.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I know that it would be asking too much of an editor of a trade journal in the liquor industry, which receives enormous amounts of money in advertising from the persons who may become involved in any questioning on liquor, to do otherwise than to write an editorial condemning any charges.

I say to the gentleman on the other side that it is very easy to prove whether or not we are wrong in the statements that we are making, based upon information given to us by holding an investigation. The cost should not disturb you too much. Those of us on this side remember when you found a great deal of money to investigate many things in a certain year, which was used for purposes perhaps strictly political.

I suggest that you might be able to hire Mr. Shelley very cheaply to make an investigation, since he is past master at it.

I say to the Senate again, no editorial of a biased newspaper editorial commentator is going to say to me that you are irresponsible and you know not what you are talking about because they know what they are talking about.

I do not represent any liquor interests; I only humbly try to represent the people of Pennsylvania. The people say that there was something wrong in the administration of liquor, at least those are the voices that I hear. If you want to prove that there was not, you do not have to protest too loudly; just investigate—we will cooperate.

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, I have only a very short word to add and that is on the basis of the remarks just made by the gentleman from Westmoreland.

If the thing he has just said is typical with what he started out with, he than has a new concept of justice in this country; he says now that the idea of justice is that you spend money and spend time to prove that the accuser is wrong, and that fundamentally is not the American concept. When people are arrested today, and when they are charged with crime, there is a foundation for the charge, but now the gentleman from Westmoreland asks us to spend money to prove he is wrong.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I do not desire to have the majority leader, or any other Senator on this floor tell me or to tell this Senate what my concept of justice is—I will tell them myself, and my concept of justice is this, that if the minority party were represented on the Liquor Control Board, as it should be by precedent, by justice, by decency and by good administration, then if there were any fingers in the till there would be the minority party looking over the shoulder of the person who had his finger in the till. And I say to you, Mr. President, my conception of justice is that the minority ought to be represented and respected. One million two hundred-odd thousand people in Pennsylvania voted the Democratic ticket. I dare say that some of them may be interested in what has happened in the six years when they were not represented on the Liquor Control Board.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I do not want to lose track of the major portion of this argument. I think the thing that precipitated the discussion was the suggestion by the gentleman from Westmoreland on two separate occasions that there has been graft. That is the direct statement that has been made.

I remember years ago here in the Senate there was a distinguished member of this body who made quite a number of speeches about cash-on-the-barrel-head, which certainly made the front pages of every newspaper in the country. At that time the Senate invited that distinguished colleague to present his facts to the Senate, and I still think that is a good idea, without either of the major political parties becoming involved in a controversy over verbiage, and I think if the gentleman from Westmoreland, whose concept of justice, I think, is just as keen as that of any of the rest of us, desires to make out a prima facie case, that he will present his facts to this body and thus give us some sound and legitimate reason for making an investigation. I am convinced that he does not lightly say that somebody told him, for he is too astute a politician and statesman to make a statement like that in lightness and without something to back it up, but I think what he should do, in order to give this Senate the dignity it requires in making such an investigation, is to present at least a prima facie case to this body, so that we can act intelligently. That has been the custom in the few years I have been a member of this body and I would like to see it carried out.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I should like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WALKER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, has the gentleman from Allegheny any suggestions he would like to make to me, when he would like to see me and what particulars he would like me to furnish to him?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, in answer to the inquiry of the distinguished gentleman from Westmoreland, asking me to give his advice on procedure, that would be like a seven-year old child trying to tell Joe Louis how to fight, he is so much more astute at this thing than I am, I could not make any suggestions to him.

Mr. DENT. Thank you very kindly. I appreciate the interest of the gentleman from Allegheny in getting at the truth, any time the Liquor Control Board will let me have their books I will give you the facts.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. JASPAN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. JASPAN. The city of Philadelphia is apparently eager to have the P. U. C. law amended so as to relieve the P. U. C. of jurisdiction over its transportation system and thus exercise control over it. I am opposed to this move at the present time for the reason that the city hasn't the facilities, organization and means to properly regulate the system. Back in 1939, at the instance of the utilities, a bill was passed and enacted into law, relieving the P. U. C. of jurisdiction over city-owned, although privately controlled utilities. The city gas works fell in this category, and I dare say that the Gas Commission, presumably the regulatory body, made a sorry mess of it, bowing to the dictates of the Philadelphia Gas Works, a subsidiary of the giant utility, the U. G. I., approving one gas increase after another without making any independent finding of its own. The Commission simply accepted the operating company's figures without protest. I say without fear of contradiction that the Gas Commission was not properly equipped to handle the situation.

To make matters worse, the City Council of Philadelphia recently approved a $4,000,000 loan, money to be spent not by the Gas Commission, but by the utility. In short, I say there is no regulation.

However, at this juncture, I say that if the city operated its gas works, organized a competent staff of engineers, accountants and utility experts, free from the influence of politics and utilities, the consumers would receive maximum efficiency at minimum rates.

And so with the transportation, bus and subway system. Absolute control is necessary. The city of Philadelphia can expect little or no relief from the P. U. C. as presently constituted. Simply relieving the P. U. C. of control over the P. U. C. and putting it in the hands of the city is not sufficient. They would still remain under the influence of a utility whose capitol structure is vicious and distorted, laden with a watered stock and financial juggling. Absolute control is necessary and you may ask how it may be obtained? The answer is simple, if the city is sincere. I call upon the city of Philadelphia to purchase the traction company, organize a competent staff who will have the interests of the rate-payer at heart, and if such is done, the three million car riders will obtain good service at low rates. A five cent fare would then be within the realm of possibility. High priced utility attorneys, high priced engineers and accountants would be a thing of the past. Financial juggling and distorted capital structure including watered stock would fall into the limbo of forgotten things. The entire transaction will involve an outlay of 90,000,000 dollars, and while the city may not have the ready cash, a municipal authority can be created under the law and the necessary funds obtained.

The agreement of July 1, 1907 between the city of Philadelphia and the P. T. C. as subsequently amended, especially by an ordinance of Council approved May 30, 1939, reserves to the city of Philadelphia the right to purchase all property, leaseholds and franchises of the company.

Our people deserve a square deal, and without elaborating they have not received it from the P. U. C. The city can do its share, the legislators can do theirs. I for one, represent the poorest district in Philadelphia. Yes, the poor rate-payer will take such action as I deem necessary to protect their interests. Our people have lost confidence in the P. U. C. Their conduct in the P. T. C. case was and still is reprehensible, and is the straw that broke the camel's back. I therefore feel drastic action should be taken, and call for reorganization of the P. U. C. and its staff. With that thought in mind, I introduce the following bills:

The first bill calls for the demise of the present P. U. C., the other calls for the establishment of a Fair Rate Board consisting of seven members, five of whom shall be majority members and two minority members, to serve four years each. Having served utilities within three years prior to appointment or having held stock (utility or utility holding company stock) within three years prior to appointment shall act as a bar to appointment.

In this way we have a check and balance system, one party watching the other, and further, no commissioner can perpetuate his power for any great length of time, and more important, any appointee must have divorced himself from connections with utility for at least three years. This, in my opinion, gives greater protection and security to the public.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce bills at this time.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. JASPAN read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 144, entitled:

An Act to further amend sections two hundred one, two hundred ten, three hundred three, four hundred thirty-one, and article twenty-eight of the act, approved the ninth day of April one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 177), entitled "An act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments, boards, commissions, and officers thereof, including the boards of trustees of State Normal Schools, or Teachers Colleges; abolishing, creating, reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments, boards, and commissions; defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers, and of the several administrative departments, boards, commissions, and officers; fixing the salaries of the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, and certain other executive and administrative officers; providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers, and of all deputies and other assistants and employees in certain departments, boards, and commissions; and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the deputies and all other assistants and employees of certain departments, boards and commissions shall be determined," by creating the Pennsylvania Fair Rate Board to supersede the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission.

Which was committed to the Committee on Corporations.

He also read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 145, entitled:

An Act creating a board to be known as the Pennsylvania Fair Rate Board; defining in part the powers and duties of such board; abolishing The Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, terminating the terms of the members thereof, and transferring to the Pennsylvania Fair Rate Board the records, employees, property, and equipment of The Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; authorizing the Pennsylvania Fair Rate Board to appear in and complete all pending proceedings, legal or otherwise, instituted before, by or against The Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; providing that all certificates of public convenience, contracts, orders, and rules and regulations of the latter commission shall remain effective until repealed, changed or modified by the Pennsylvania Fair Rate Board and transferring and appropriating to the Pennsylvania Fair Rate Board any unexpended balance of any existing appropriation to The Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Which was committed to the Committee on Corporations.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. BARR asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. BARR. Last week when addressing the members of the Senate concerning the Liquor Control Board, I said it was our duty to see that the Pennsylvania consumer be protected against high prices and poor quality. I said that the people and the licensee want to see the bootlegger and the dishonest licensee eliminated. They want to see the evils in the liquor trade, which produced national failure, stopped in time to prevent a repeat performance of that "Noble Experiment."

Since last Monday I have been deluged with phone calls, personal calls and letters from interested citizens telling me of the many evils that now exist in the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board. I think at this time it would be interesting for the Liquor Control Board to note that in the past several weeks the "Opinion Survey, Inc.," located at 44 Nassua St., Princeton, N. J. conducted a poll in Western Pennsylvania, calling on the taproom owners, and individual citizens to get their opinion as to what effect the exorbitant prices charged by the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board for liquor is having on their business and on the individual. This poll was completed Saturday of last week. I shall attempt to get the results of this survey in a very short time and present them to the members of this Senate. I might add that I have on my desk copies of the questionnaire used by "Opinion Survey, Inc." and any member of the Senate is free to examine it at their leisure.

You members of the Senate well know that the thickly populated sections of Western Pennsylvania border on the States of Ohio and West Virginia, which also have a monopoly system similar to that in Pennsylvania. I am going to read to you prices charged in those two states as compared to prices charged in Pennsylvania on popular brands of whiskey.

Mr. President, I am not going to take the time of the Senate and read this complete list but I have more copies of it which I will gladly give to Brother Walker and Brother Tallman, who I see are making notes of these prices.

If something is not done about this I think it will be necessary for the highways crossing into these states to be protected by the Pennsylvania State Police, for I feel sure the flow of liquor traffic from these states will increase more and more each week.

One licensee located near the Southside Market house in Pittsburgh was forced to raise his price from 20 to 25 cents on popular blends of rye whisky due to the increase in price by the Liquor Control Board. This raise in price has resulted in his losing 40 per cent of his business.

Federal excise taxes on liquor were increased after 1940 as follows:

On 7/1/40 from $2.25 to $3.00 per proof gallon
On 10/1/40 from $3.00 to $4.00 per proof gallon
On 11/1/42 from $4.00 to $6.00 per proof gallon
On 10/1/44 from $6.00 to $9.00 per proof gallon

Of the seventeen monopoly states Pennsylvania is the only monopoly state that includes the last two tax raises and then takes their mark up. That is the reason our prices are so much higher than in other states surrounding Pennsylvania. This is bad business, bad merchandising and gouging our citizens.

As to enforcement, several men called on me telling me that they had resigned their enforcement jobs in disgust as they readily saw that the main office in Harrisburg was not for true enforcement. One of these men worked for the board eight years and previous to that time served four years as a member of the Pennsylvania State Police. One of these men lives in the district of the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker.

I now call on the chief executive, who inherited this hangover from the Martin and James Administrations, to complete the membership of the Liquor Control Board and tell them that the citizens of Pennsylvania want true liquor control, and by that I mean a sound merchandising policy and rigid enforcement.

Mr. President, I have a copy of the letter which the Chairman of the Liquor Control Board has written to Lieutenant-Governor Strickler and he says, "With the opinions expressed about the ability, efficiency, or otherwise, of the Board or its personnel, I am not at this time concerned."

I think it is rather arrogant when the Chairman of the Liquor Control Board tells a member of the Pennsylvania State Senate that he is not concerned about our charges about his personnel.

I heard some talk a few minutes ago about investigations and I call at this time upon the District Attorney of Dauphin County, Mr. Shelley, who, with less charges in 1937, conducted a very rigid investigation, that he go into the charges that were made by the former Secretary of Highways, Mr. John Shroyer, against the Martin Administration, and I think then that a lot of things will be brought to light other than the liquor scandal.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President and members of the Senate, in an editorial I have here there is an item—I do not often read the papers until after dinner but this afternoon I had a little time and I started to read something, which I should now like to read to the Senate, as some of you might have missed this interesting bit of information and I think perhaps you ought to know about it. Therefore, Mr. President, I would like to read here an item, and I am quoting from the Philadelphia Sunday morning Bulletin.

"Duff to Discuss Plans at Dinner.

"Predecessor, Others to Give Talks. .

"The plans of his administration will be discussed by Governor Duff at the annual dinner of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association and affiliated insurance companies at the Bellevue-Stratford February 25.

"Addresses also are scheduled to be made by U. S. Senator Edward Martin, Governor Duff's predecessor, and Speaker Joseph W. Martin, of the U. S. House of Representatives.

"Political, business and industrial leaders have signified their intention of attending the dinner. The Pennsylvania Congressional delegation will journey here from Washington in a special car.

"In addition to the G. O. P. members of the state House and Senate the entire membership of Governor Duff's cabinet is expected to attend.

"Preceding the dinner a meeting of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association, of which former U. S. Senator Joseph R. Grundy is chairman of the executive committee, will be held in the hotel at 1 p. m.

"Former State Senator G. Mason Owlett, chairman of the association, will preside at the meeting. State Senate Majority Leader O. J. Tallman, Lehigh, will discuss "The Problems at Harrisburg; Congressman Richard M. Simpson, chairman of the Pennsylvania Congressional delegation will talk on The Budget and Taxation and Congressman Fred A. Hartley, Jr., of New Jersey, chairman of the House Committee on Education and Labor will speak on Labor Legislation."

Mr. President, you know last week when the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Holland, presented a resolution proposing to give the use of the Senate Chamber to Mr. Grundy in order that he could take up the fiscal affairs of Pennsylvania here in the Senate Chamber, a great many persons laughed and thought it was just one of those hair-brained things Senators will do, but you know, Mr. President and members of the Senate, a lot of us have suspected for a long time that Mr. Grundy and the Manufacturers Association might have a little bit to say in creating the fiscal policies of Pennsylvania and name the type of taxes the poor people of Pennsylvania would have to pay, and all that in Pennsylvania, but this to me is the first time that they have been so brazen and arrogant as to invite the entire membership of the House and Senate, and if I were a Republican Senator, I would be a little bit peeved. Here they are going down to Congress and hauling these Congressmen up here in a special train and you fellows will probably have to get there the best way you can, thumbing rides, and that is not quite fair as I think Republican Senators are just as important as the Congressmen.

And of course, Mr. President, I think the gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. Tallman, ought to be kind enough to send us a copy of his remarks because some of us would like to know just what are the problems in Harrisburg.

And I further want to state, Mr. President, that the Governor has said there would not be any budget message until about the nineteenth of March and, of course, we can understand that, as, before you decide what you are going to have in your budget, you would have to have your meeting with those that make up those various items that go into the budget. Of course, you might be able to do it in about two weeks after the meeting with Mr. Grundy, but they are allowing plenty of time and will come in about March 17 with a budget.

Some of us can not understand why we should not be at home during these two or three weeks while Mr. Grundy makes up his mind what kind of taxes the poor people should pay in Pennsylvania. Of course, if you want us to keep coming on down here we will keep on exposing and exposing and exposing everything that we know of or feel to be wrong in this state, so that the people in Pennsylvania that are not privileged to be invited to this nice big dinner down in Philadelphia at the Bellevue Stratford will know that there are some people in Pennsylvania that attend sessions that are interested in their welfare, and will know that we are here trying to do a job for the people. After they get that message from Mr. Grundy, we would like them to write us a letter and let us know just what went on. We would like to know about all these problems that are so particularly interesting.

Of course, Mr. President, it might be a sort of slap at the members of the fiscal committee who have been going on for a couple of weeks trying to find out what the problems are in Pennsylvania.

I told you when the resolution was on the floor of the Senate you should not pass it; I told you it would be a lot of time wasted, and that you would have to ask anyway what had to be done, and here I am on that fiscal committee and you are going to Philadelphia to find out all this information and I am not going to be there, I am going to be sort of in the blind as to what kind of taxes are going to pay and how much money we are going to need.

Unless, maybe, you can talk Joe Grundy into letting me come in on the side, just to hear the message—I do not have to eat, that is all right, I will buy my own meal; I can do that, I have seen the time when I could not but I can now—but I can just go there and hear the story, what they have to say and find out what it is all about. I do not think you would begrudge me that little bit of information, if I am on this fiscal committee and I am supposed to know about how much money it is going to take to run Pennsylvania for the next two years and what kind of taxes we are going to need.

Here is another point, Mr. President, school teachers all over Pennsylvania are spending money sending me letters, wanting to know if I am going to give them a raise and wanting to know if we are going to pass any legislation for them, and all they have to do is write Mr. Grundy and he can tell them much easier, I believe, and in that way save time and save me a lot of my money in answering these letters, telling them yes I am for you to get a raise, you are good citizens, you are in charge of the future citizens of this state and we ought to do something for you, but I really can not say what we are going to do unless I am let in on this dinner.

I feel sorry for the one million two hundred thousand people in Pennsylvania who voted the Democratic ticket, and not one single representative of the Democratic party is going to be at this great Roman festival down in Philadelphia.

You know, talking about that, Mr. President, that is what happened in Rome: the leaders went to work and held these great big banquets, and the first thing you know the poor people just wilted and died and when they did, so did the empire.

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, the remarks of the Senator from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, seem to be tinged with a little bit of bitterness on two scores, first not being invited to the dinner, and in addition to that there seems to be reflected from the other side a great deal of bitterness about some investigation that took place some years ago.

I trust that by next week, and after all these speeches, that some of the bitterness will have come out of the system of the gentleman from Westmoreland, and that he will be in a more kindly frame of mind, and have a more kindly disposition.

It seems to me, Mr. President, that it should not be a matter of criticism whether or not the Governor attends any kind of a banquet. That is a matter of his choice. It seems to me that neither I nor other persons on this side has the right to criticise the gentleman from Westmoreland for attending any banquet that he chooses to attend. While we are talking about banquets, Mr. President, I have some recollection, some years ago, of there having been banquets for which one hundred dollars a plate was charged—those were not run by the Republican party incidentally.

While the gentleman from Westmoreland talks about work and about his availability for work and the rest of it, I would suggest to him that he go back in his mind to about 1935, when his own party was in control and I would remind him that at that time, when his administration, the new one, came into power, that there was not a great deal done during the early part of the session; I would remind him that that same thing happened again in 1937, after his administration had the opportunity to get its feet on the floor. Just by way of comparison, I took the time to find out what had happened then and I would like to direct his attention to the fact that in 1935, by February 16, which is comparable to this date, there were 262 bills introduced in the Senate, there were 11 bills which had come over from the House, and that no bills had passed both Houses at that time. In 1937, up to this period, after their administration had already been in power for two years, there were 7 bills at this time that had passed both Houses and there had been 262 bills introduced in the Senate and 34 bills that had come over from the House.

I would like to suggest to the gentleman from Westmoreland that there is ample to be done, and that it is being done, and that this administration up to this point suffers by comparison not at all.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I do not want the Majority Leader to go out of here with any misunderstanding, because I am not a bit bitter. Back home, Mr. President, I am flattered by being known as the soul of gentleness and kindness and everybody says I lean over backwards trying to be nice to people, because, Mr. President, I was born and brought up that way and when you are raised with a family of twelve kids you have to be nice to a lot of people and can not afford to be nasty, and I say to you now, if you understood me to be in a sort of hurt or bitter mood, I want you to get that from your mind right now.

However, to compare this administration's lack of program at this date with the so-called lack of program of the Earle administration in 1937, is not quite cricket. The Democratic Party in 1937, for the first time in sixty-six years, had complete control of the House and Senate, and the Executive office too. This, as you know, is only a continuation of the two previous administrations, the same personnel almost in toto up here on the hill and the policies are practically the same. We find the same dinners being held and paid for by the same people. In so far as one hundred dollar dinners are concerned, Mr. President, we plead guilty. That is the only way we know of by which we can raise sufficient funds to pay for a little bit of advertising to let the people know there is a people's party in Pennsylvania. We dig down into our own pockets and we pay a hundred dollars apiece for a dinner in order to create a little bit of campaign fund. You see, Mr. President, we just do not have any of those big contributors to come along and pay our expenses.

If you are interested in that phase of it, Mr. President, some time, or even now, I can give you a pretty good line on the contributors that have made it possible for the Republicans to have their campaigns without having hundred dollar dinners, and while you are talking about that, I can tell you about hundreds of little dinners out over the state of Pennsylvania and little card parties where they only charge seventy-five cents or a dollar or two dollars, and they take about half of that and put it in a little kitty so that they can have a worker on election day. You know, Mr. President, there are two ways we can get workers, we can have democrats tell the republicans that they will get votes for them and we can get money for our workers, otherwise we have to dig in our pockets and pay for them, but you know, they are getting pretty smart, they kind of know the democrats don't work for them that way.

Mr. President, I want the gentleman from Lehigh to know I am not bitter about not being invited to that dinner. In fact, if he will accept my invitation, he and I will break bread together at dinner tonight.

Mr. KLEIN. Mr. President, I agree fully with the remarks of the gentleman from Lehigh, Senator Tallman, particularly those directed to my colleague from Westmoreland, Senator Dent. I like to eat also, and my guess is that I can eat about as much as any Republican or any Democrat but unfortunately I have no invitation to this festival.

I would like to remind my colleague from Westmoreland, Senator Dent, though, that this splendid dinner that is to be given by the Manufacturers Association once again demonstrates very clearly and very conclusively that in this great country of ours we still need and still have this thing that we call invisible government.

Mr. FRAZIER. Mr. President, when I was here in the Senate in the twenties we had so few on the other side of the Senate, only three, four or five, that I did not have the treat I am having now. I am sitting here in open-eyed amazement and can not help but think of the Latin expression "Tempus Fugit." It is now twenty minutes after five and not a towel wet, and I am wondering whether the Republican Floor Leader, when he goes down to this banquet next week, will have fully in his mind all of the problems that we are confronted with here, and I hope he does speak fully, plainly and clearly about some of our problems.

I think from what I have seen and heard here, the little while I have been in this chamber, that it would be very worthwhile if some legislation went through to properly recompense us for coming up here, because for all we have to put up with I do not think the salary we receive is quite enough.
